

Welcome to my Portfolio

Vasco Saraiva

Full Stack Web Developer

Who am I?

Welcome! My name is Vasco Saraiva. I studied at the University of Aveiro and I'm now an aspiring full stack web developer. I'm passionate about using my skills and knowledge to create dynamic and interactive websites that are both functional and aesthetically pleasing. I've worked on a variety of projects that have challenged me and allowed me to grow my skillset. In my portfolio, you'll find examples of my work and my approach to problem-solving.

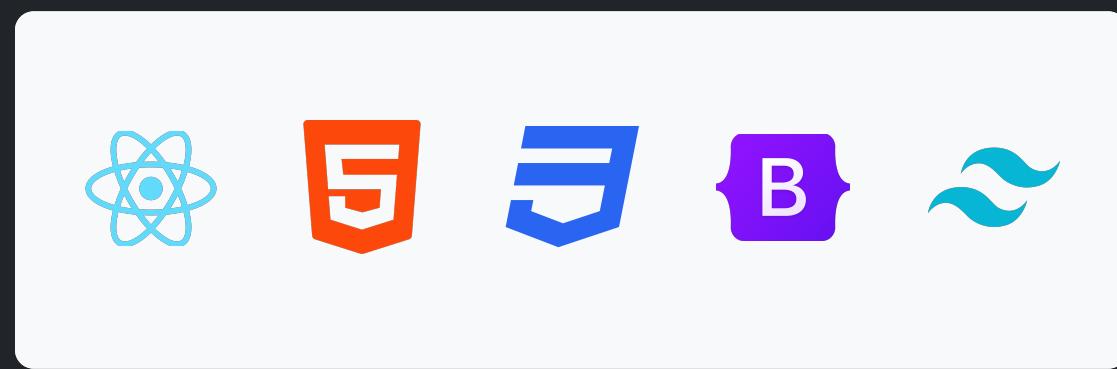

Motivation

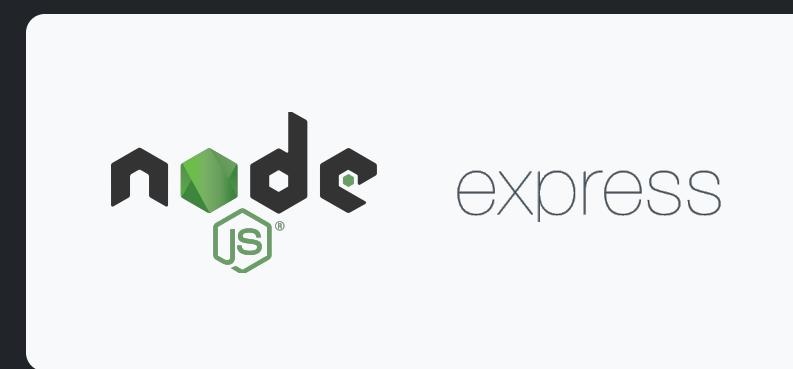

My motivation comes from my love of difficult challenges that involve complex and deep problem-solving obstacles. In my life, I've always had an appreciation for games, books, and all kinds of puzzles that challenged me to think outside the box and from multiple perspectives. Programming offers the opportunity of testing myself all the time and makes me use my creativity while having a lot of fun doing it.

Technologies I've worked with

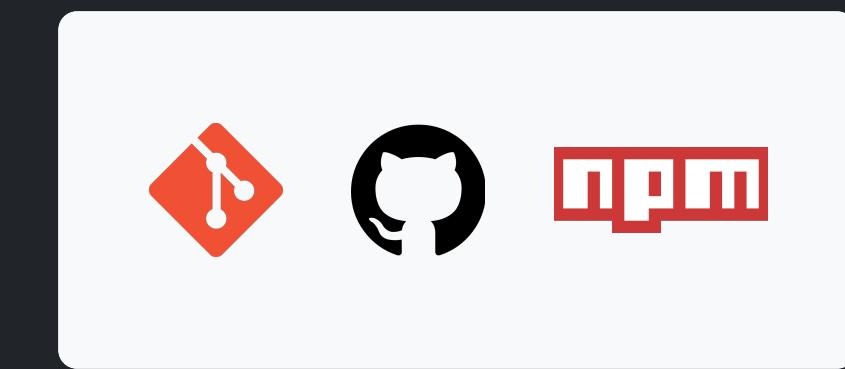

Frontend

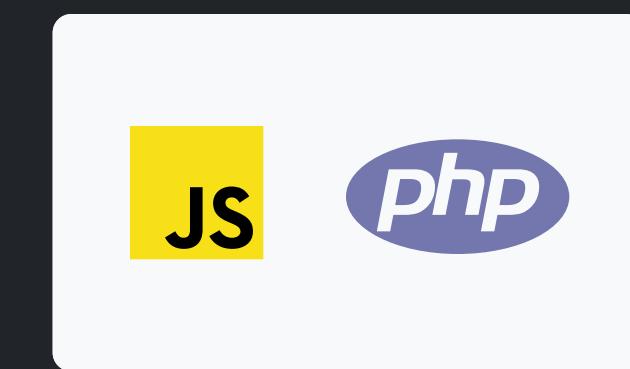

Backend

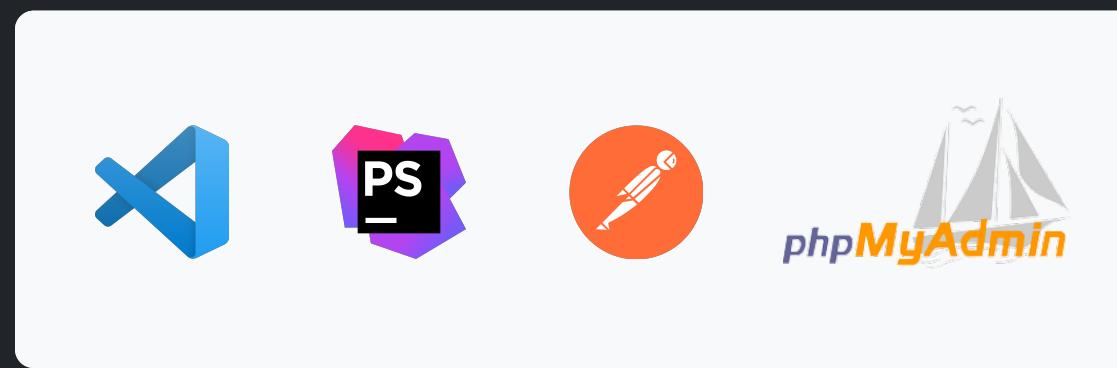

Devops

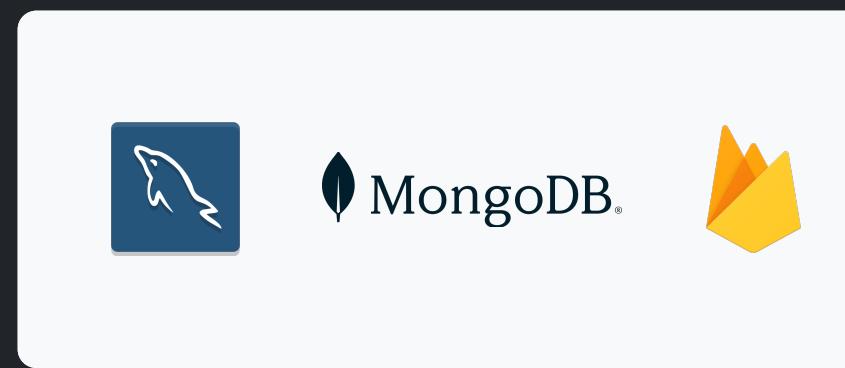

Languages

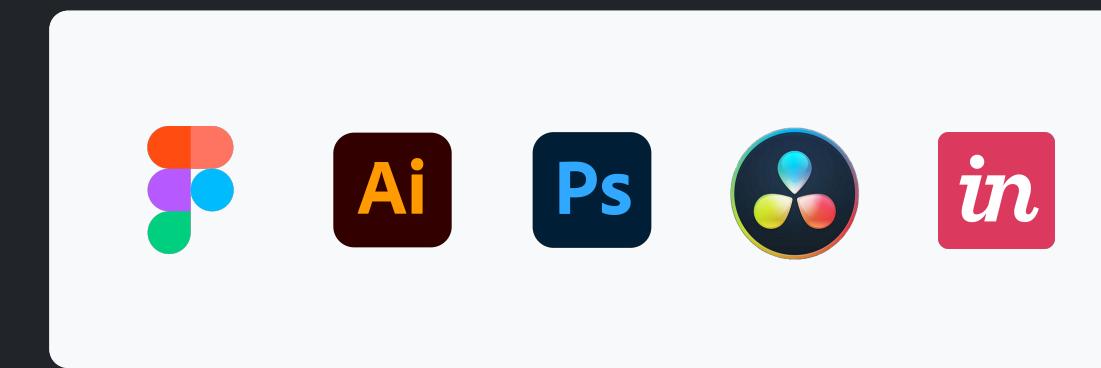

Tools

Databases

Design/ Video

Beyond the Sgreen

Description

Beyond the Sgreen is my first project in UX design. It was made at my first year in University of Aveiro together with a colleague. Its theme is digital desintoxication and its objective is offering users many functionalities to manage their mobile phones use.

Year

2020

Category

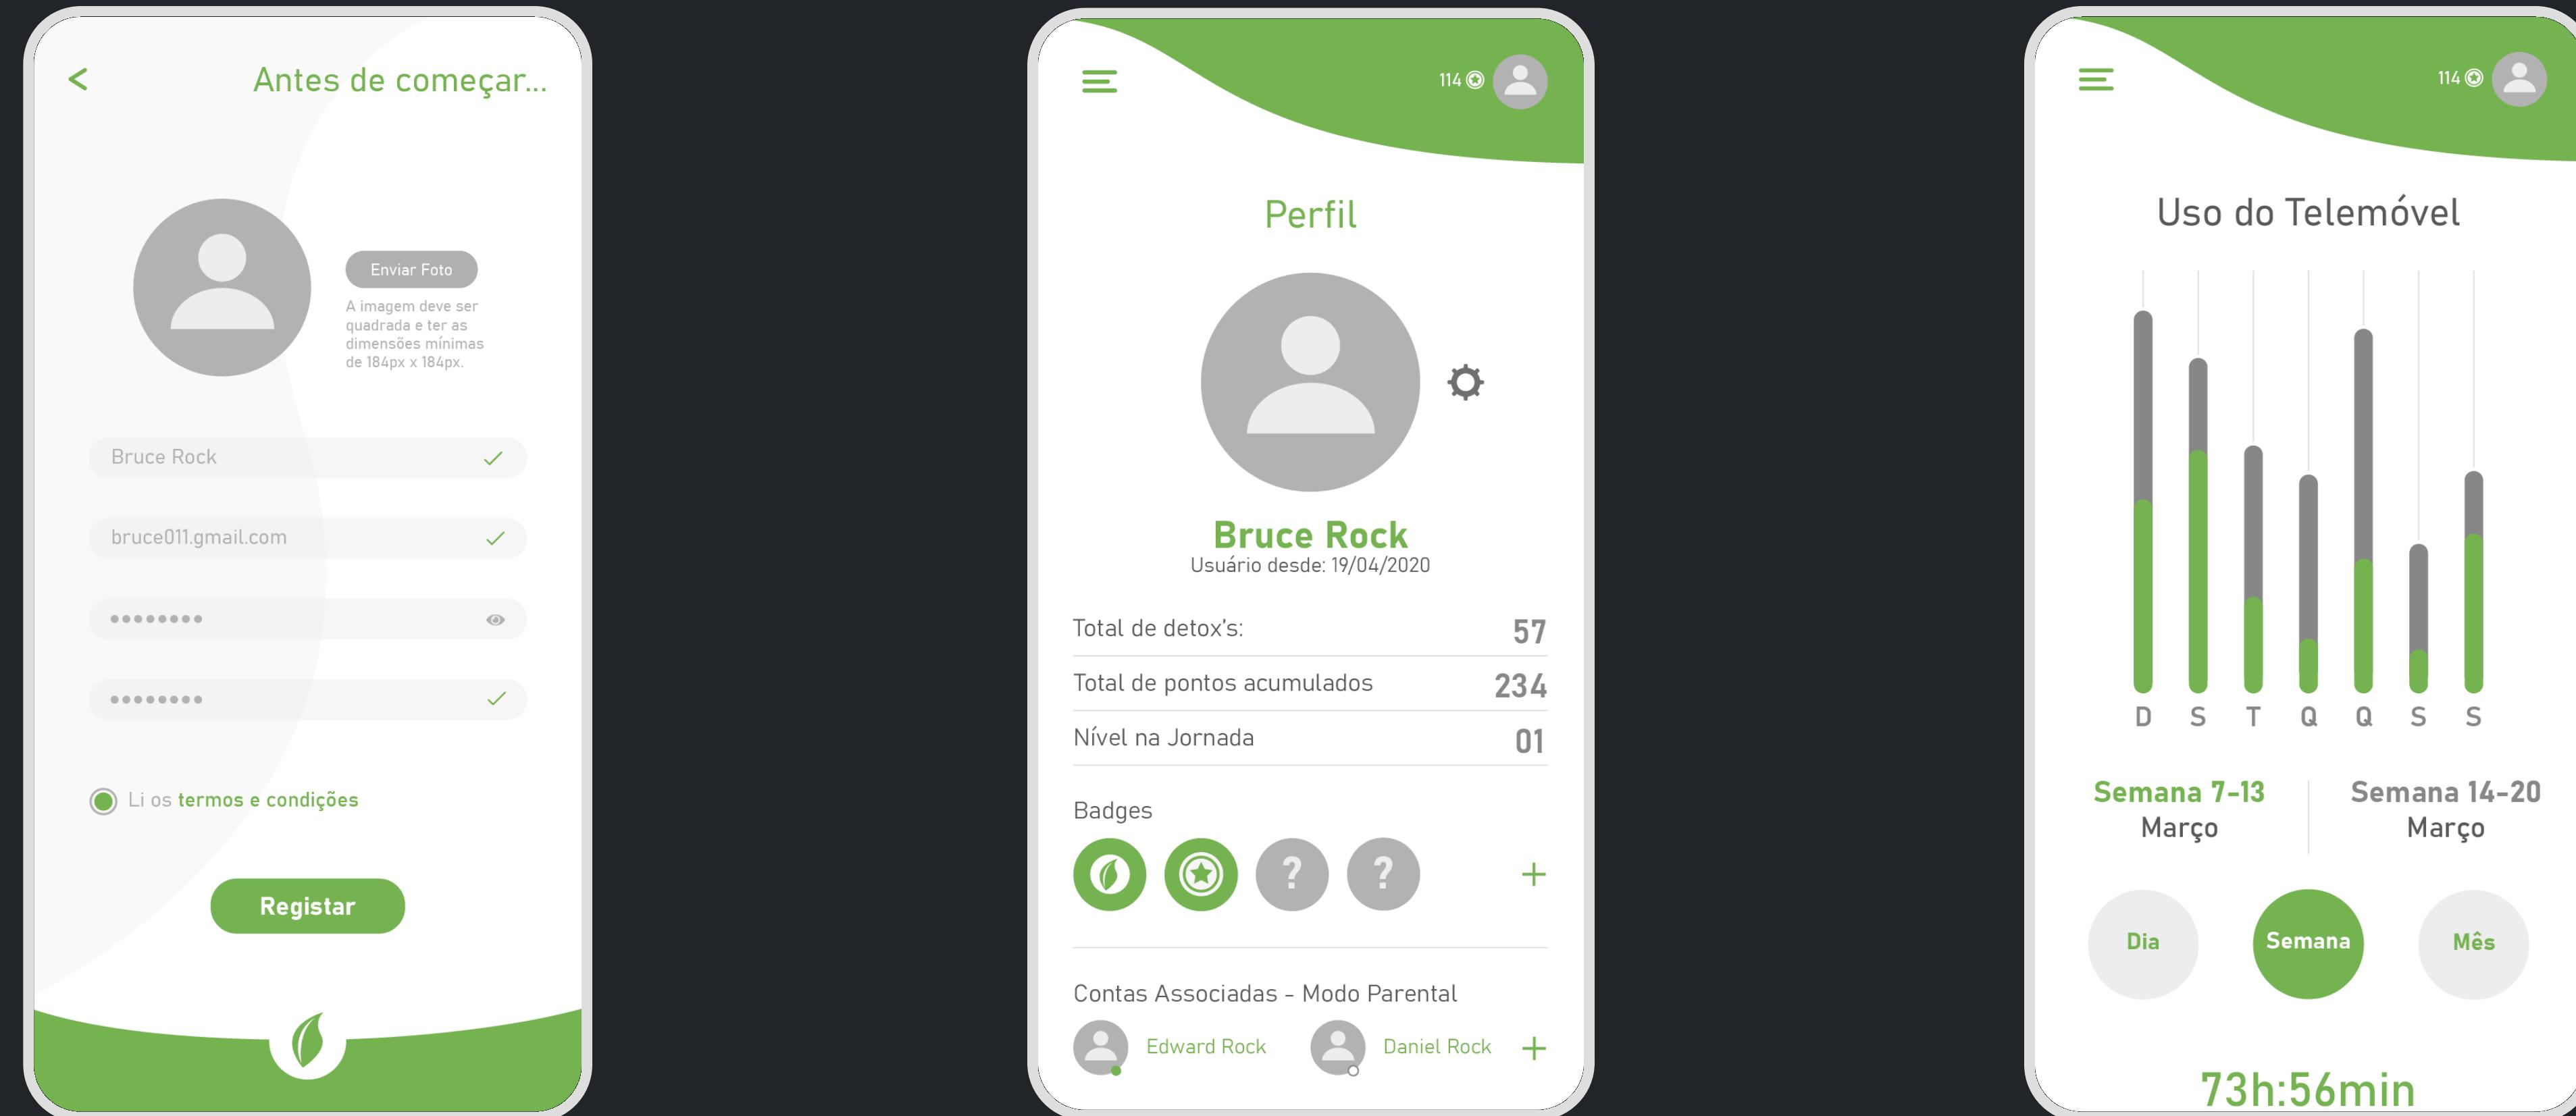

UX Design

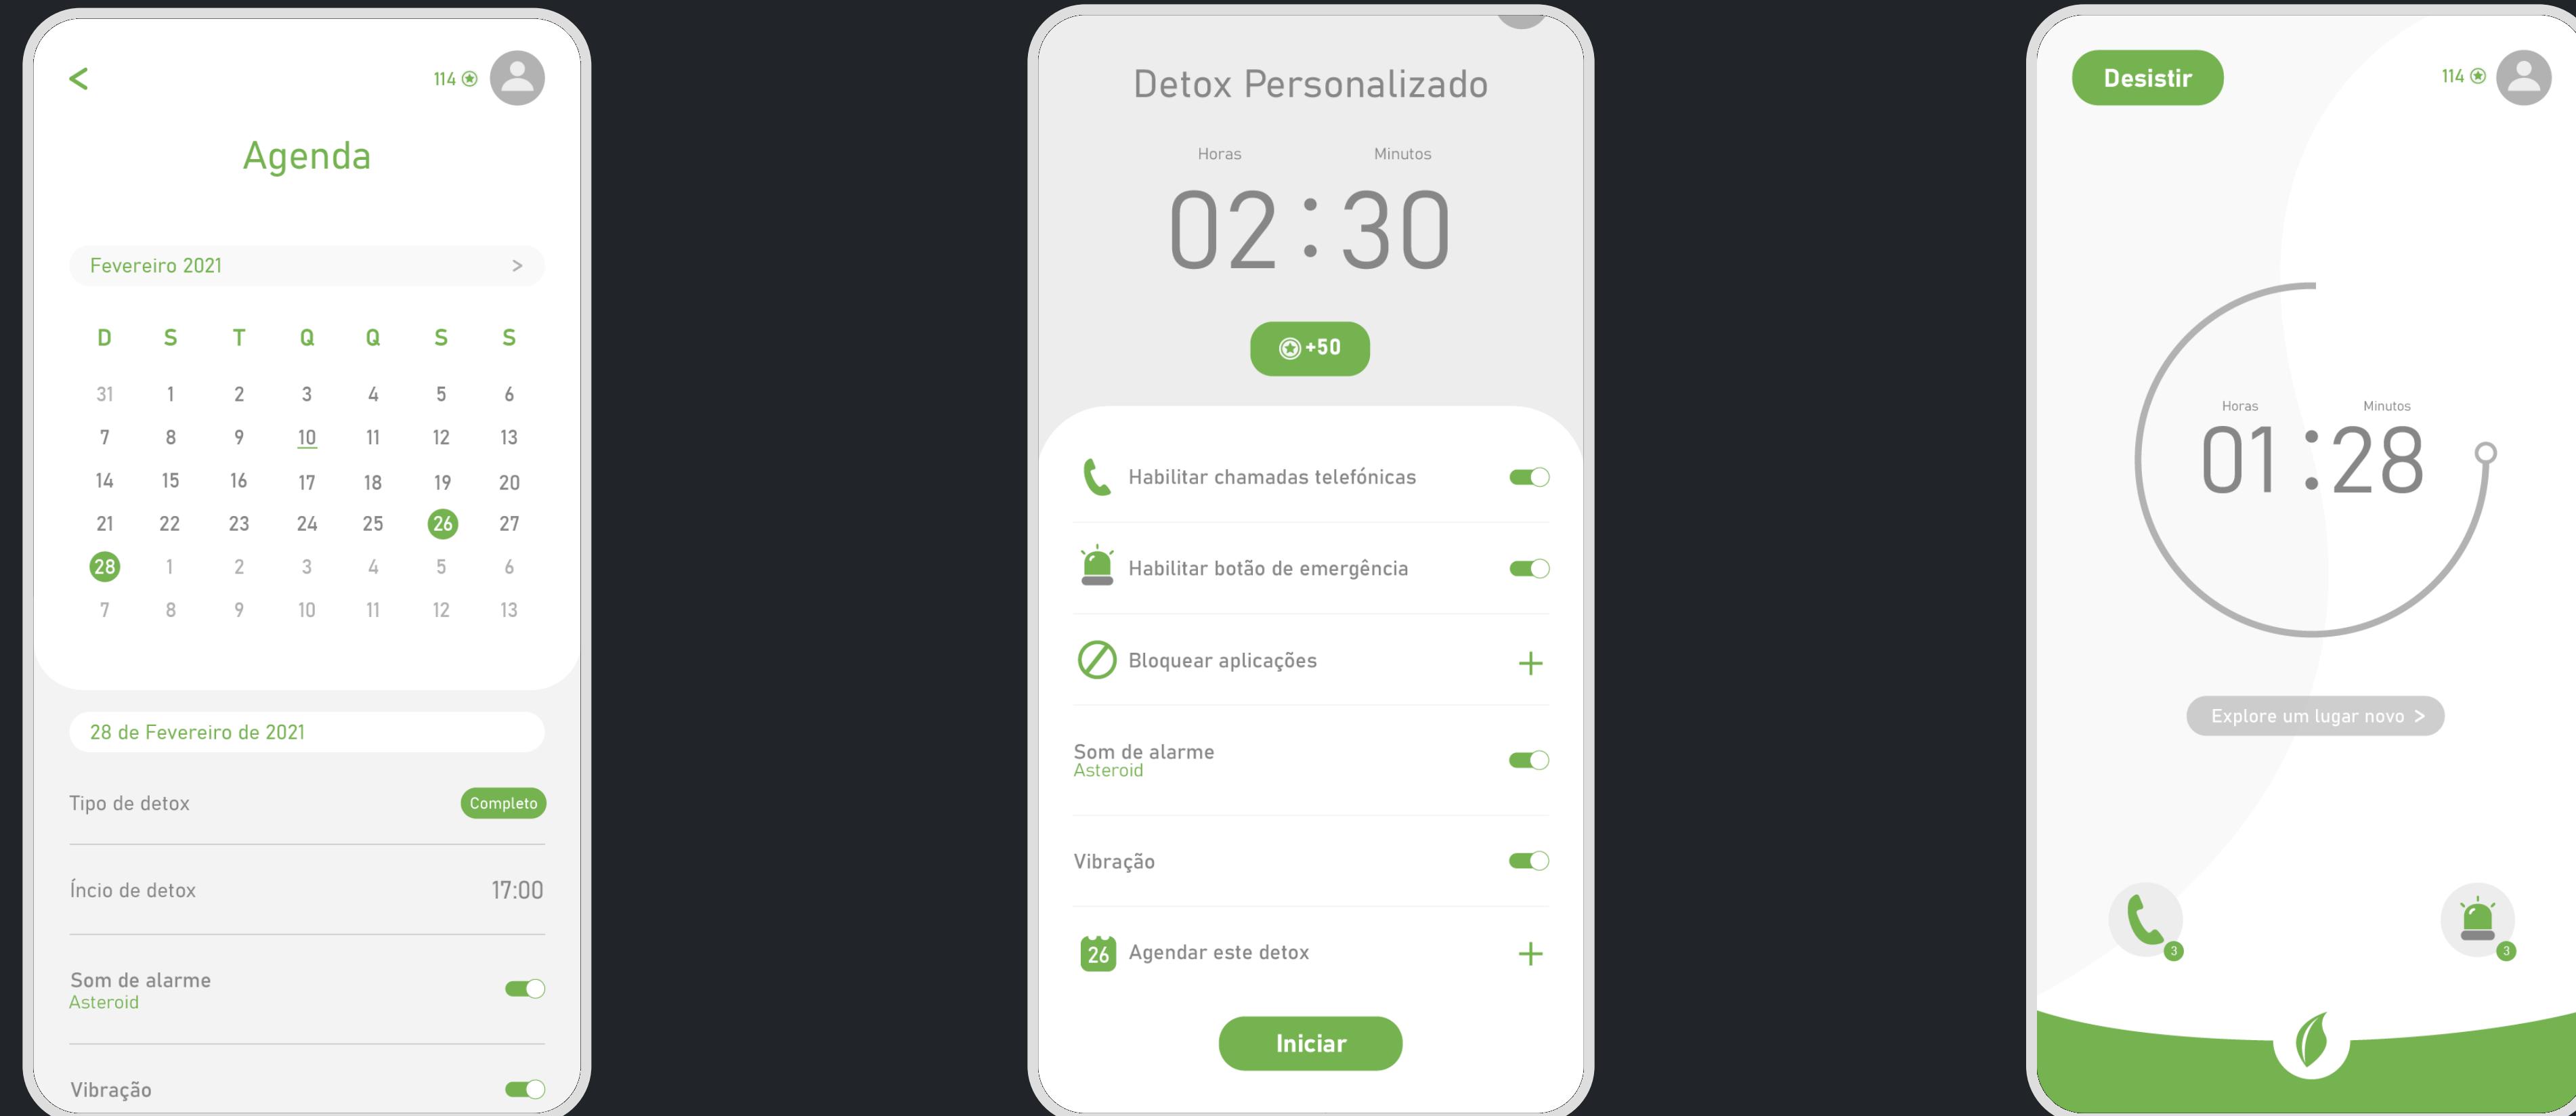

Link

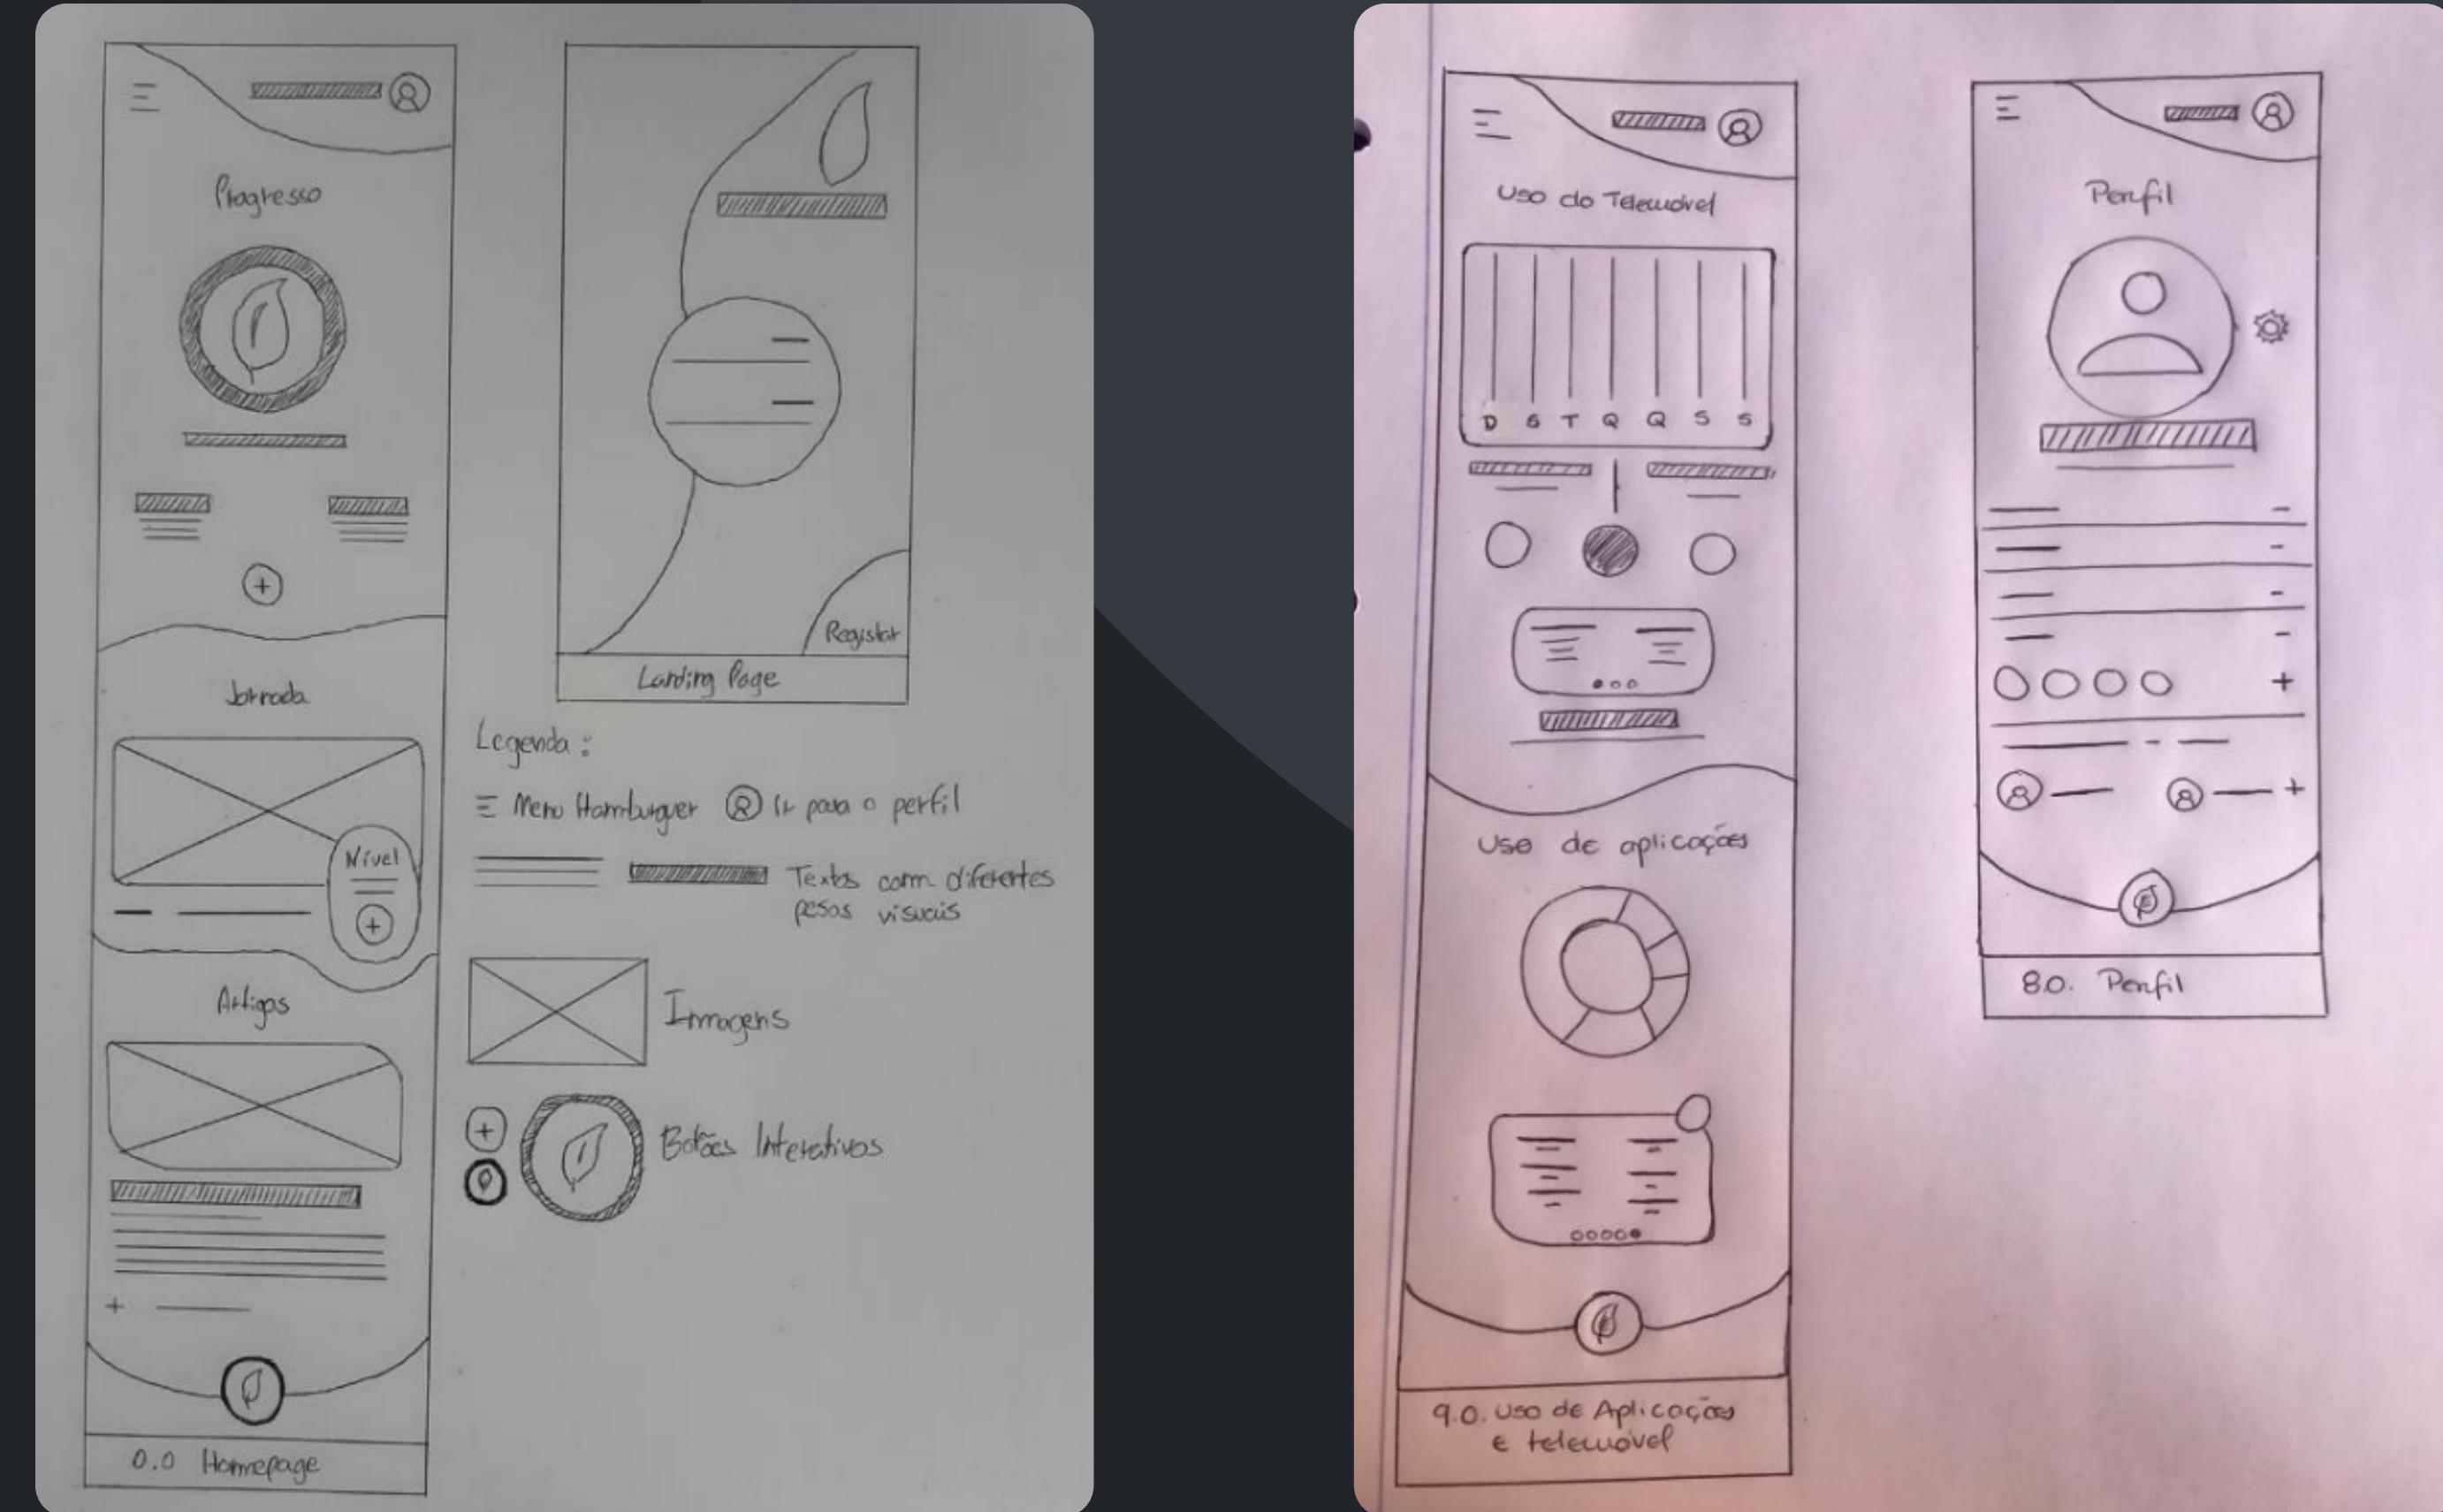

<https://t.ly/-UCv>

Readers of the Fallen

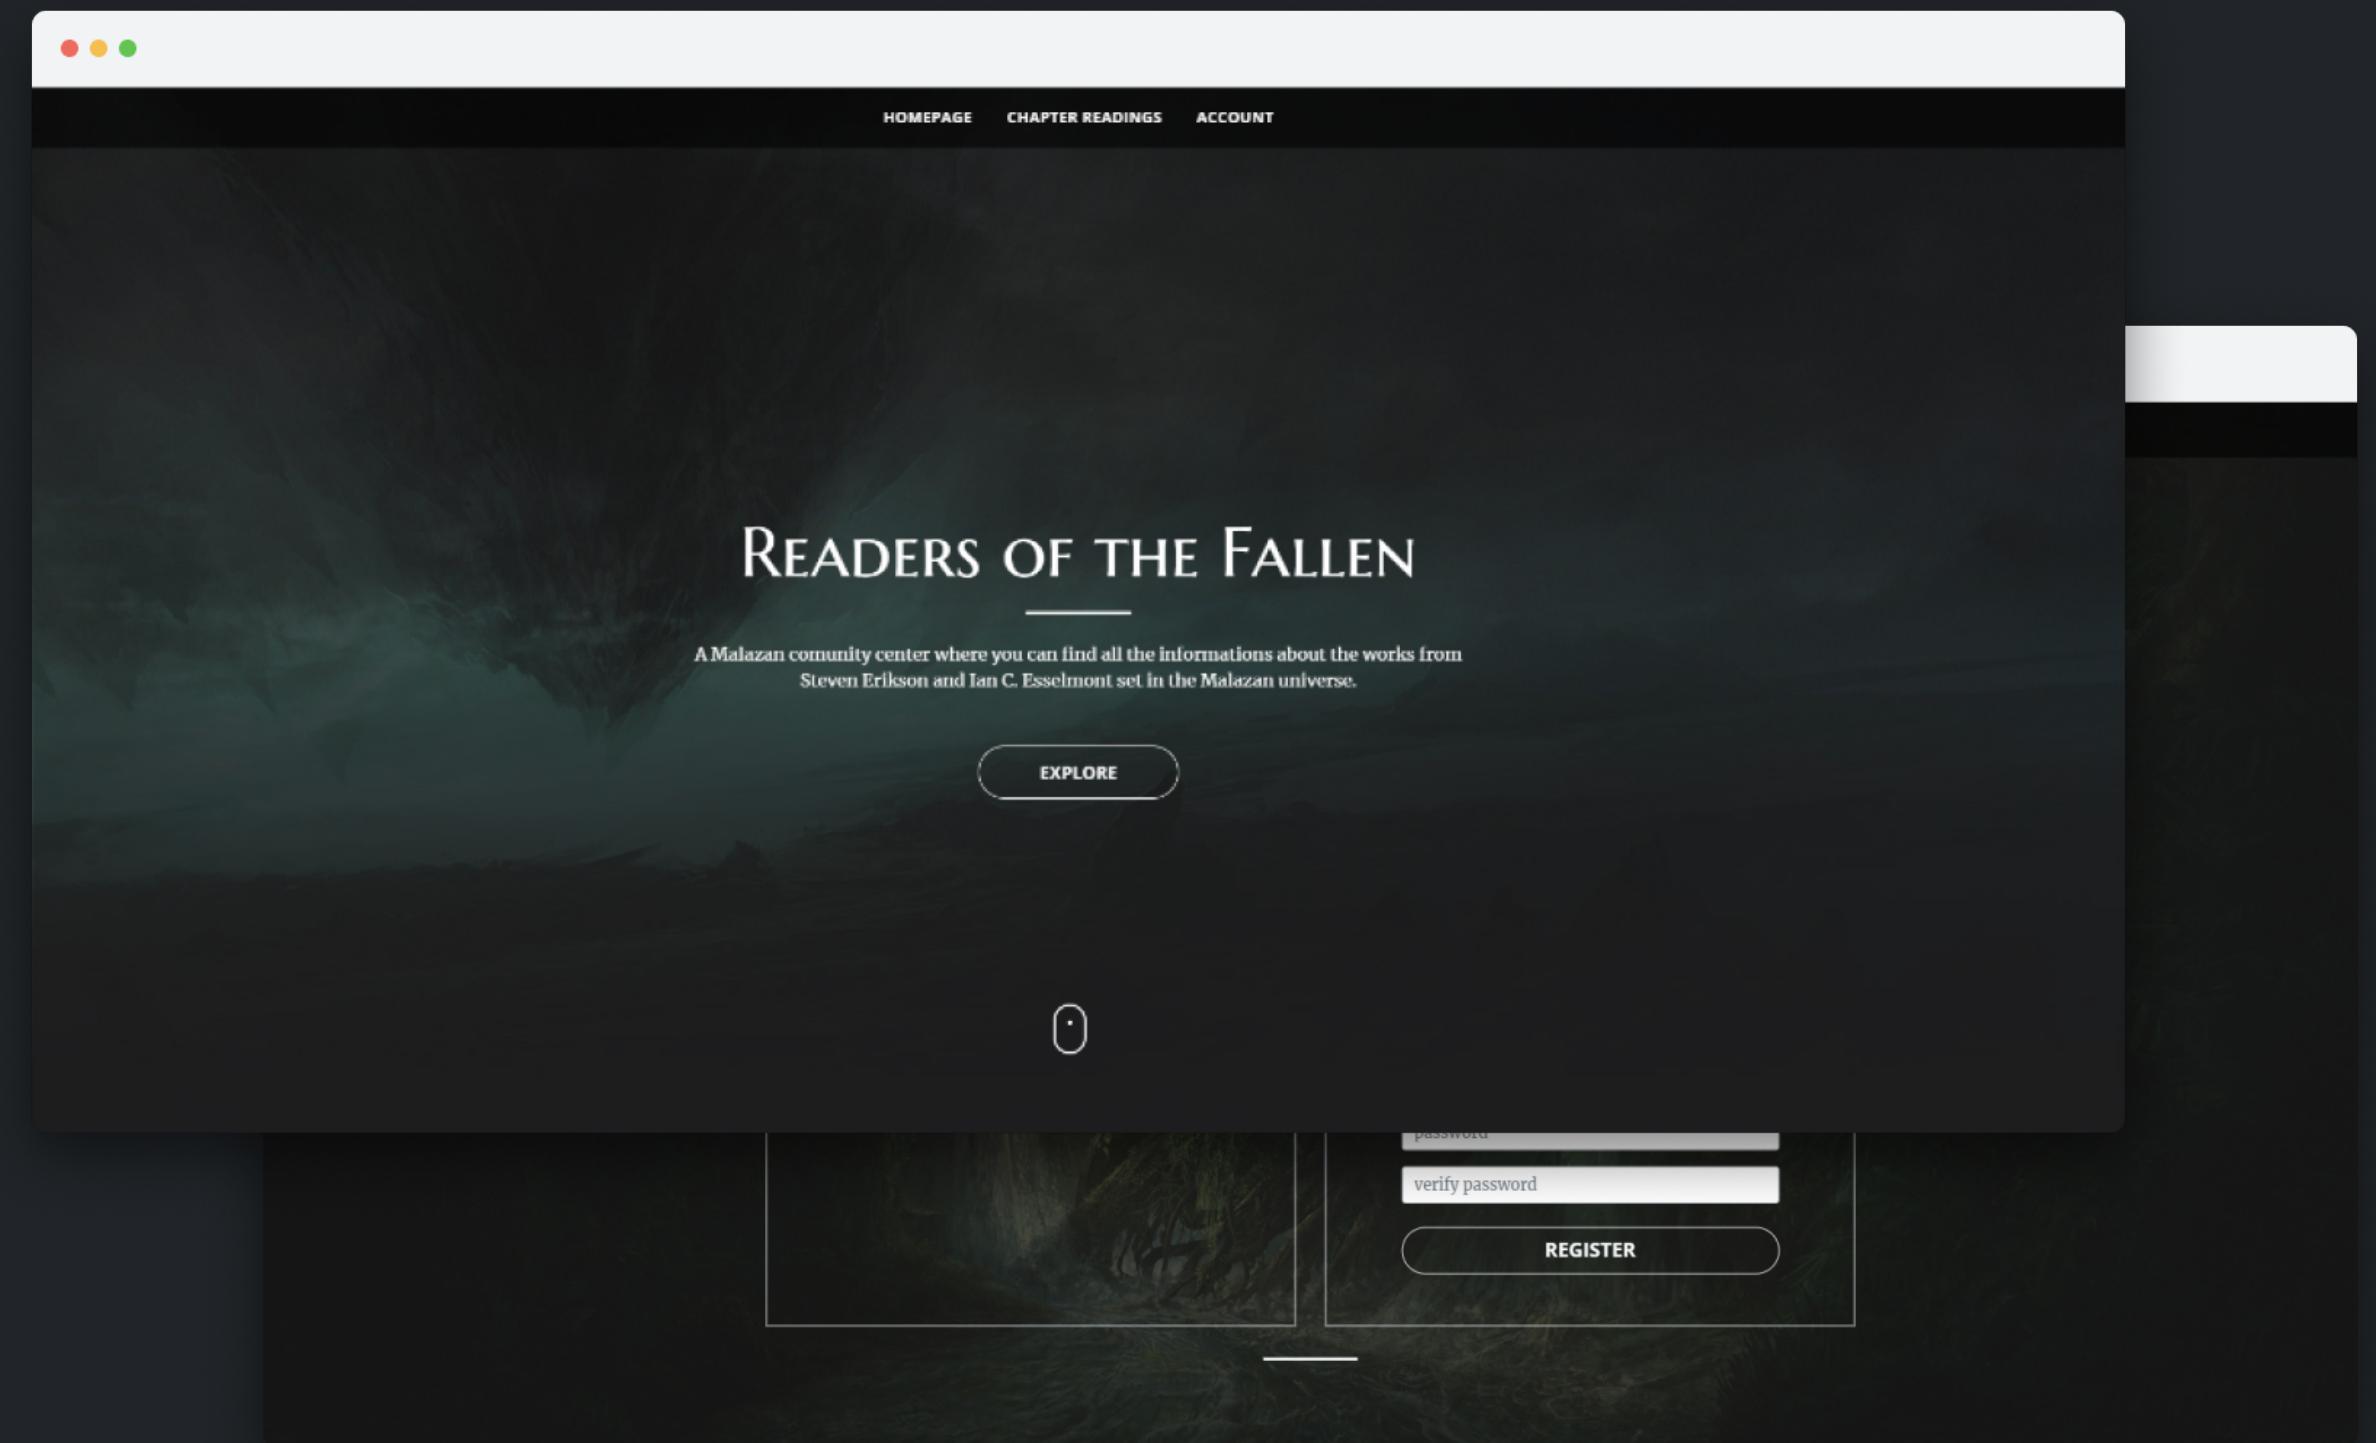

Description

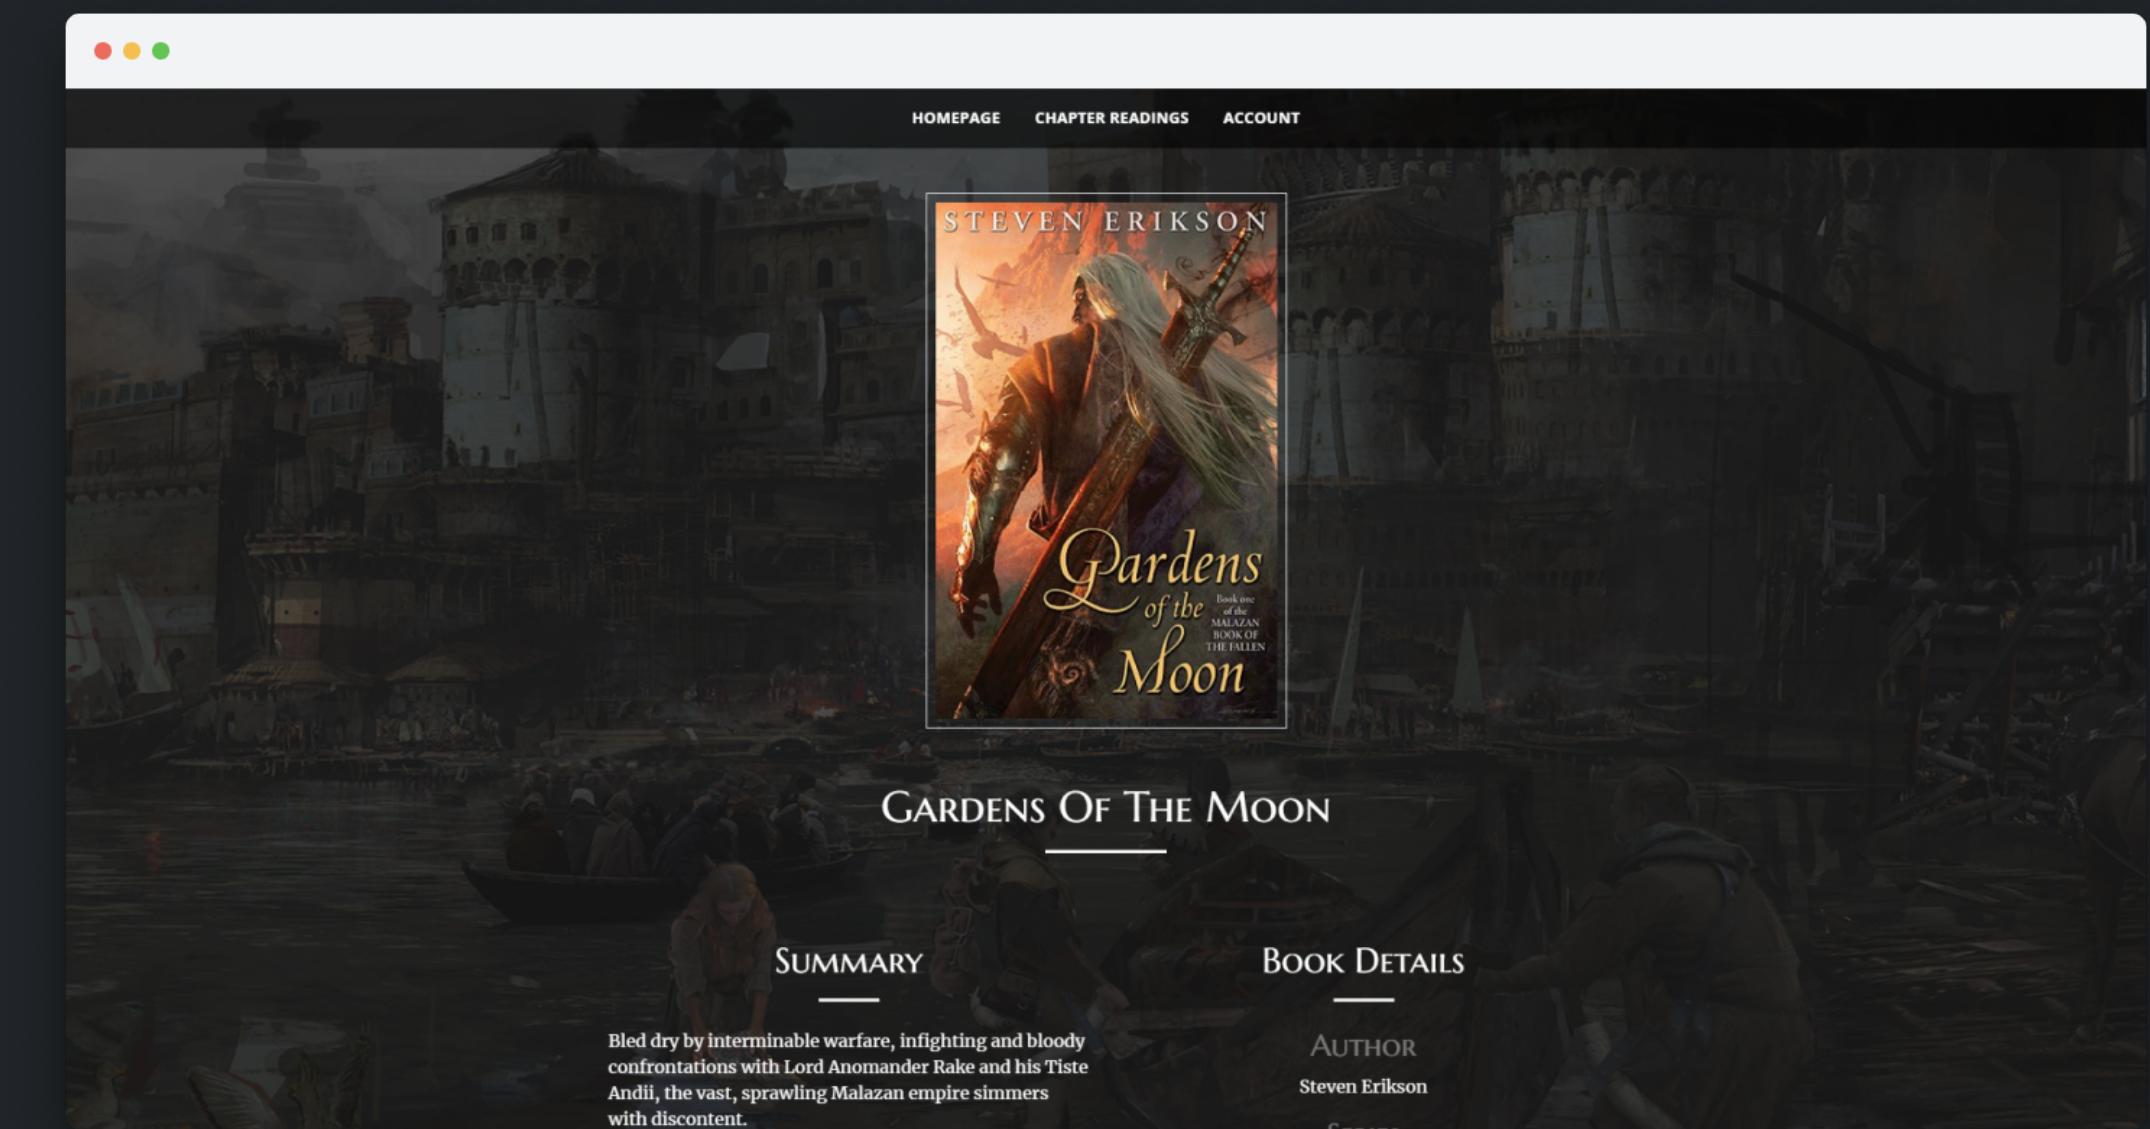

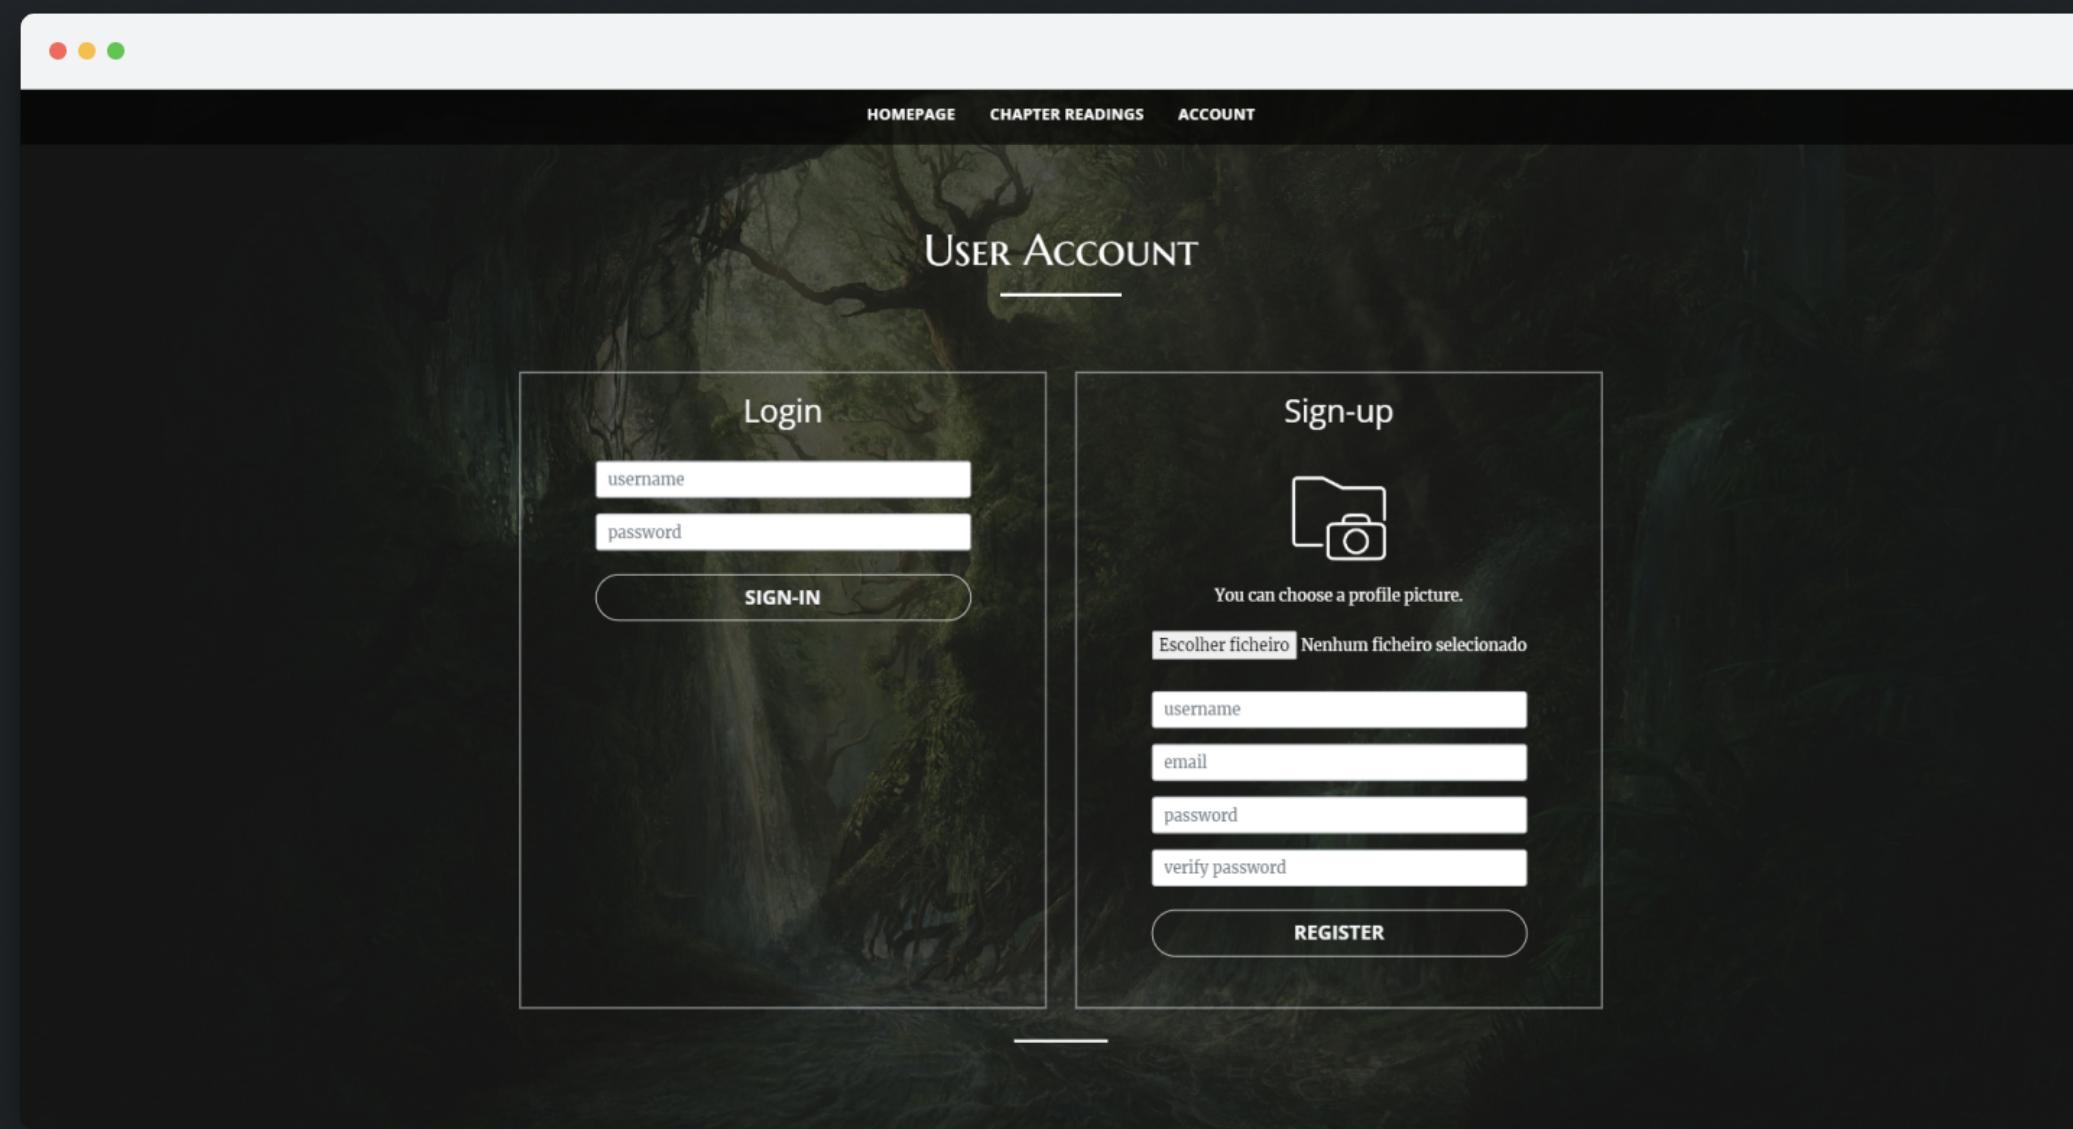

Readers of the Fallen was an individual mini project developed in my 2nd year in the University of Aveiro. The website consists of a place where fans of the books known as 'Malazan Book of the Fallen' can go to discover more info about the series and participate in read-alongs with other users. The project focus was more on backend development.

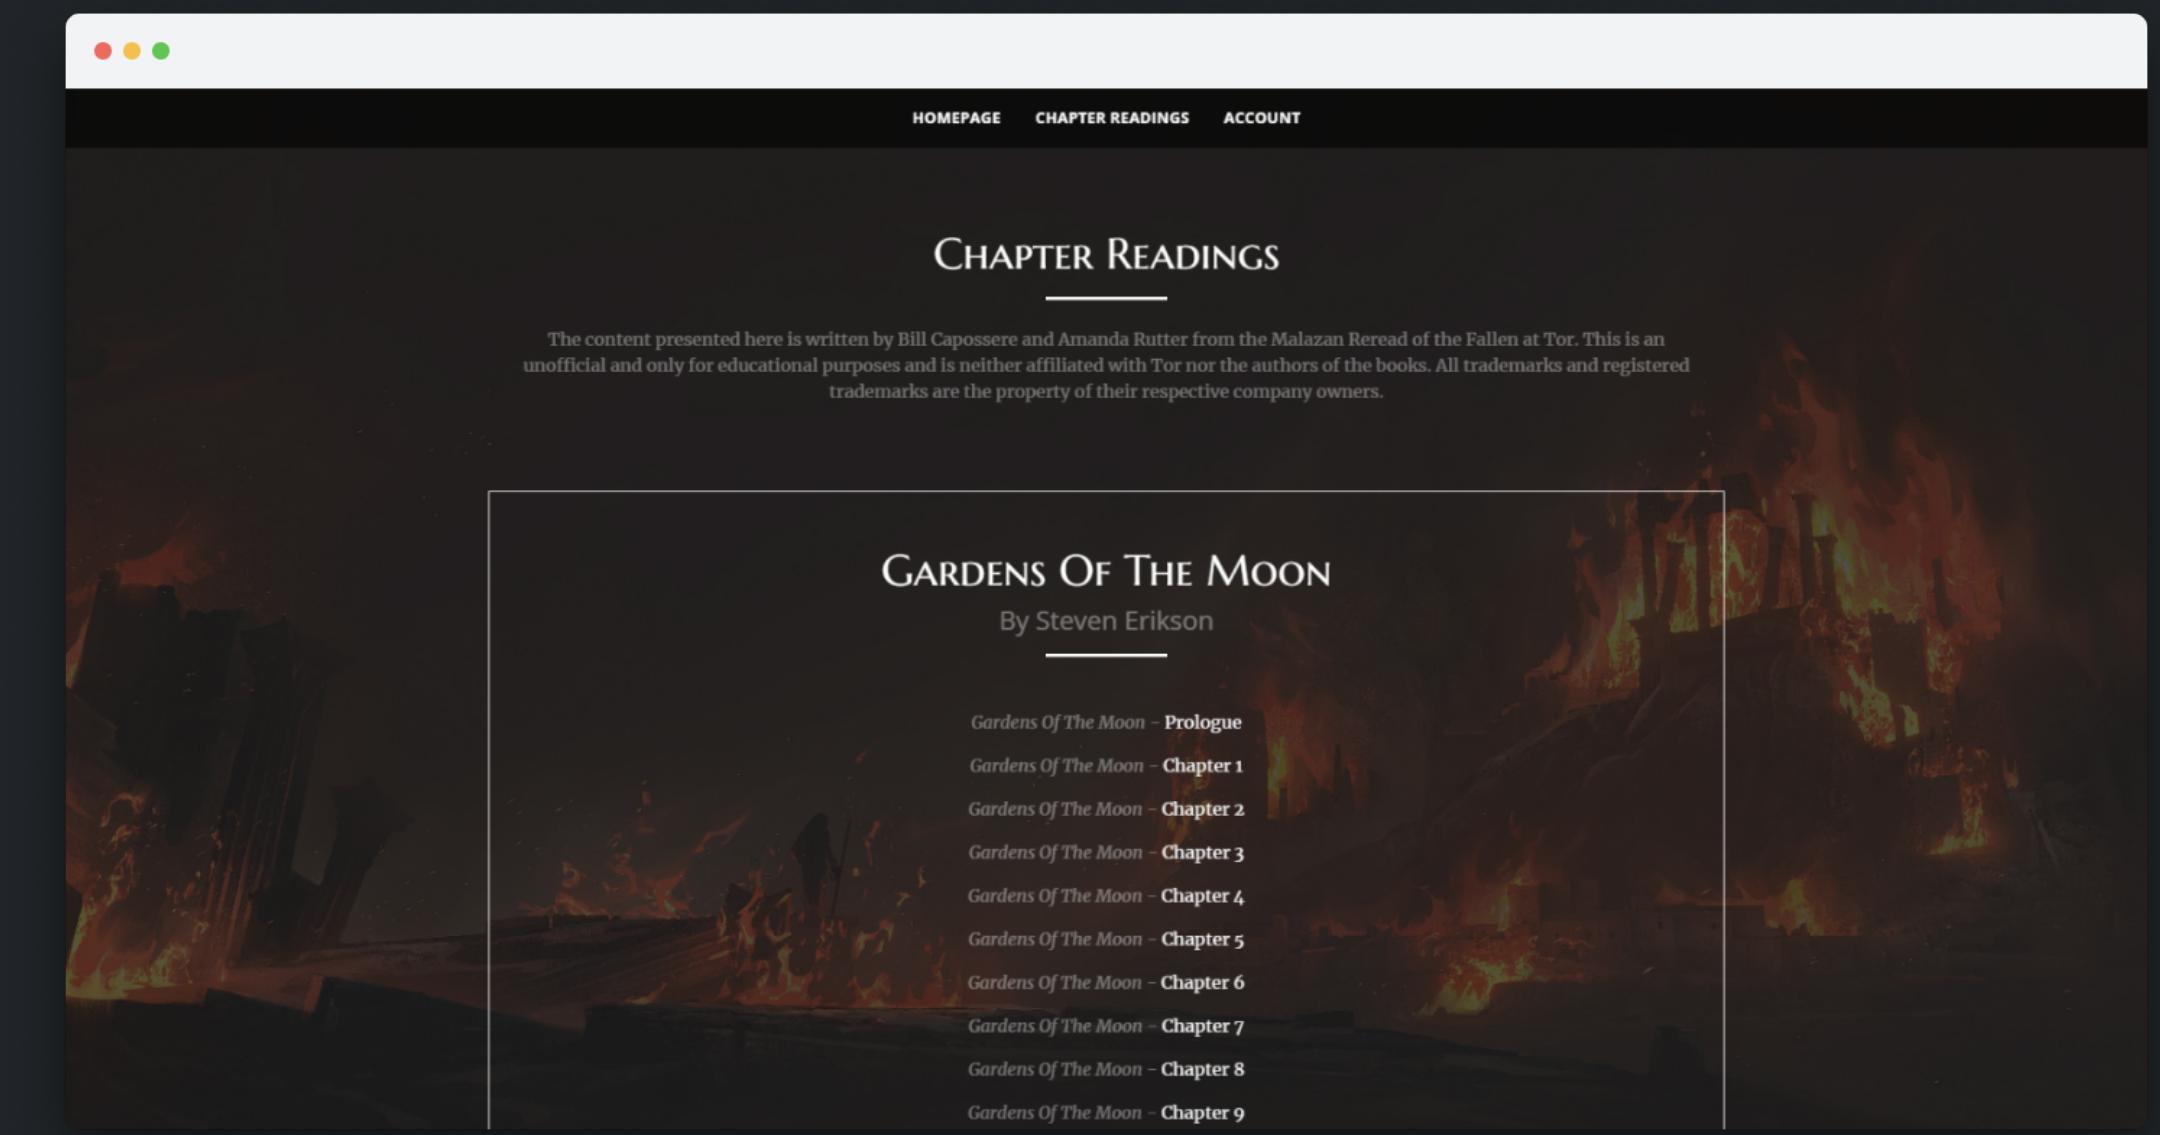

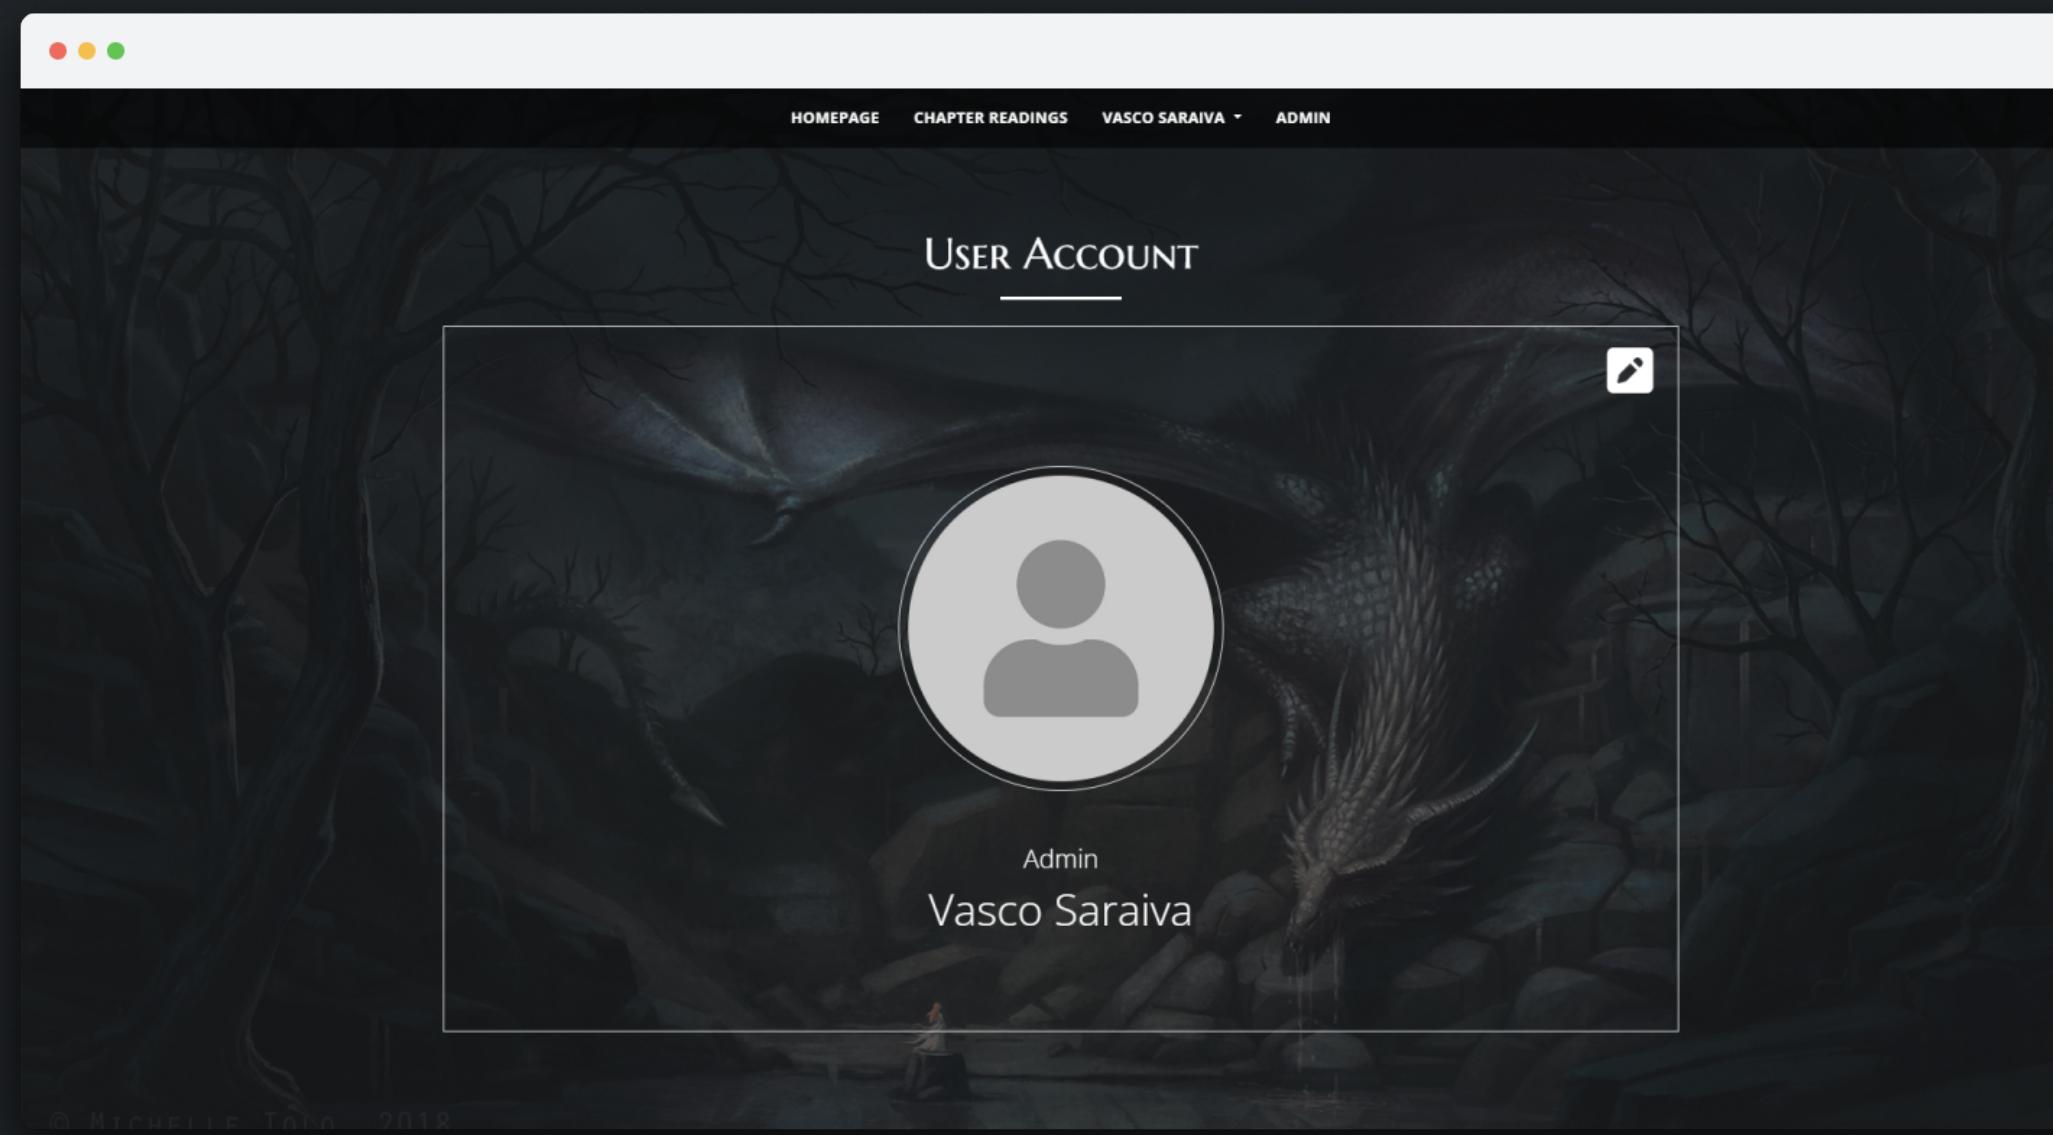

Year 2020 - 2021

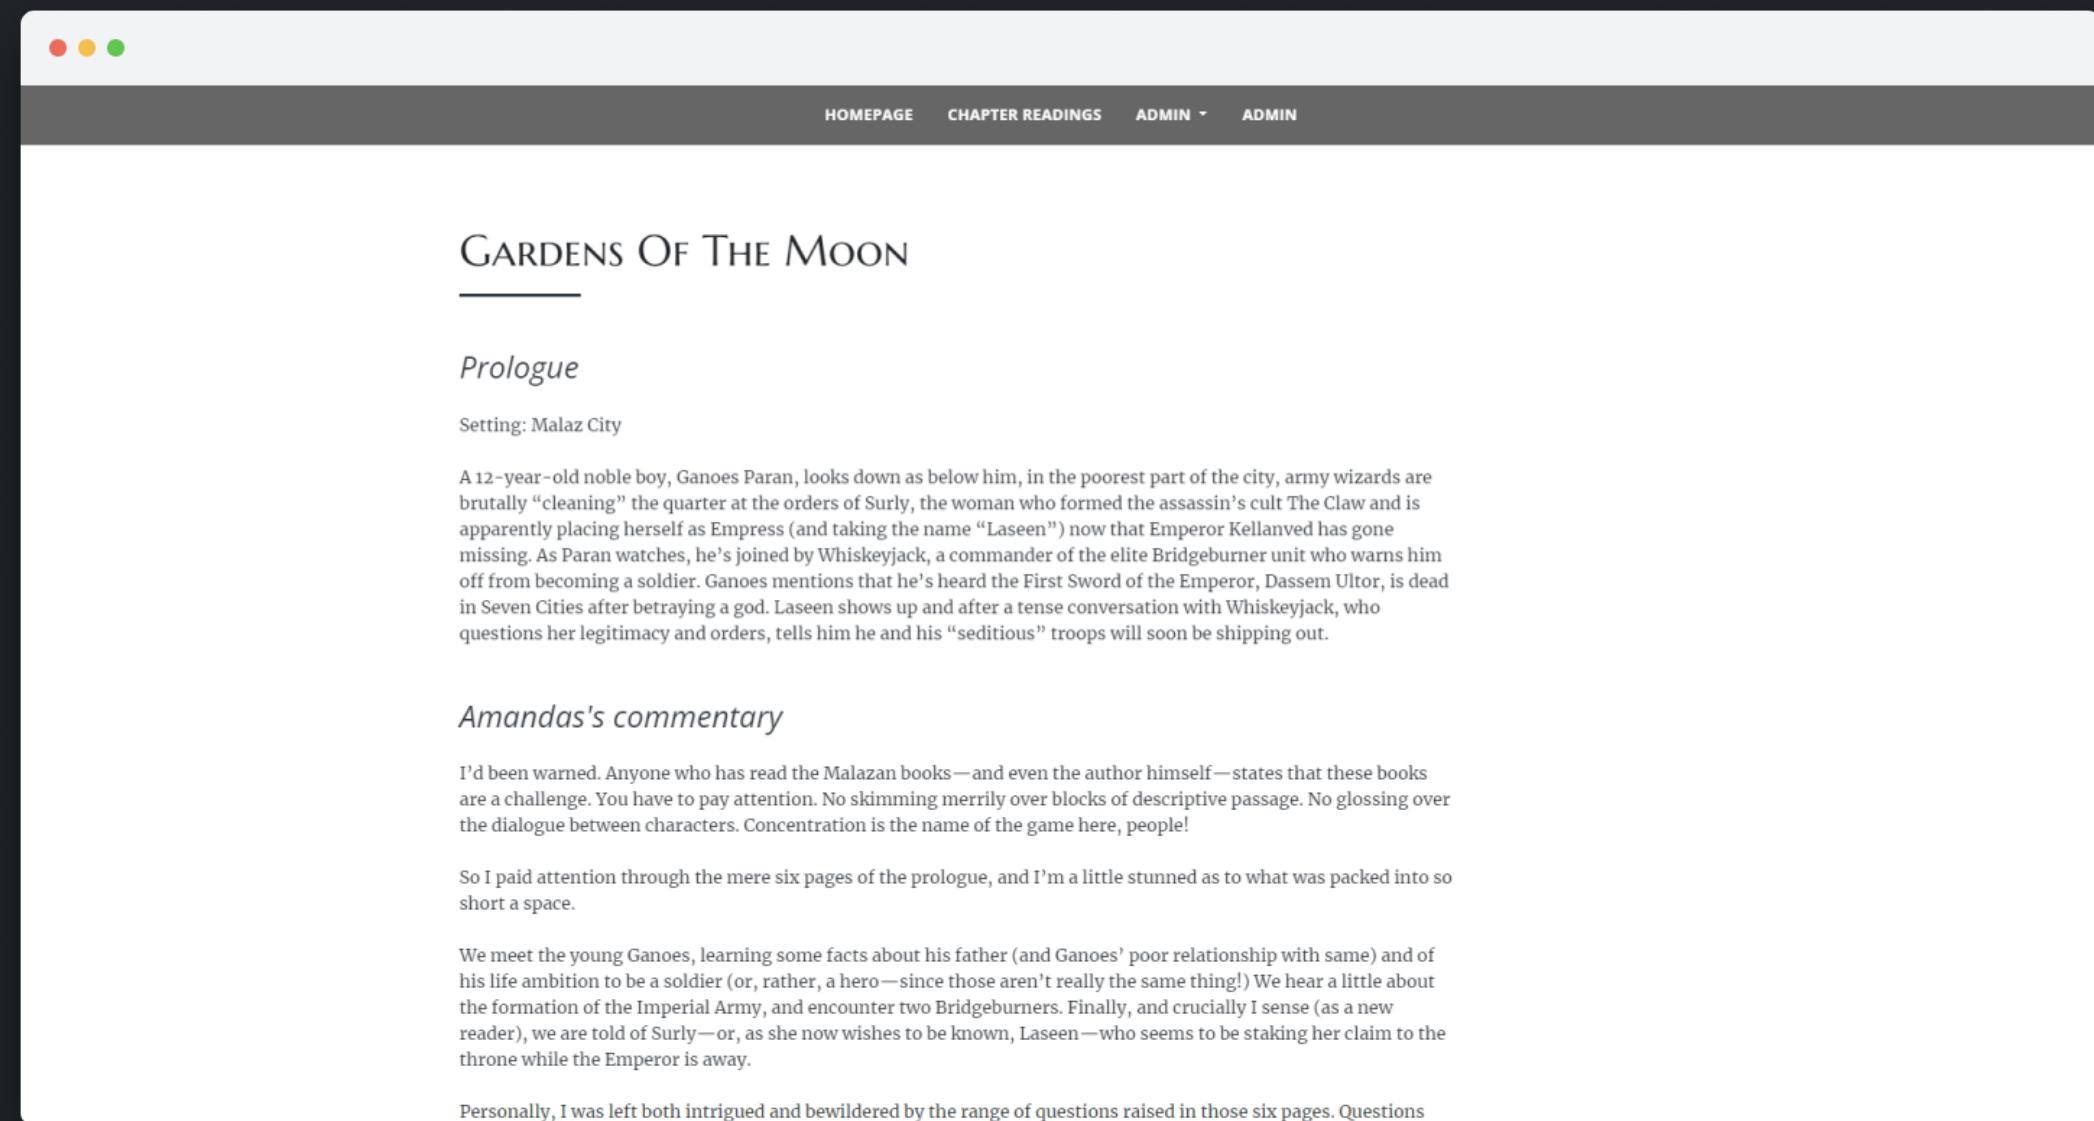

Category Programming

Technologies PHP, MySQL, Bootstrap

Homepage Chapter Readings Admin Admin

GARDENS OF THE MOON

Prologue

Setting: Malaz City

A 12-year-old noble boy, Ganoes Paran, looks down as below him, in the poorest part of the city, army wizards are brutally "cleaning" the quarter at the orders of Surly, the woman who formed the assassin's cult The Claw and is apparently placing herself as Empress (and taking the name "Laseen") now that Emperor Kellanen has gone missing. As Paran watches, he's joined by Whiskeyjack, a commander of the elite Bridgeburner unit who warns him off from becoming a soldier. Ganoes mentions that he's heard the First Sword of the Emperor, Dassem Ultor, is dead in Seven Cities after betraying a god. Laseen shows up and after a tense conversation with Whiskeyjack, who questions her legitimacy and orders, tells him he and his "seditious" troops will soon be shipping out.

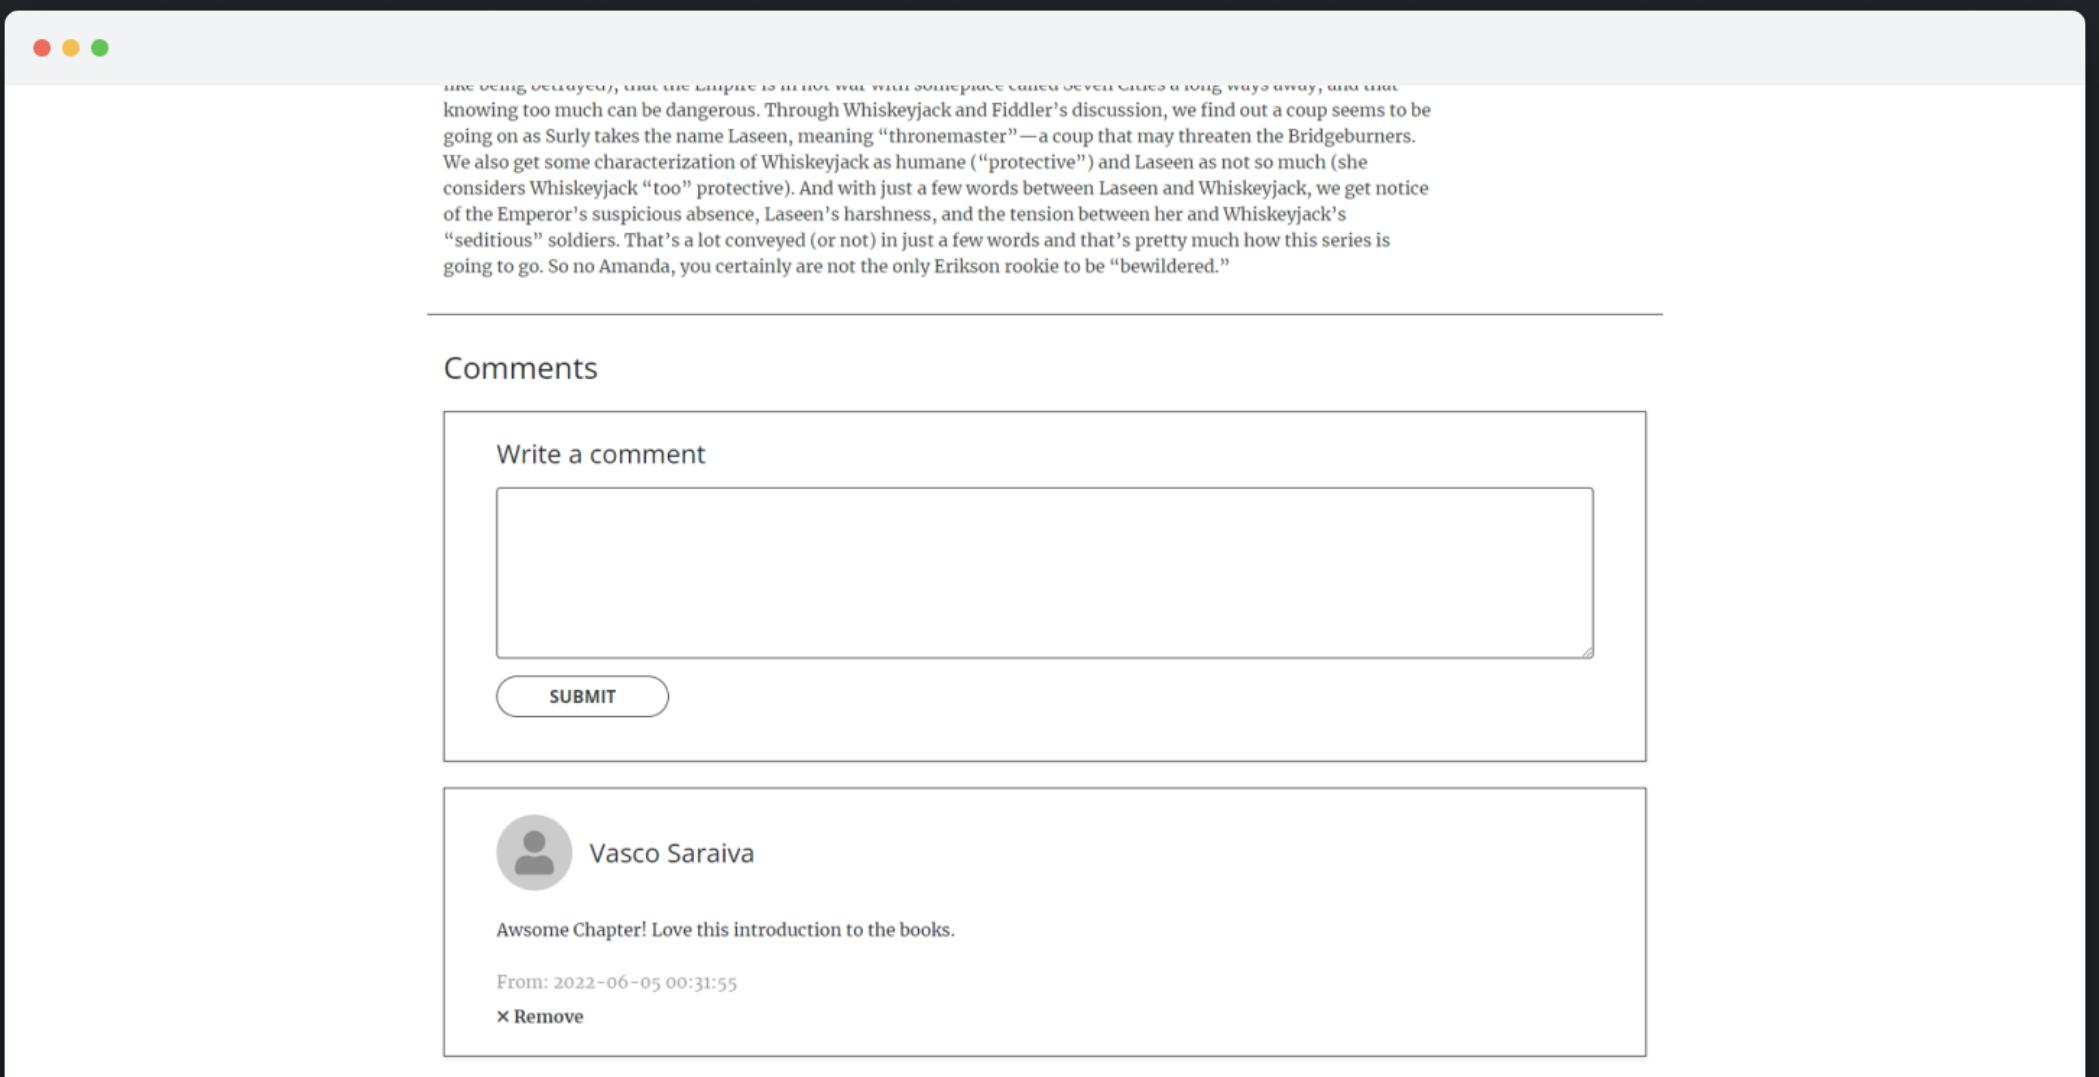

Amandas's commentary

I'd been warned. Anyone who has read the Malazan books—and even the author himself—states that these books are a challenge. You have to pay attention. No skimming merrily over blocks of descriptive passage. No glossing over the dialogue between characters. Concentration is the name of the game here, people!

So I paid attention through the mere six pages of the prologue, and I'm a little stunned as to what was packed into so short a space.

We meet the young Ganoes, learning some facts about his father (and Ganoes' poor relationship with same) and of his life ambition to be a soldier (or, rather, a hero—since those aren't really the same thing!) We hear a little about the formation of the Imperial Army, and encounter two Bridgeburners. Finally, and crucially I sense (as a new reader), we are told of Surly—or, as she now wishes to be known, Laseen—who seems to be staking her claim to the throne while the Emperor is away.

Personally, I was left both intrigued and bewildered by the range of questions raised in those six pages. Questions

Knowing too much can be dangerous. Through Whiskeyjack and Fiddler's discussion, we find out a coup seems to be going on as Surly takes the name Laseen, meaning "thronemaster"—a coup that may threaten the Bridgeburners. We also get some characterization of Whiskeyjack as humane ("protective") and Laseen as not so much (she considers Whiskeyjack "too" protective). And with just a few words between Laseen and Whiskeyjack, we get notice of the Emperor's suspicious absence, Laseen's harshness, and the tension between her and Whiskeyjack's "seditious" soldiers. That's a lot conveyed (or not) in just a few words and that's pretty much how this series is going to go. So no Amanda, you certainly are not the only Erikson rookie to be "bewildered."

Comments

Write a comment

Vasco Saraiva

Awsome Chapter! Love this introduction to the books.

From: 2022-06-05 00:31:55

Remove

The screenshot shows the backoffice dashboard with a sidebar titled 'ADMINISTRATION' containing 'Dashboard', 'GESTÃO', 'Users', and 'Chapter's Analysis'. The main area is titled 'General data' and displays four cards: 'TOTAL CHAPTER READINGS' (33), 'BOOKS COVERED' (33), 'TOTAL USERS' (3), and 'TOTAL COMMENTS IN WEBSITE' (3).

The screenshot shows the backoffice interface for managing chapter readings. It includes a sidebar with 'ADMINISTRATION', 'Dashboard', 'GESTÃO', 'Users', and 'Chapter's Analysis'. The main content area is titled 'Management of Chapter Readings' and shows a chapter summary for 'Malaz City' and comments from users 'Amanda' and 'Bill'.

Chapter Summary
Setting: Malaz City
A 12-year-old noble boy, Ganoes Paran, looks down as below him, in the poorest part of the city, army wizards are brutally "cleaning" the quarter at the orders of Surly, the woman who formed the assassin's cult The Claw and is apparently placing herself as Empress (and taking the name "Laseen") now that Emperor Kellanned has gone missing. As Paran watches, he's joined by Whiskeyjack, a commander of the elite Bridgeburner unit who warns him off from becoming a soldier. Ganoes mentions that he's heard the First Sword of the Emperor, Dassem Ultor, is dead

Amanda's comments
Personally, I was left both intrigued and bewildered by the range of questions raised in those six pages. Questions such as: Why should Ganoes be glad of his pure blood? Who is Dassem, why is he important, and did he really betray a god? How much of a role do gods have in everyday life? Do sorcerers lose control of their magic when they panic? Whose original orders are the cadre of mages following? What is a "cadre" of mages? Who is the other person whose orders they might be following? What is the Claw? Why has Laseen instigated a prohibition of sorcery? Who are the Bridgeburners?

Bill's comments
Well, as Amanda has said, this is a series that demands full and constant attention. If anybody thought this was going to be one of those books where they could just skip all those silly poems and rhymes and epigrams at the front of chapters, let me just point them to these few lines from the fragment of "Call to Shadow" that opens the prologue:

Miner.Hall

Description

Miner.Hall is a place for young people to learn more about geology and its significance in our lives and the world. Made in partnership with the Geoscience's Department in University of Aveiro, this project was made together with other 3 colleagues. My contribute was mainly on the backend development and in the UX Design.

Year

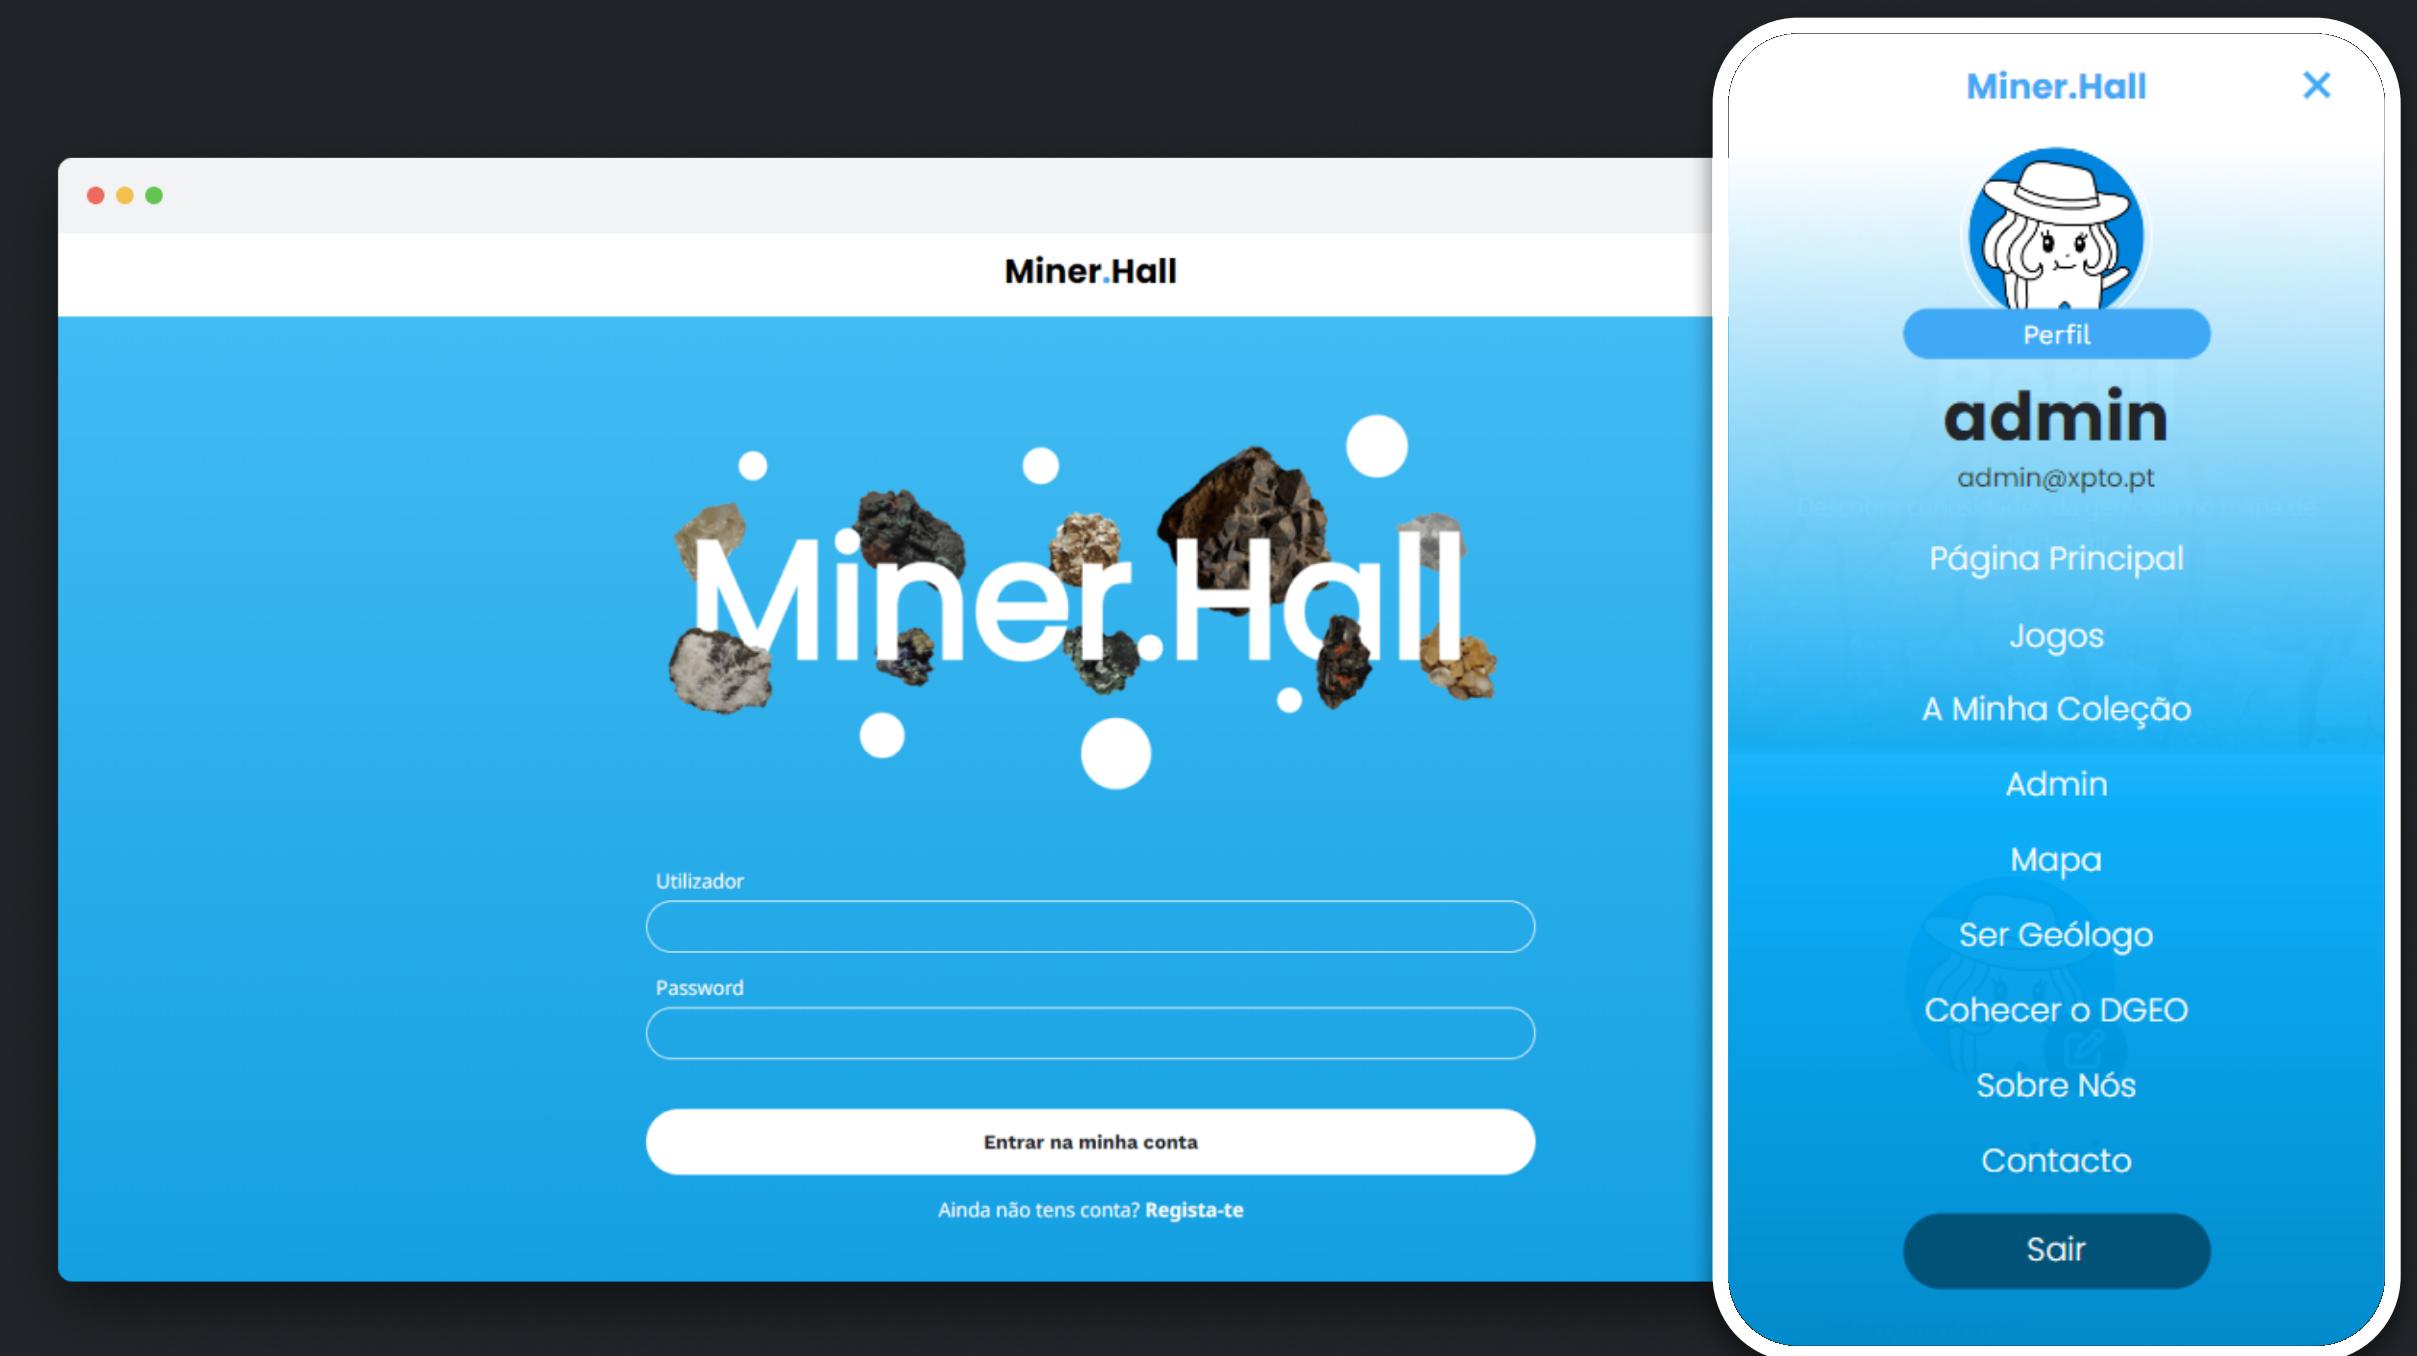

2021

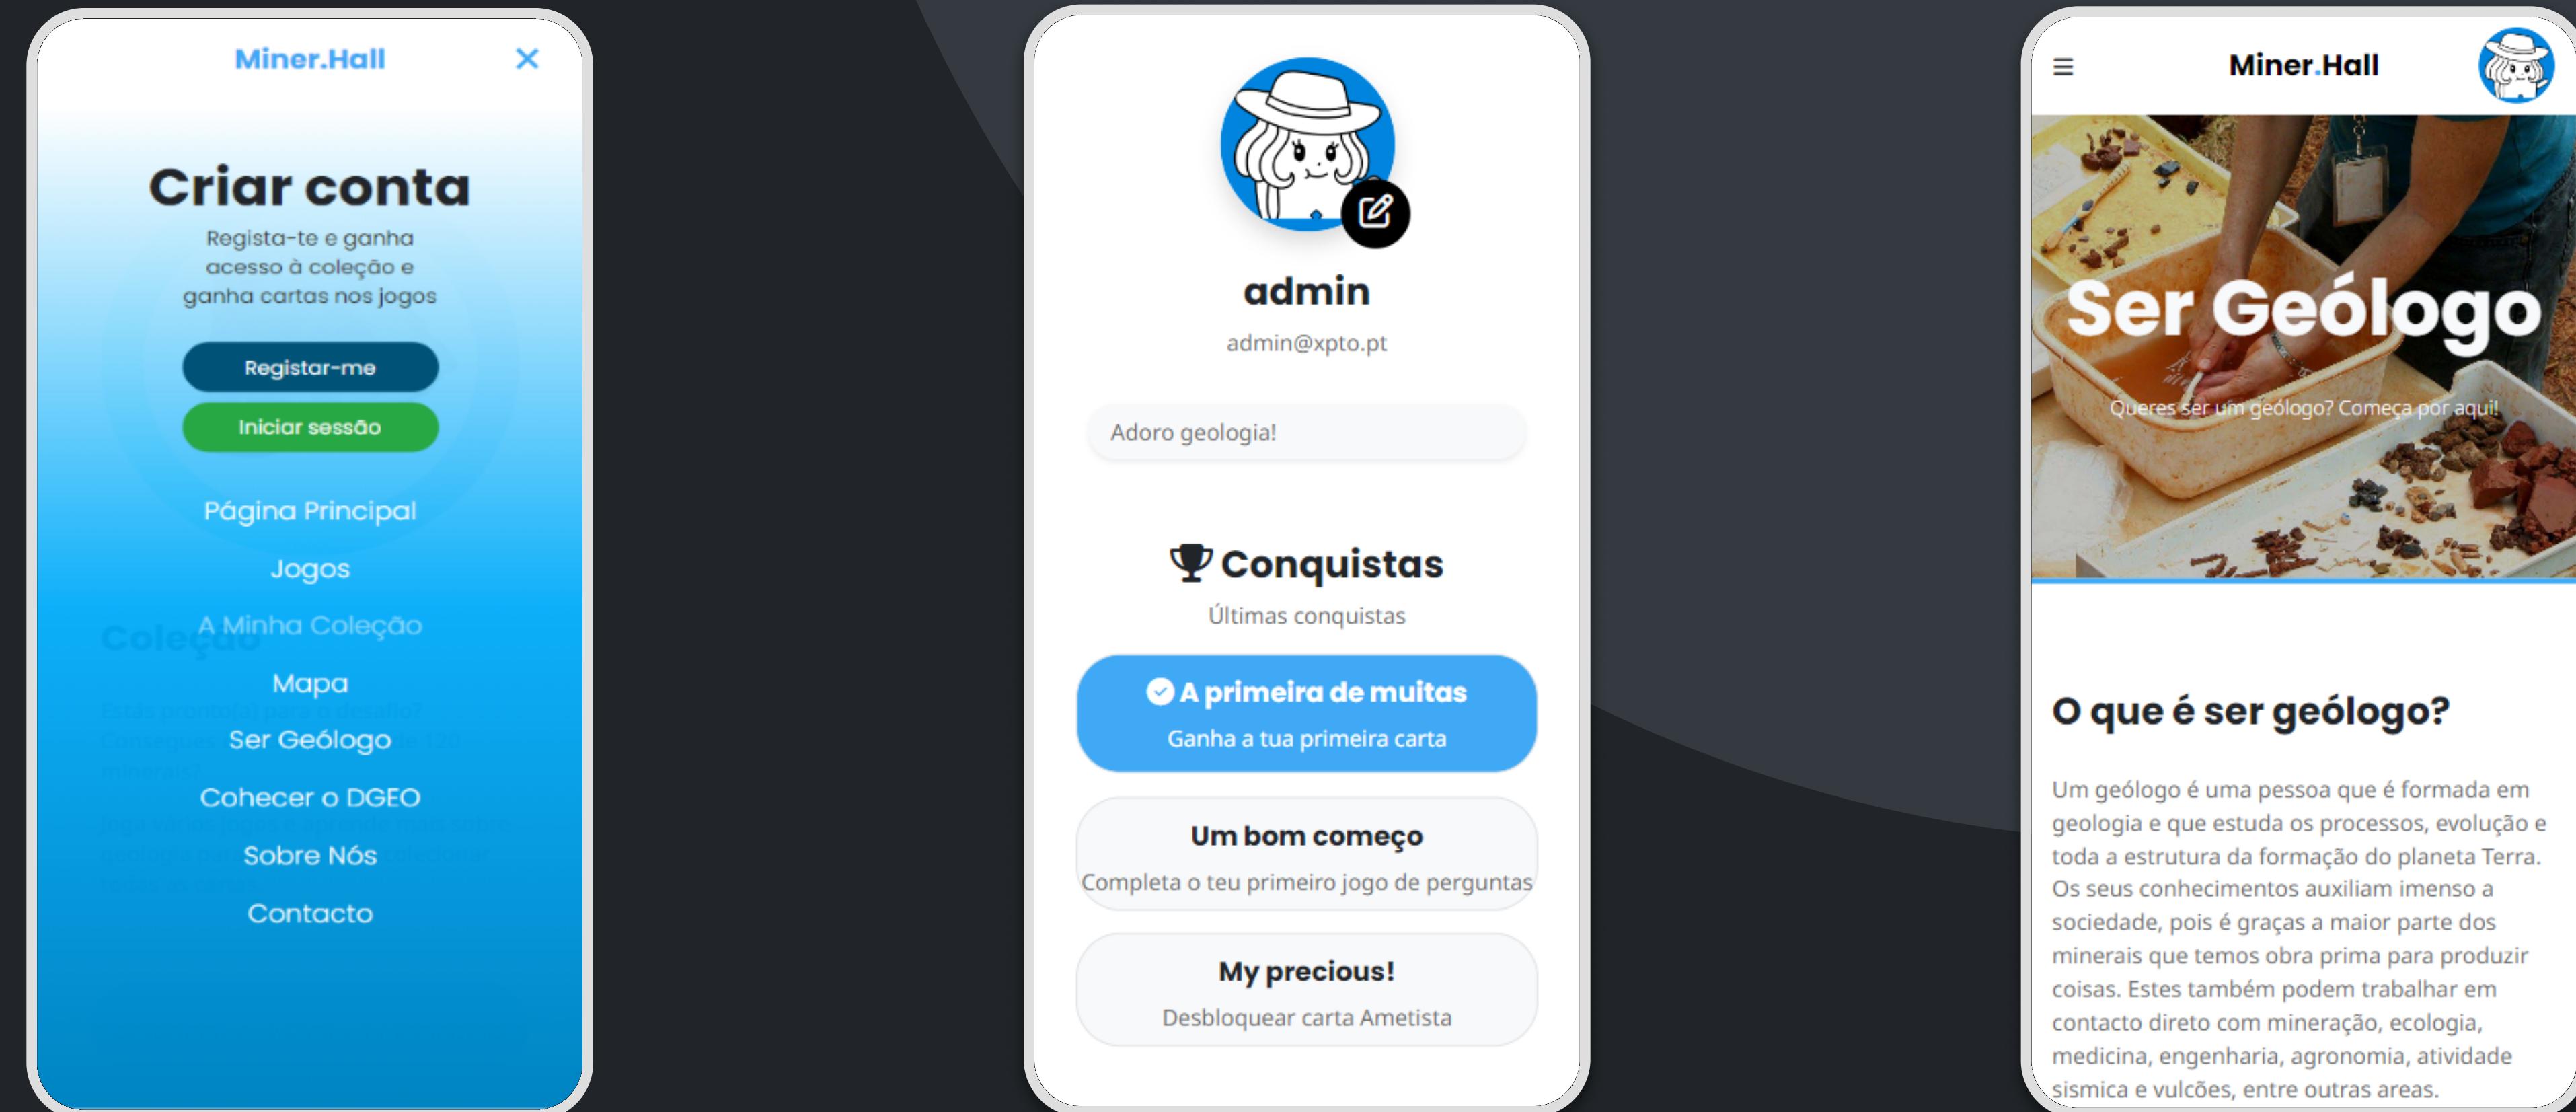

Category

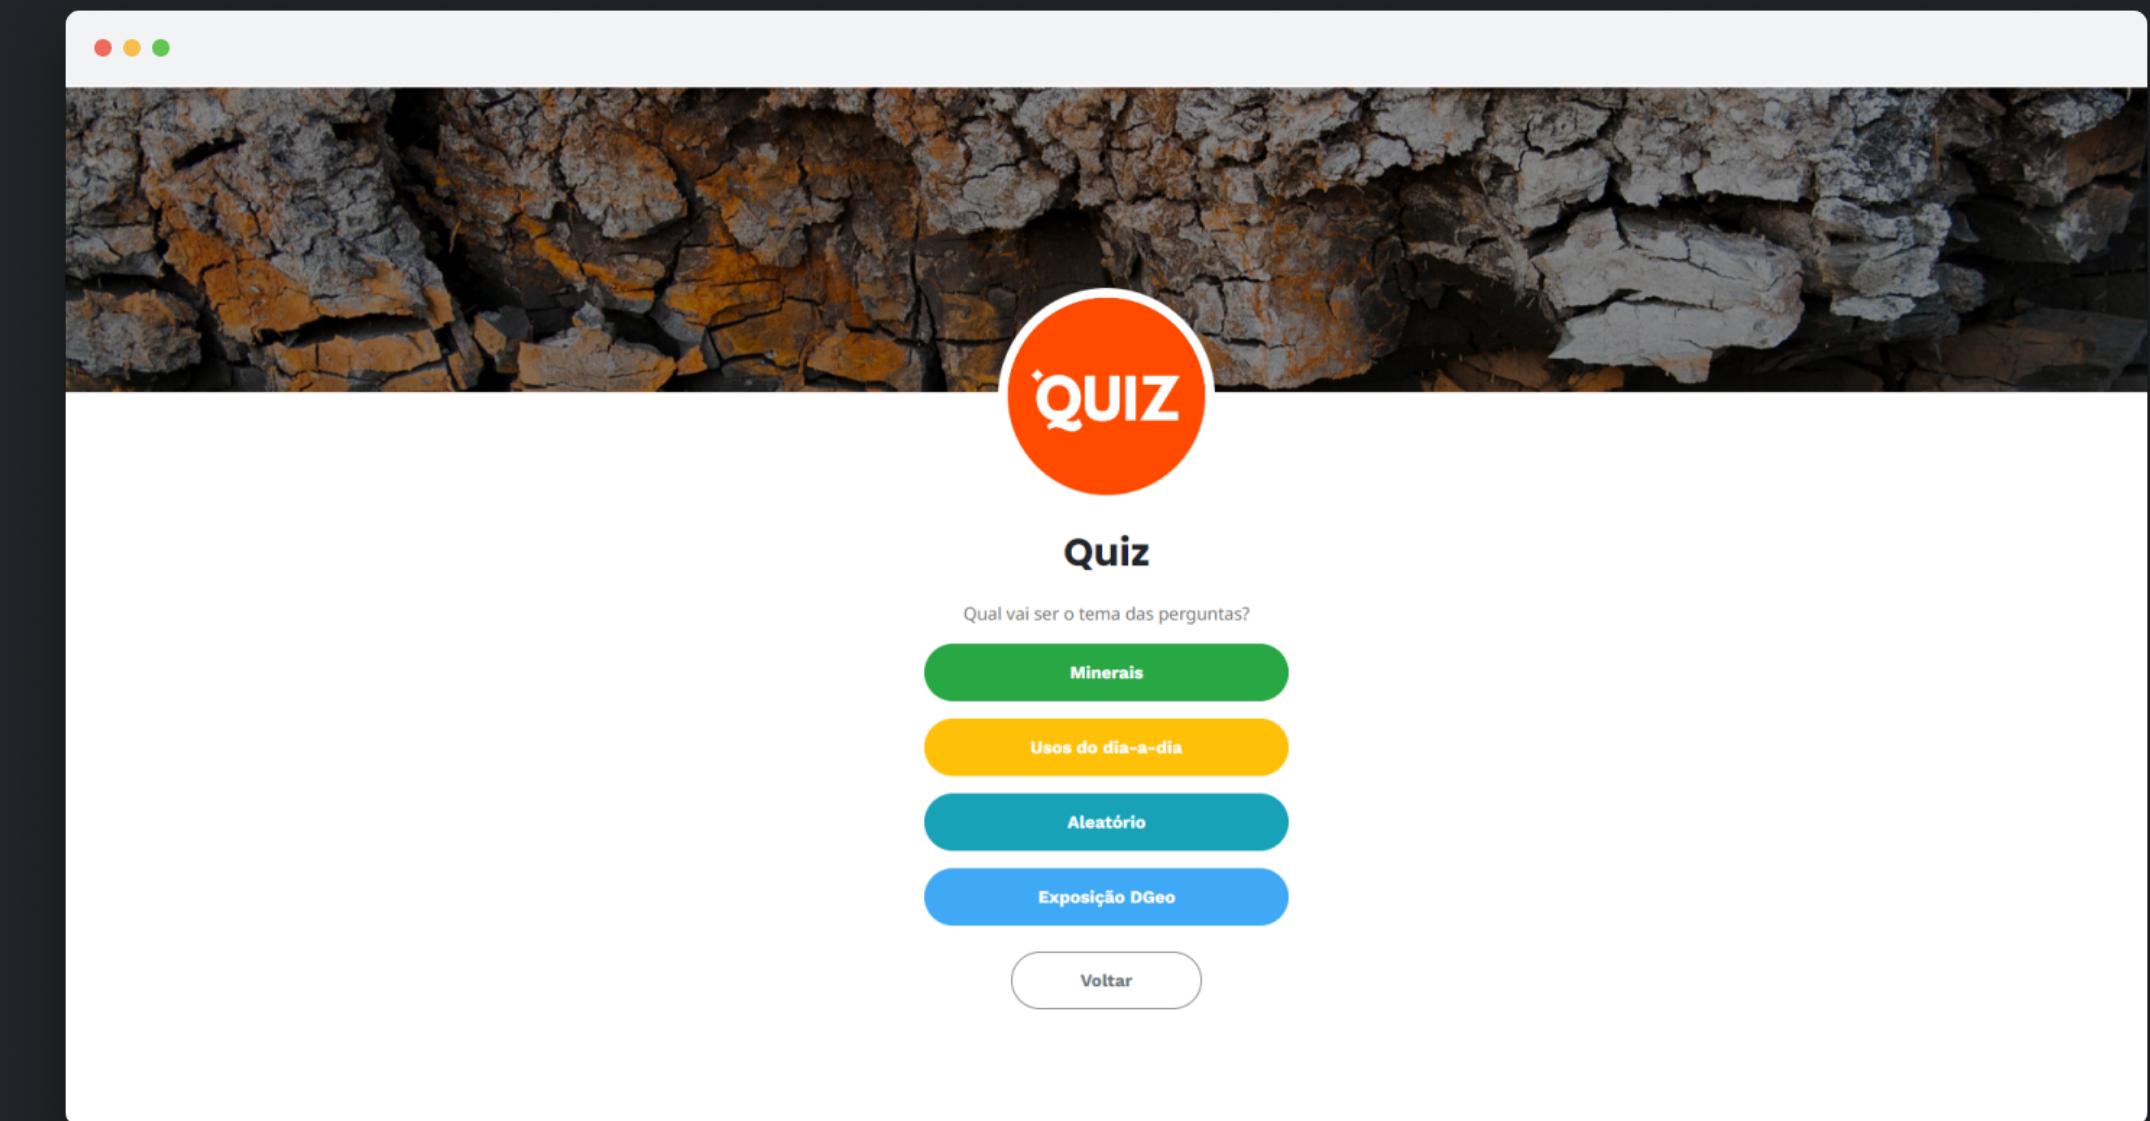

UX Design and Programing

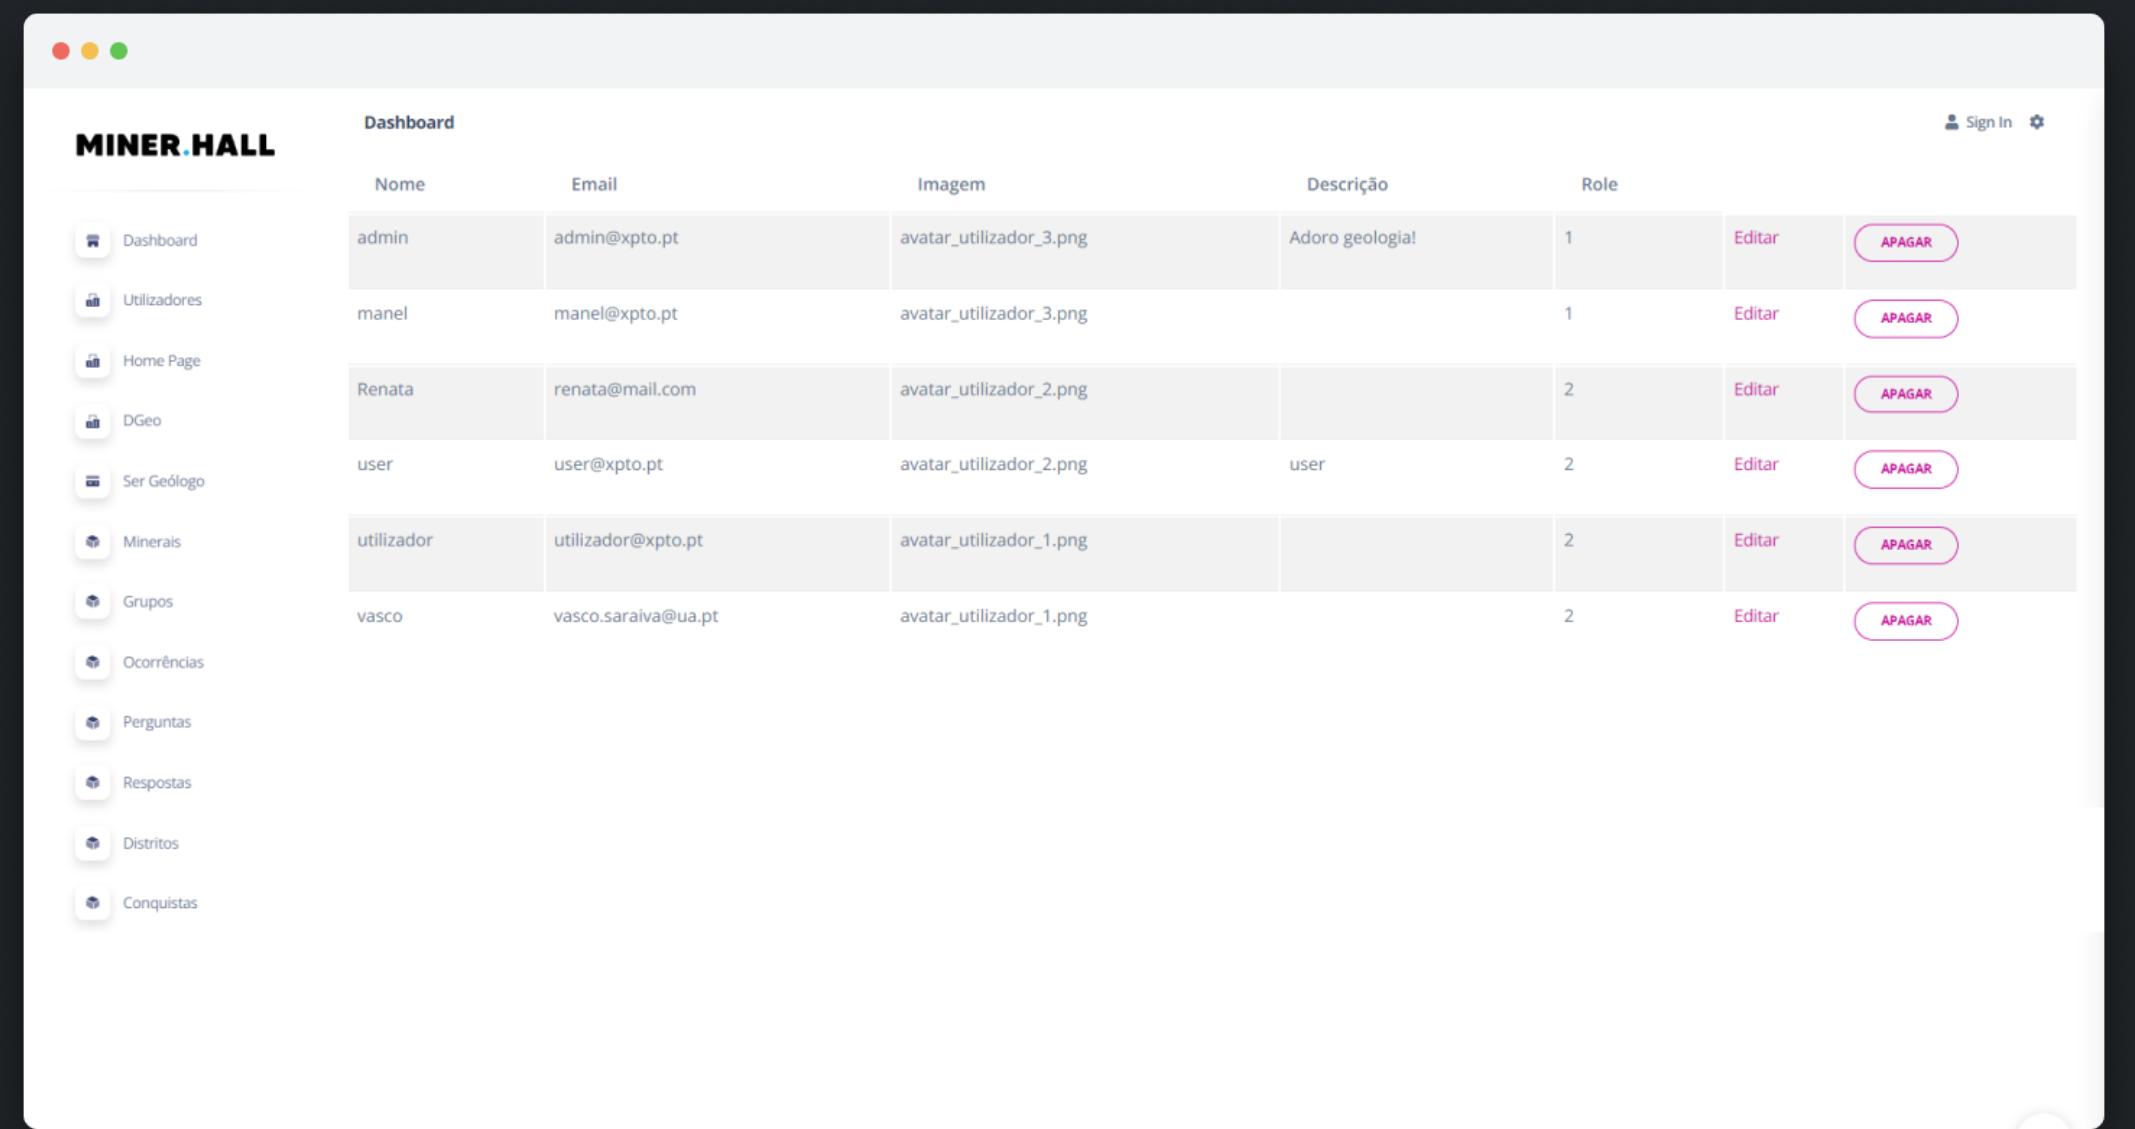

Technologies

PHP, MySQL, AJAX, Bootstrap

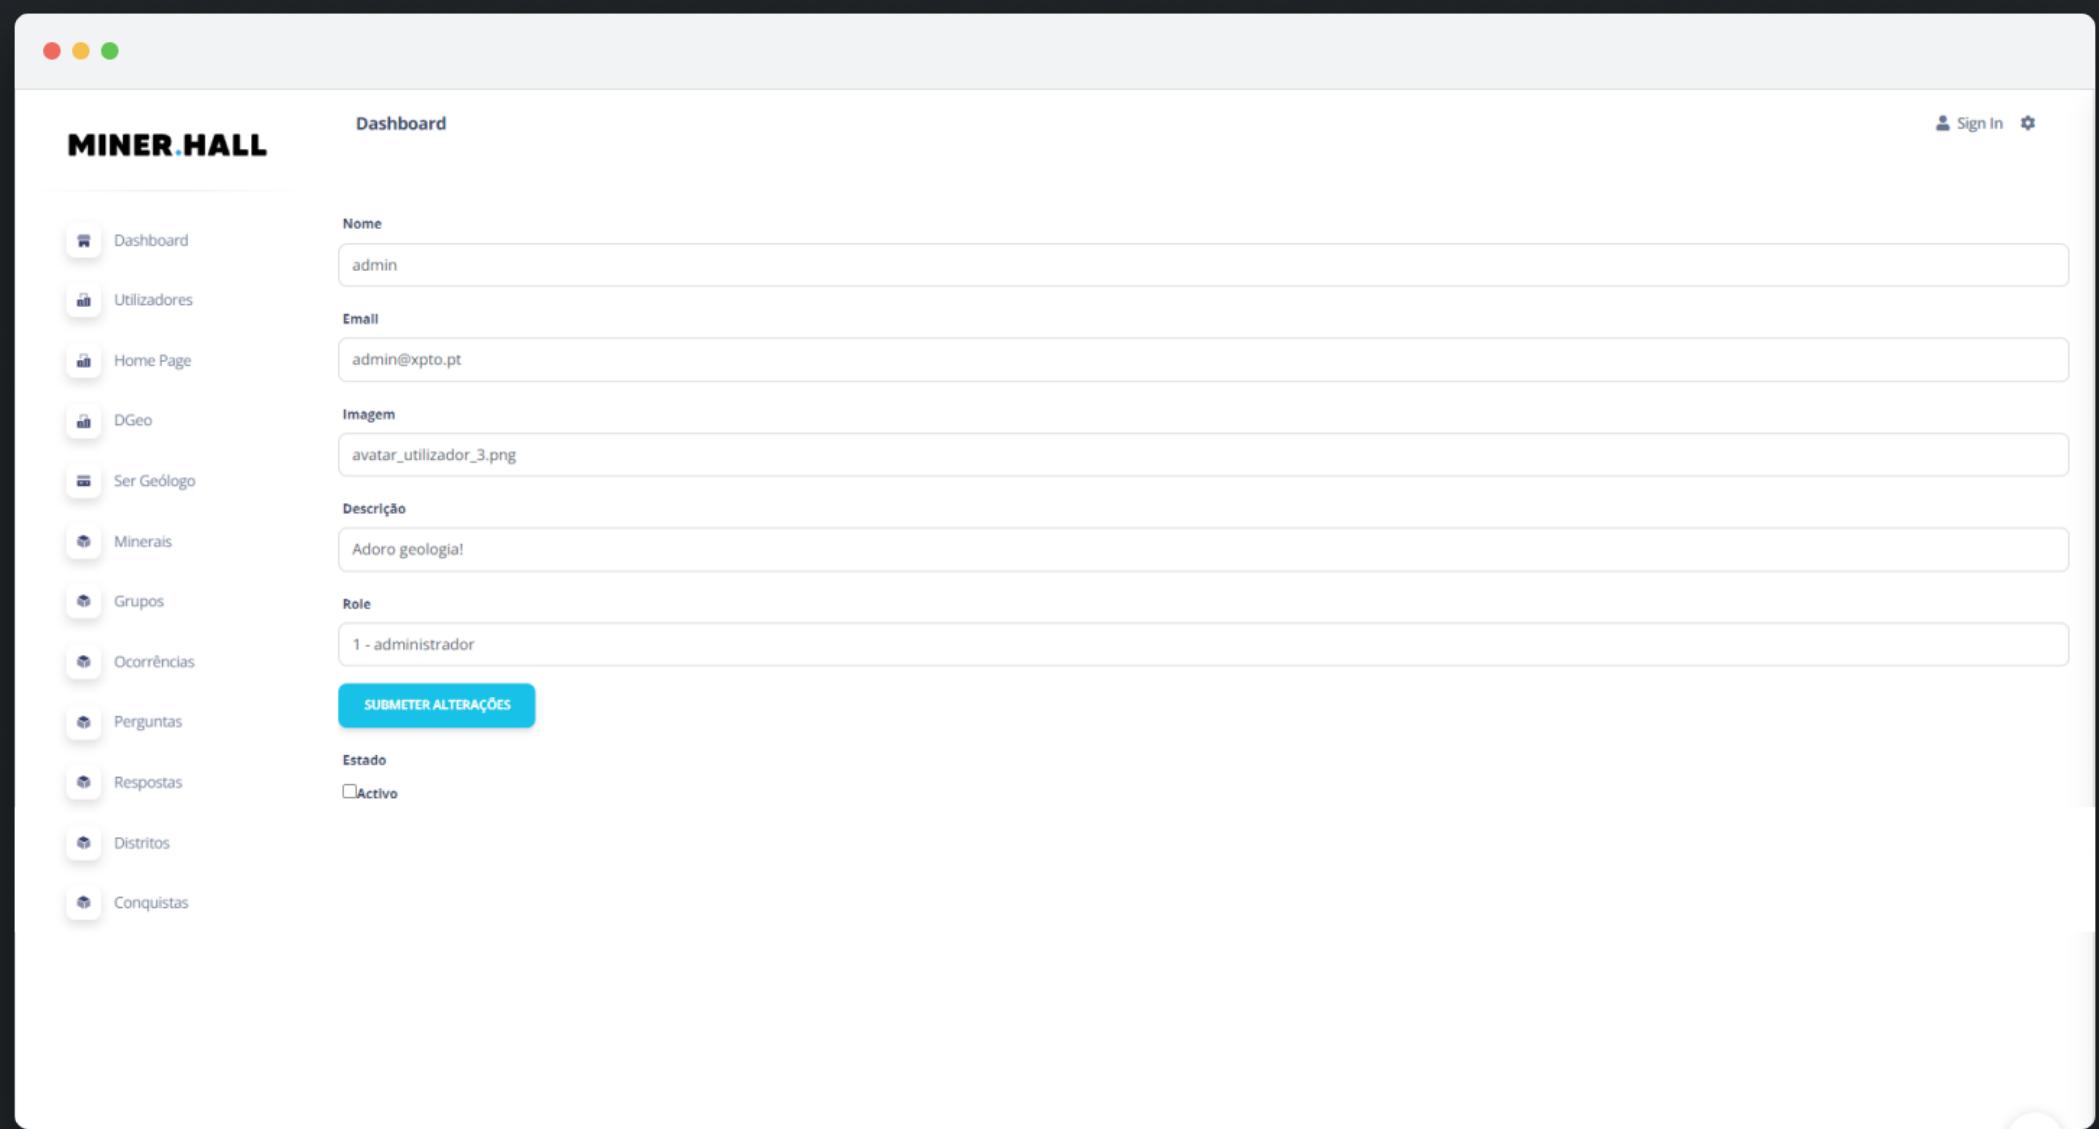

Nome	Email	Imagen	Descrição	Role
admin	admin@xpto.pt	avatar_utilizador_3.png	Adoro geologia!	1	Editar	APAGAR
manel	manel@xpto.pt	avatar_utilizador_3.png		1	Editar	APAGAR
Renata	renata@mail.com	avatar_utilizador_2.png		2	Editar	APAGAR
user	user@xpto.pt	avatar_utilizador_2.png	user	2	Editar	APAGAR
utilizador	utilizador@xpto.pt	avatar_utilizador_1.png		2	Editar	APAGAR
vasco	vasco.saraiva@ua.pt	avatar_utilizador_1.png		2	Editar	APAGAR

MINER.HALL

Dashboard

Sign In

Nome: admin

Email: admin@xpto.pt

Imagen: avatar_utilizador_3.png

Descrição: Adoro geologia!

Role: 1 - Administrador

Estado: Activo

SUBMETER ALTERAÇÕES

Tryon

Description

Tryon is an online gaming platform with the purpose of uniting all gamers who feel the need to find new teamates to have a better experience in online gaming. This project was developed together with a colleague during my third year in University of Aveiro. The focus was frontend development.

Year

2022 - 2023

Category

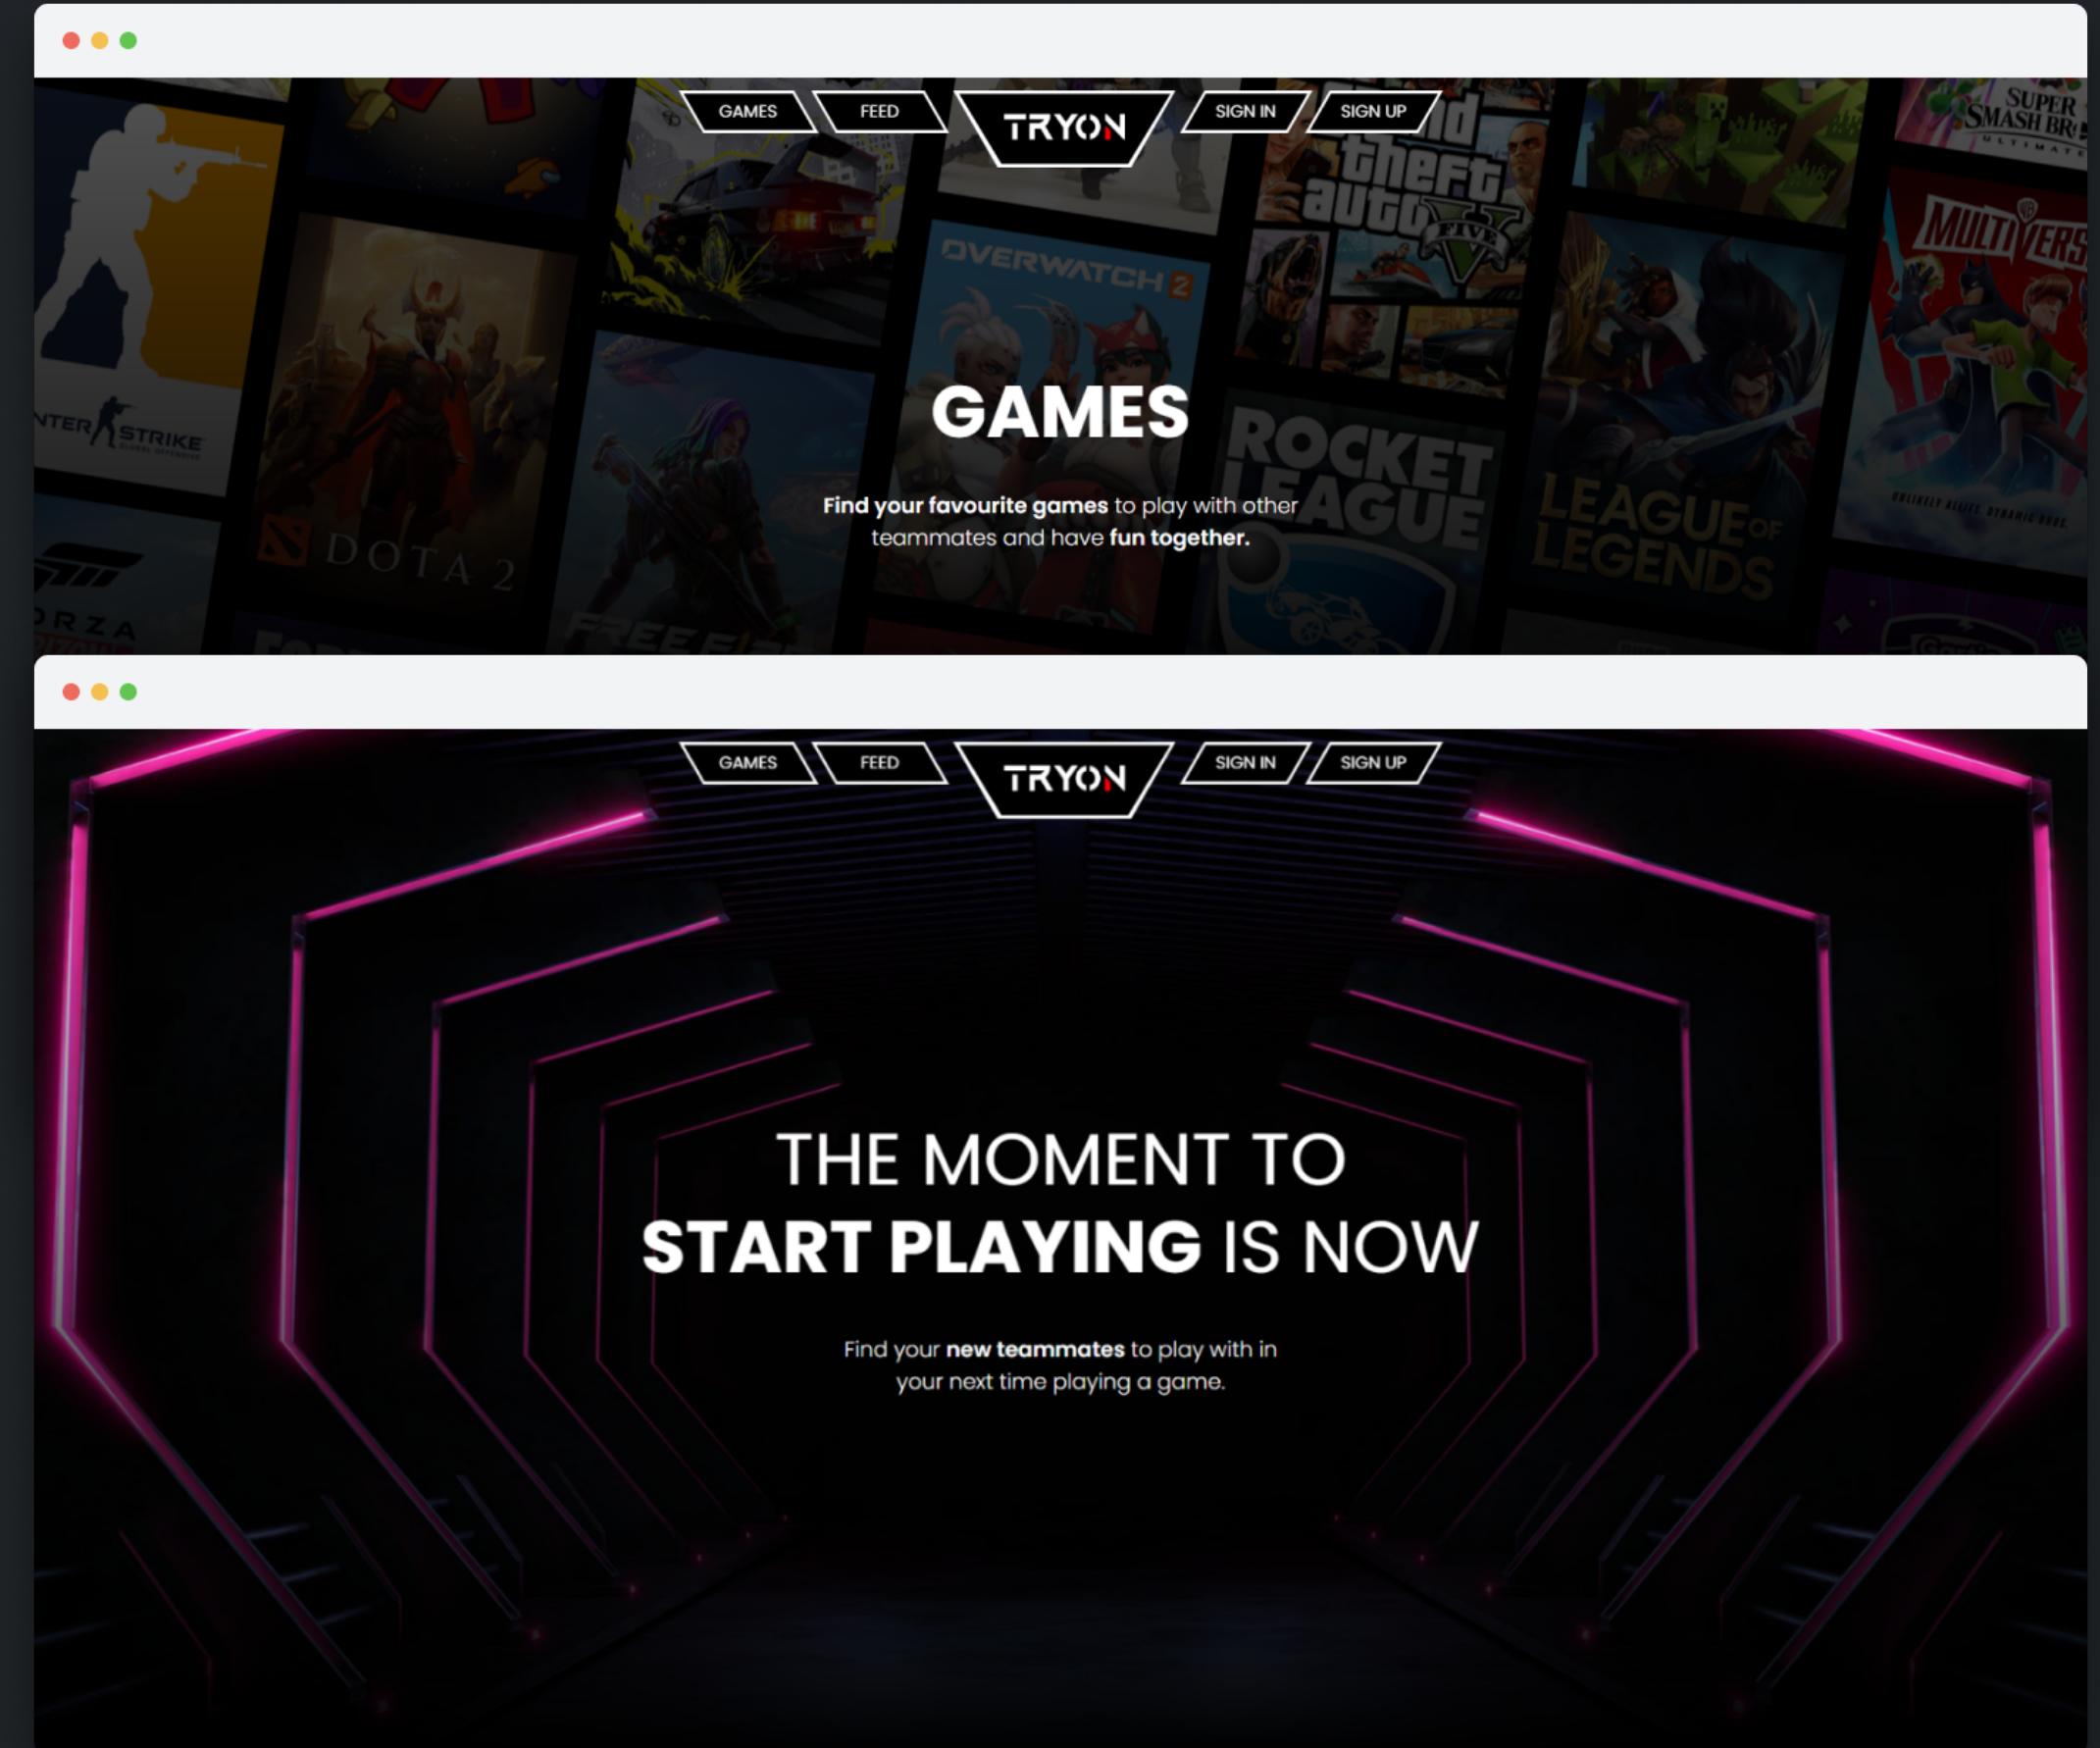

UX Design and Programing

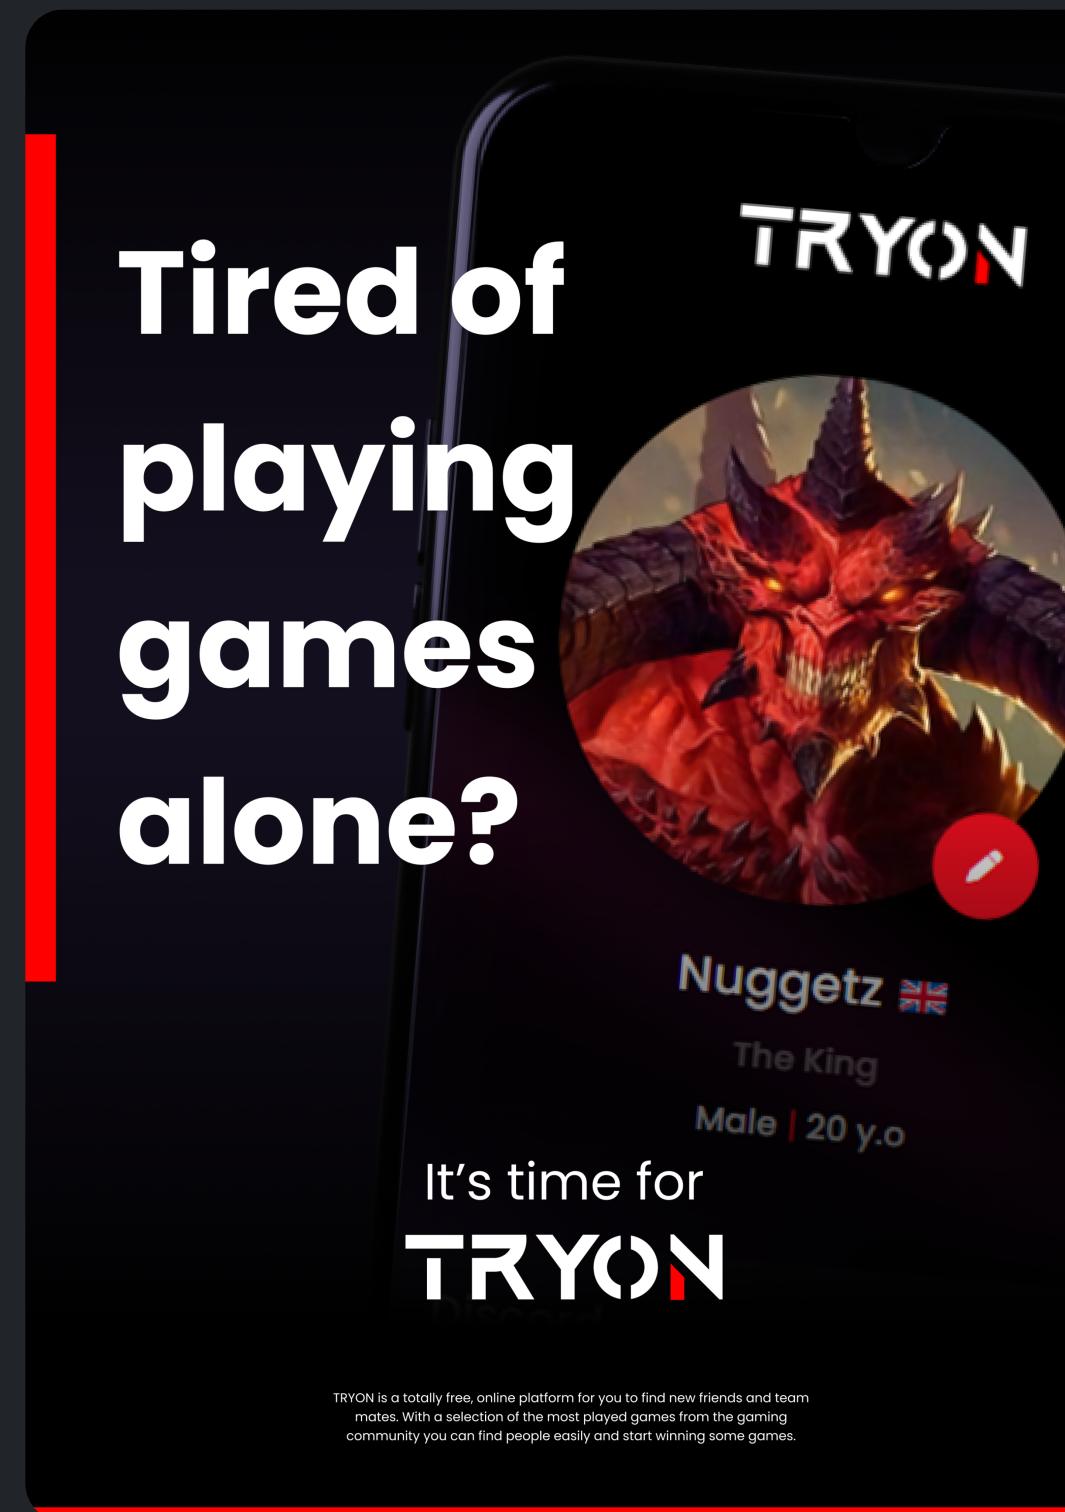

Technologies

React, Firebase, Bootstrap, Discord API

Link

<https://t.ly/Kxfi>

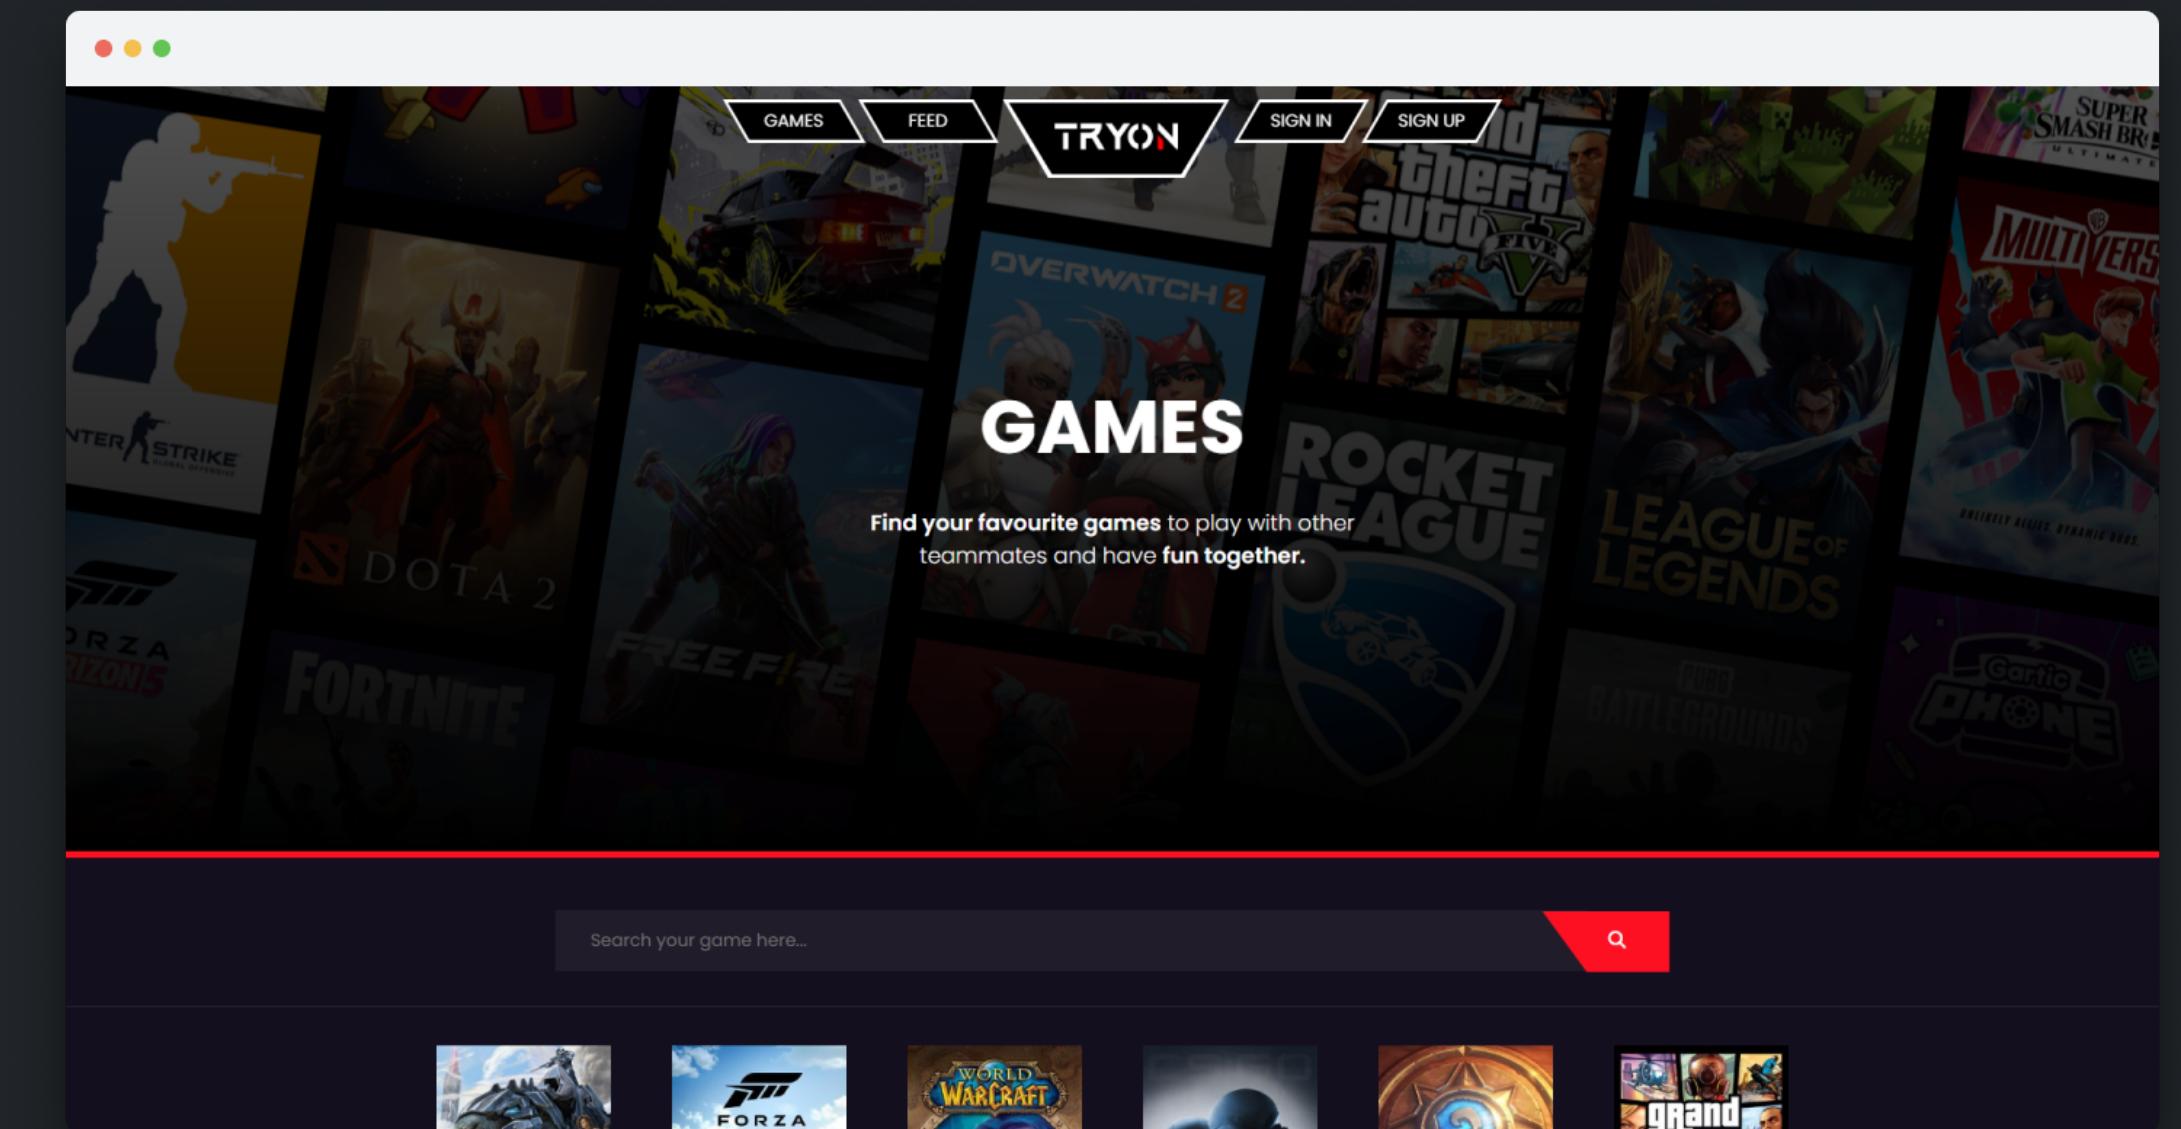

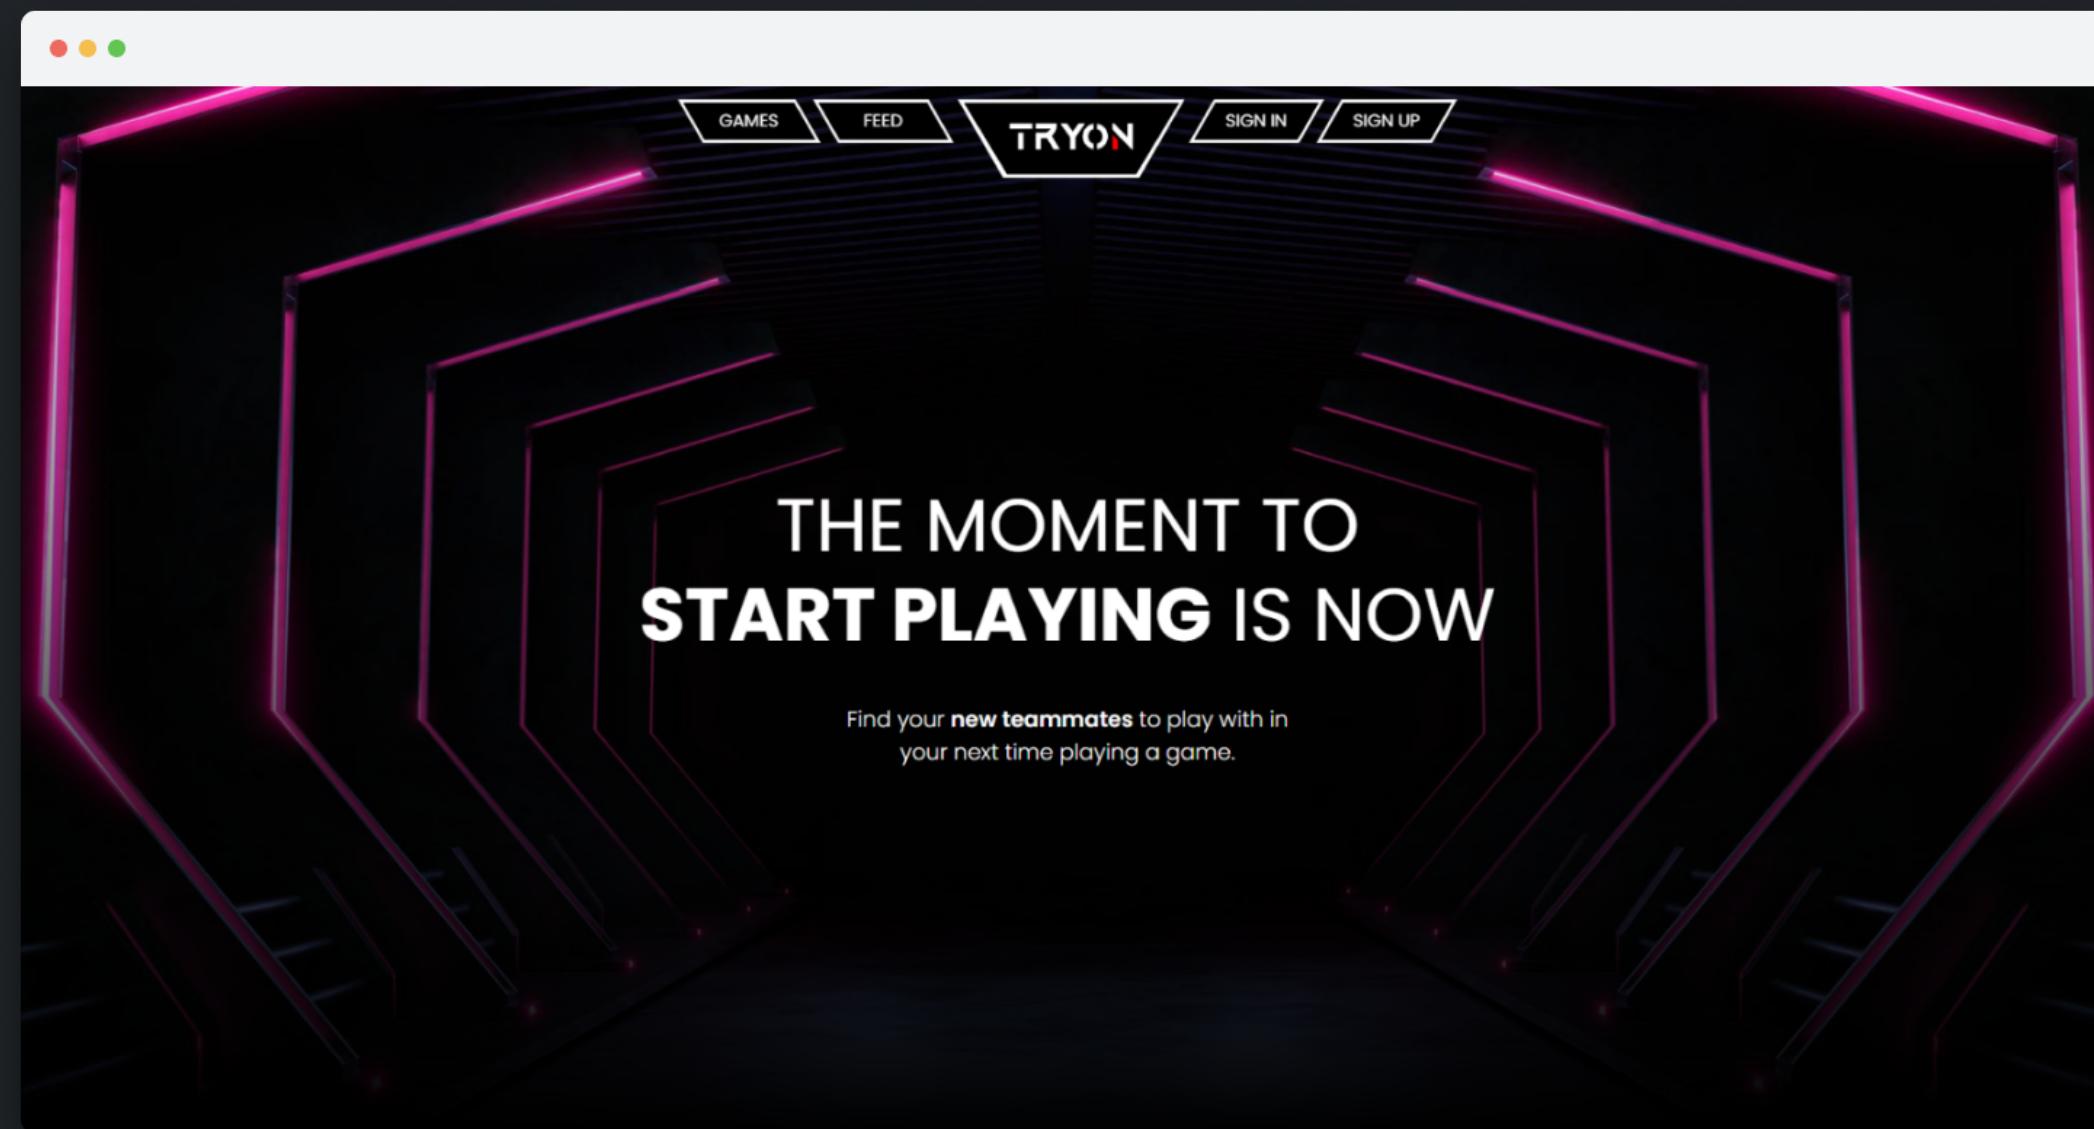

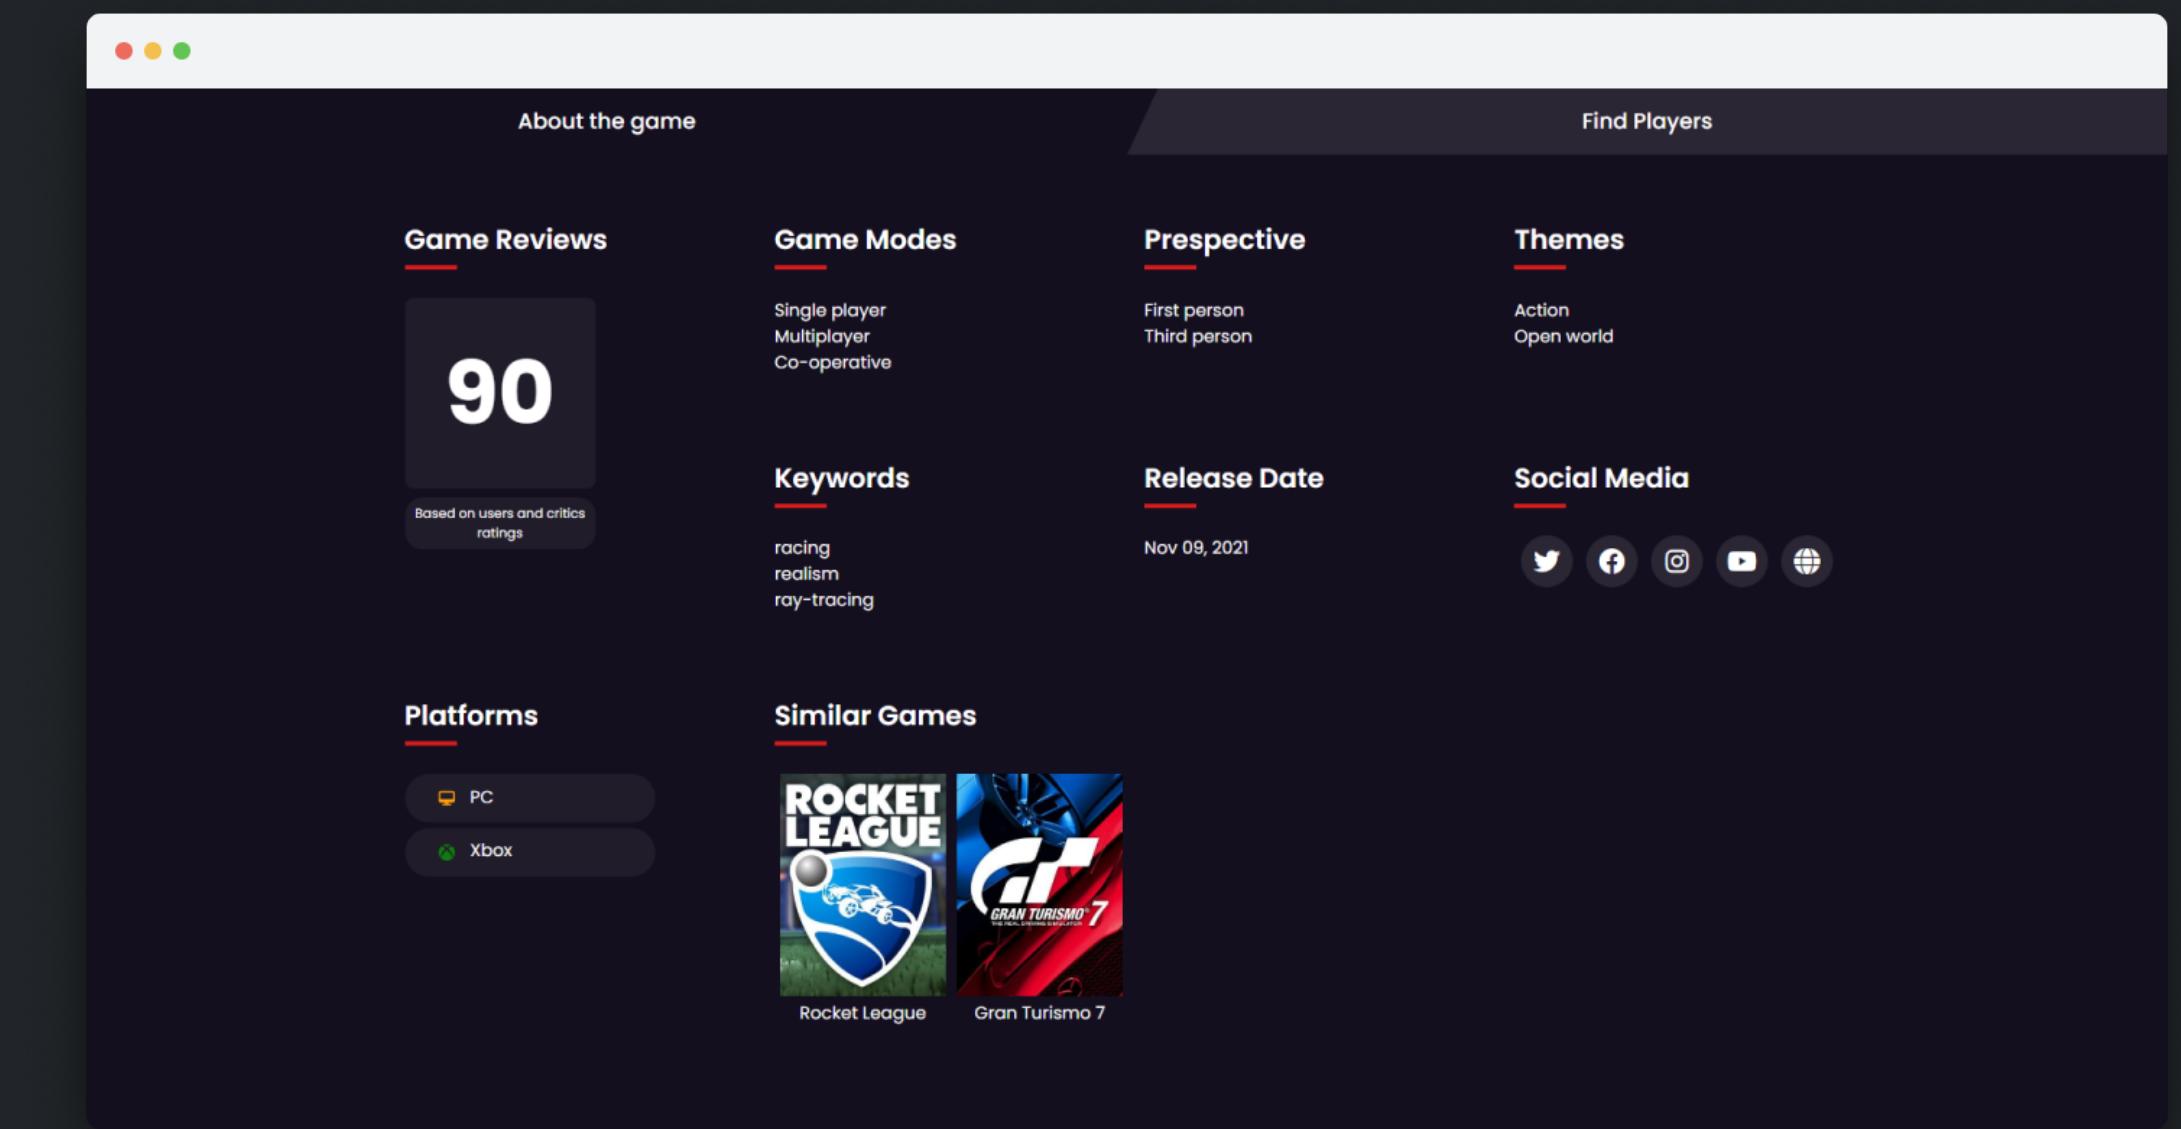

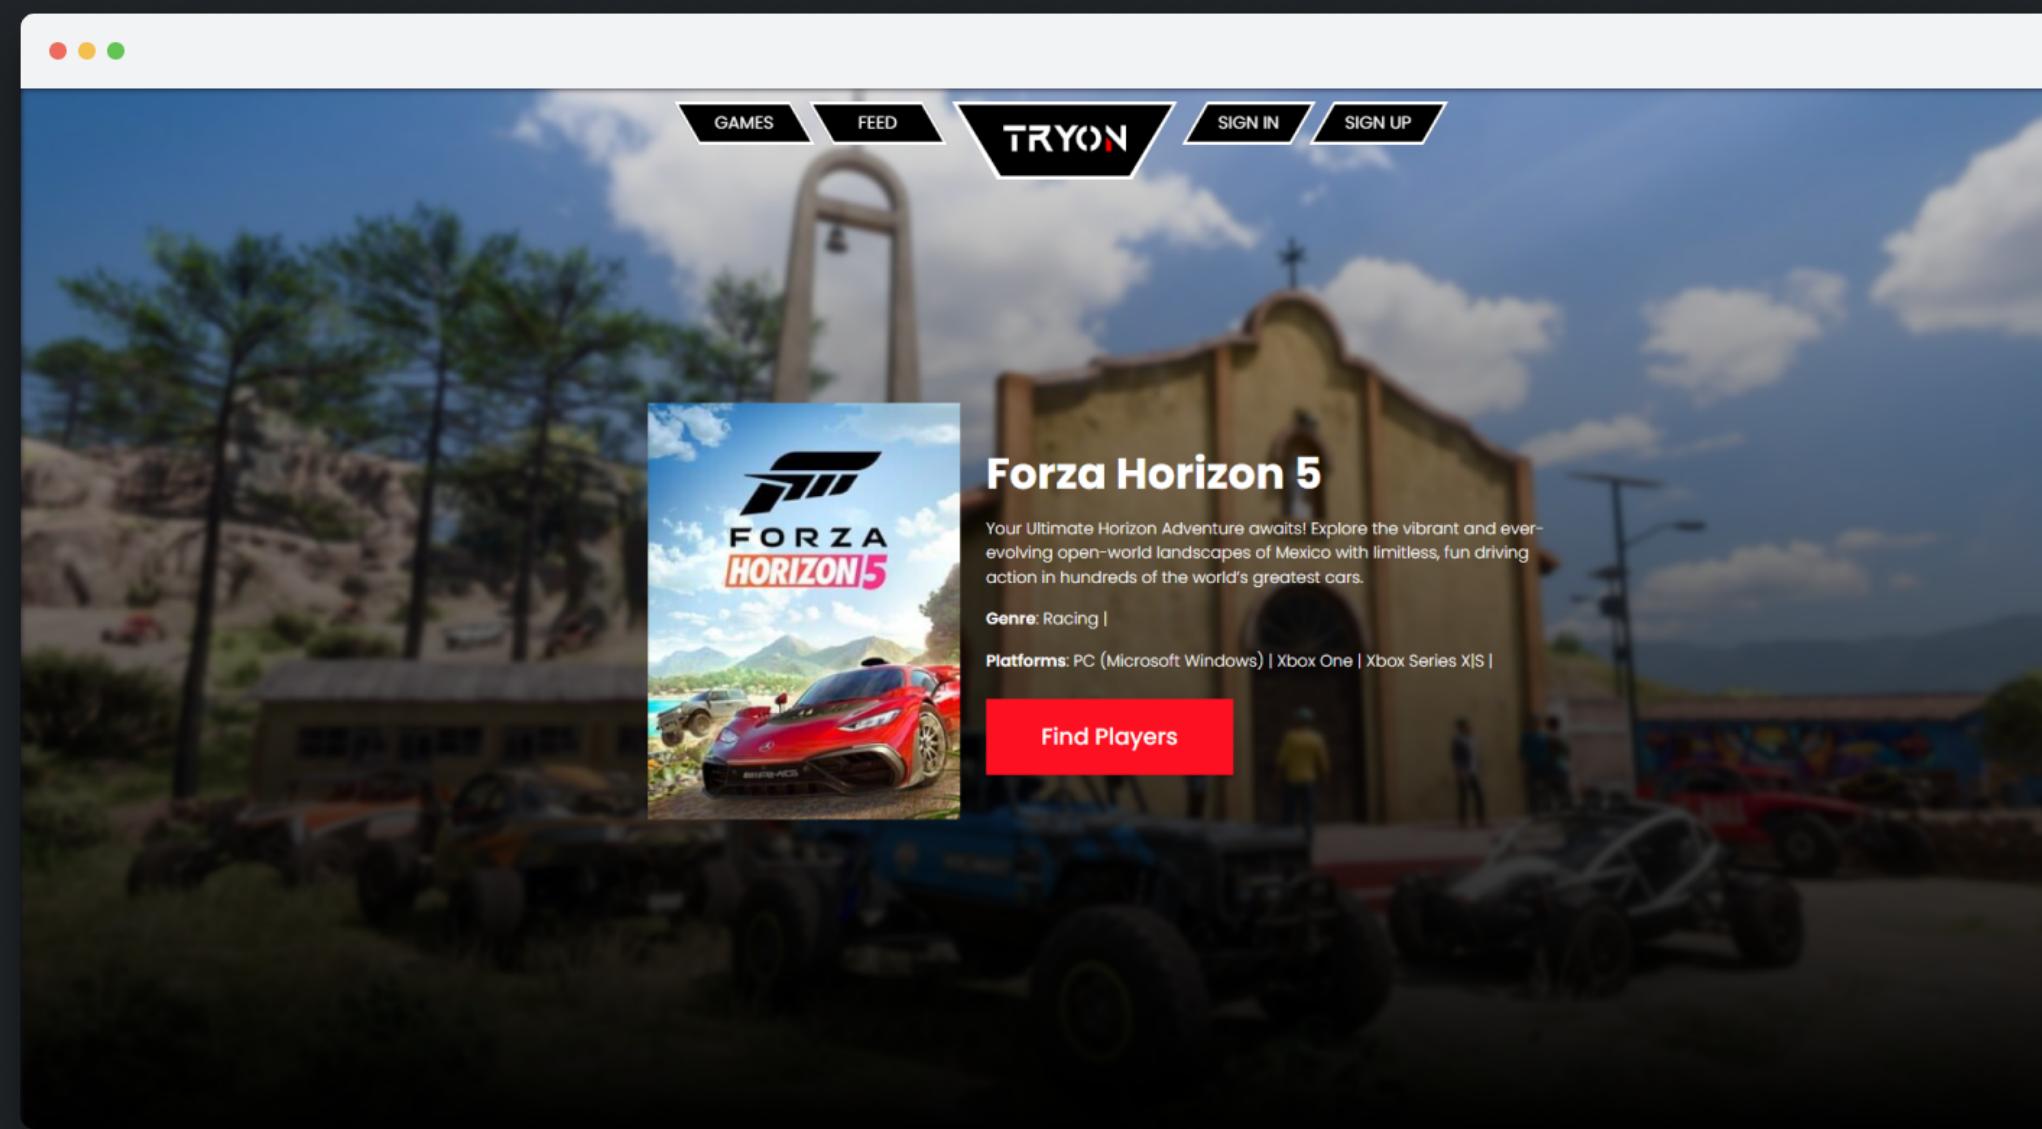

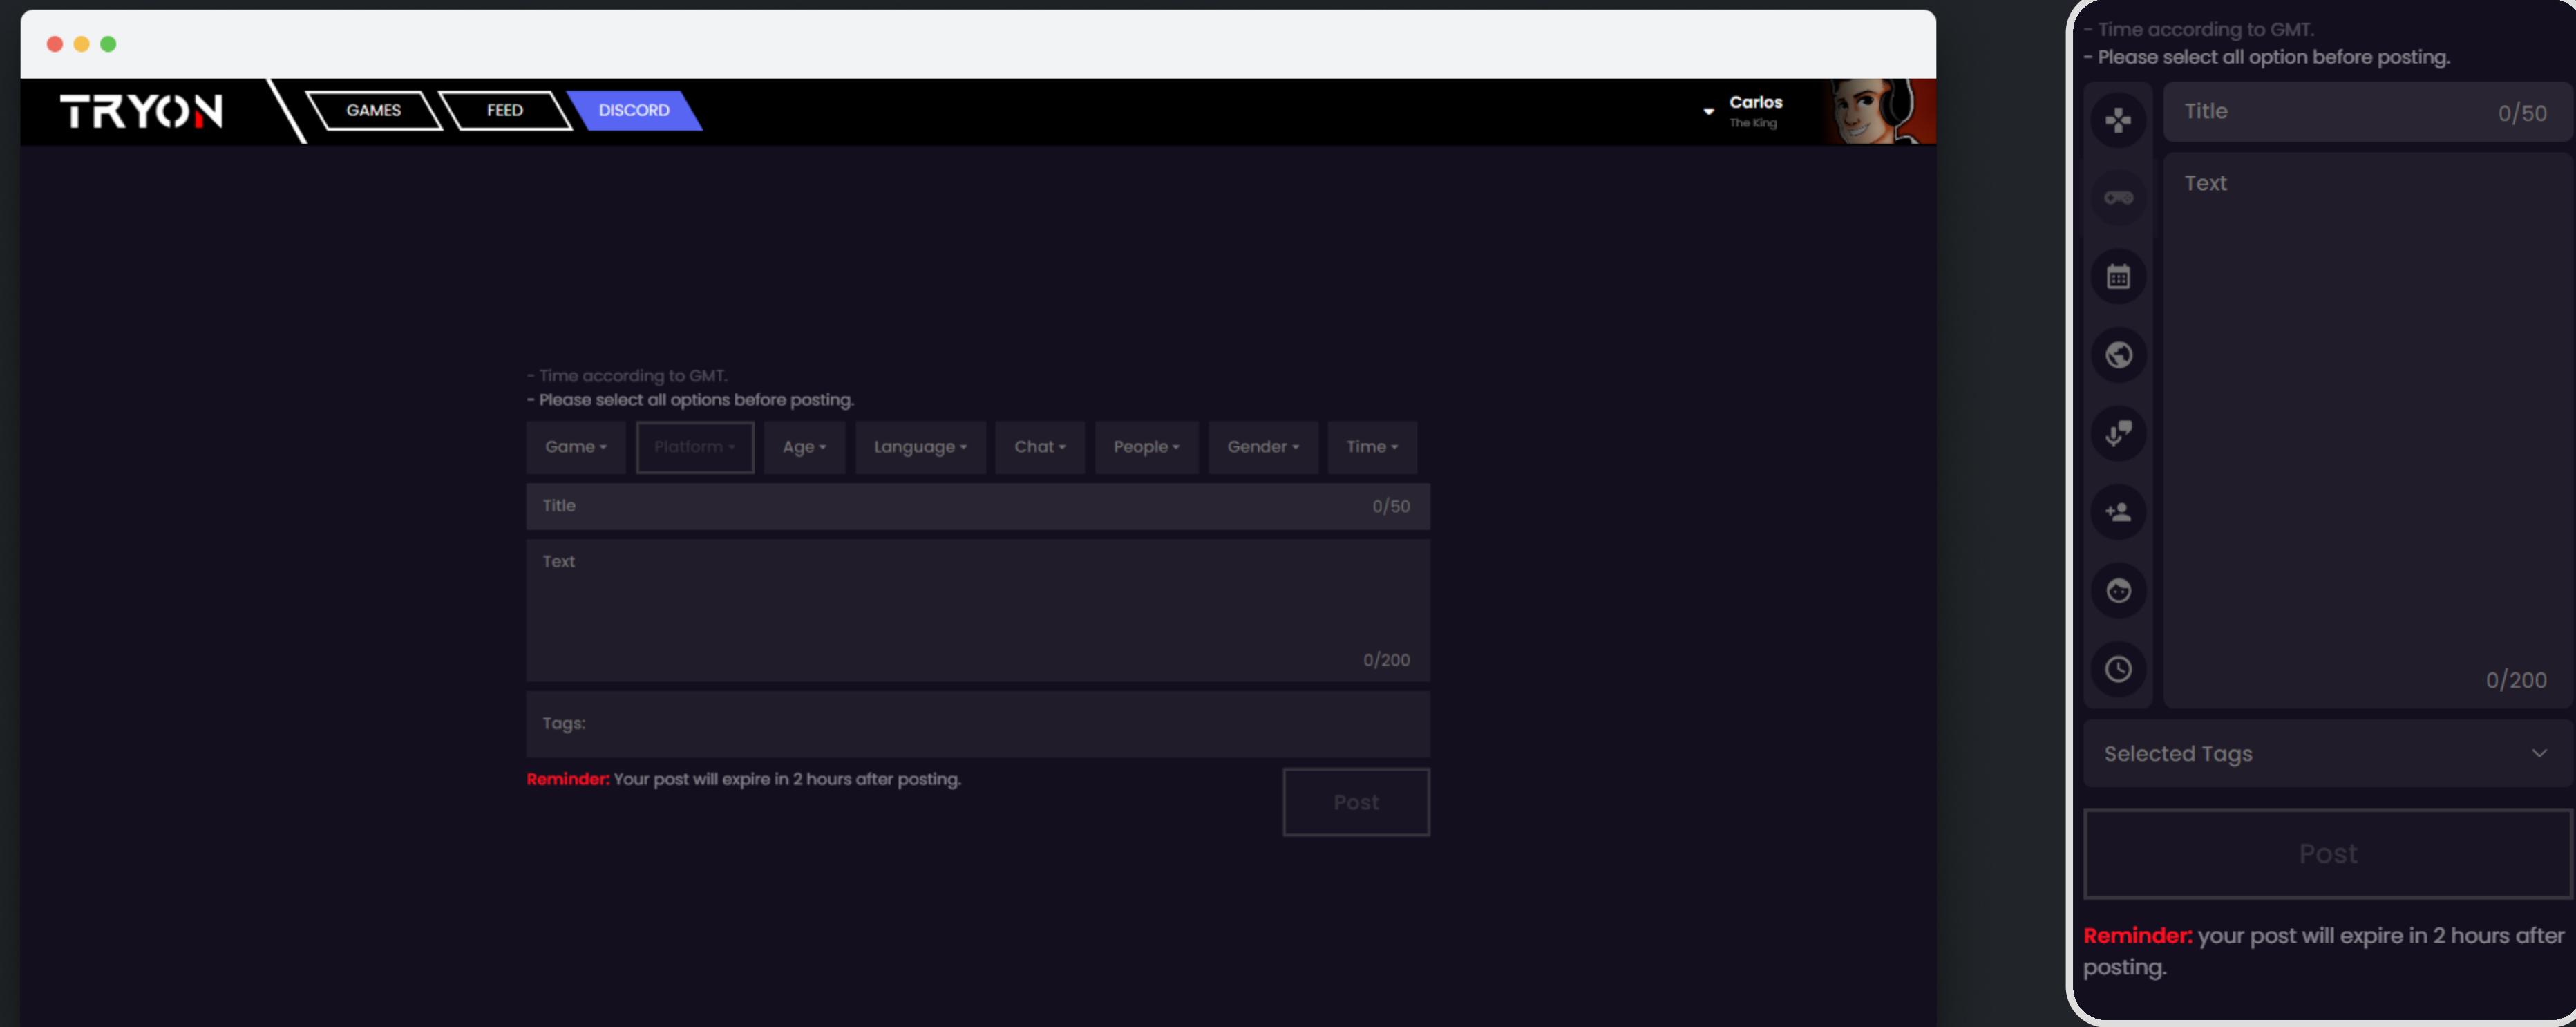

Gaming and community in one place

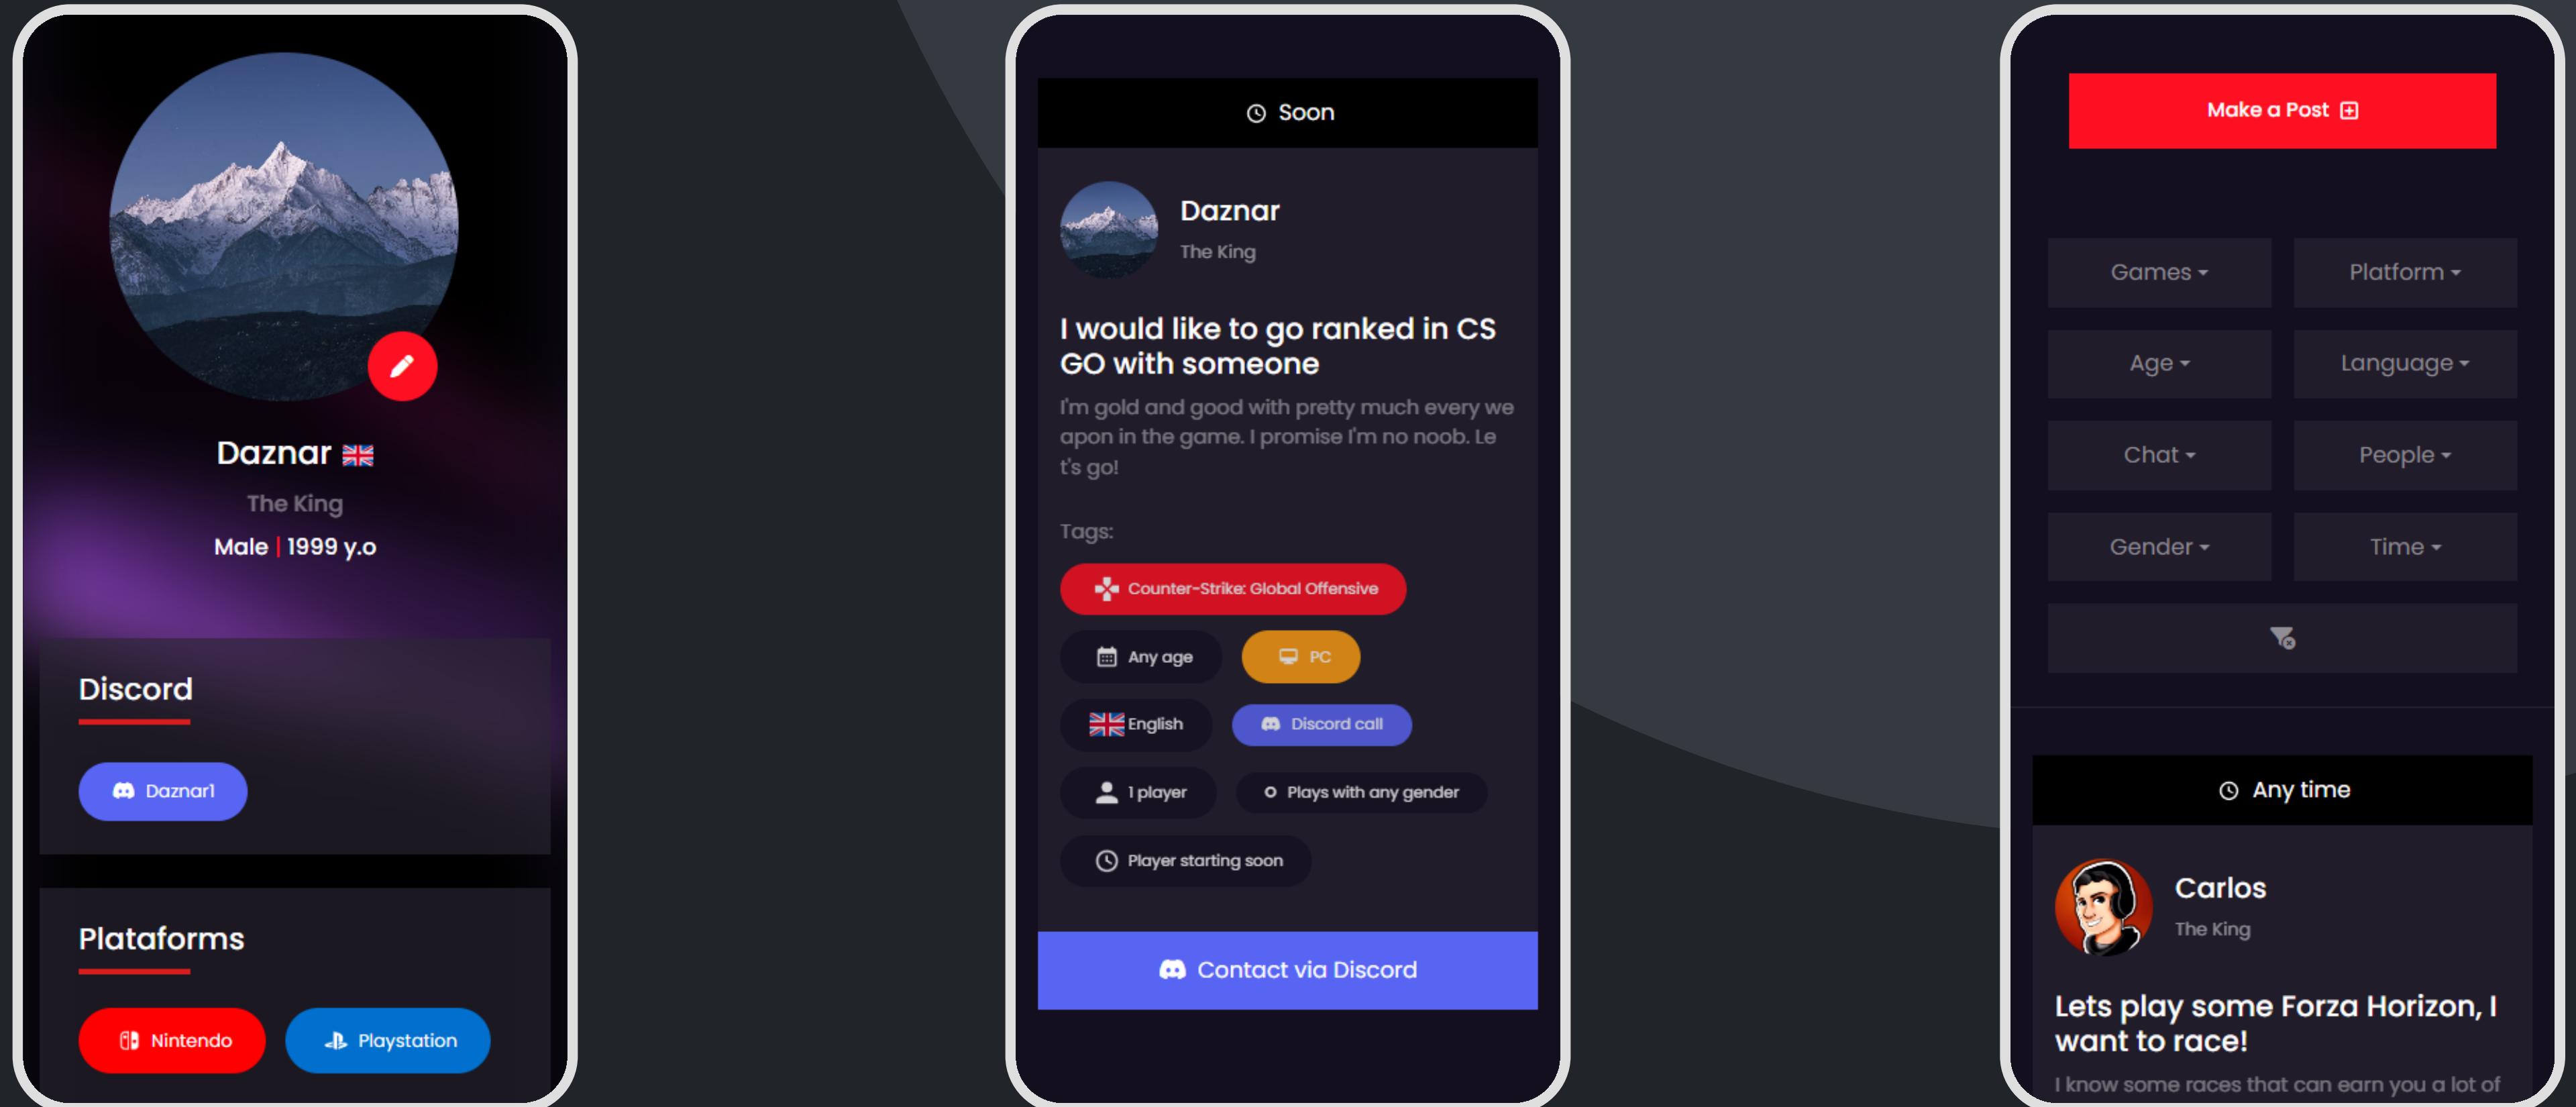

TRYON is a totally free, online platform for you to find new friends and team mates. With a selection of the most played games from the gaming community you can find people easily and start winning some games.

Sporting Clube de Aveiro

Description

This project consisted of creating a new communication plan for Academia de Vela SCA/AAUAV in partnership with the University of Aveiro and was, together with 3 other colleagues, my final degree project in Multimedia and Communication Technologies. The website, within this project, aimed to create a unique space to promote the mission and activities of Academia de Vela SCA/AAUAV, as well as to provide information and curiosities about the sport.

Year

2023

Category

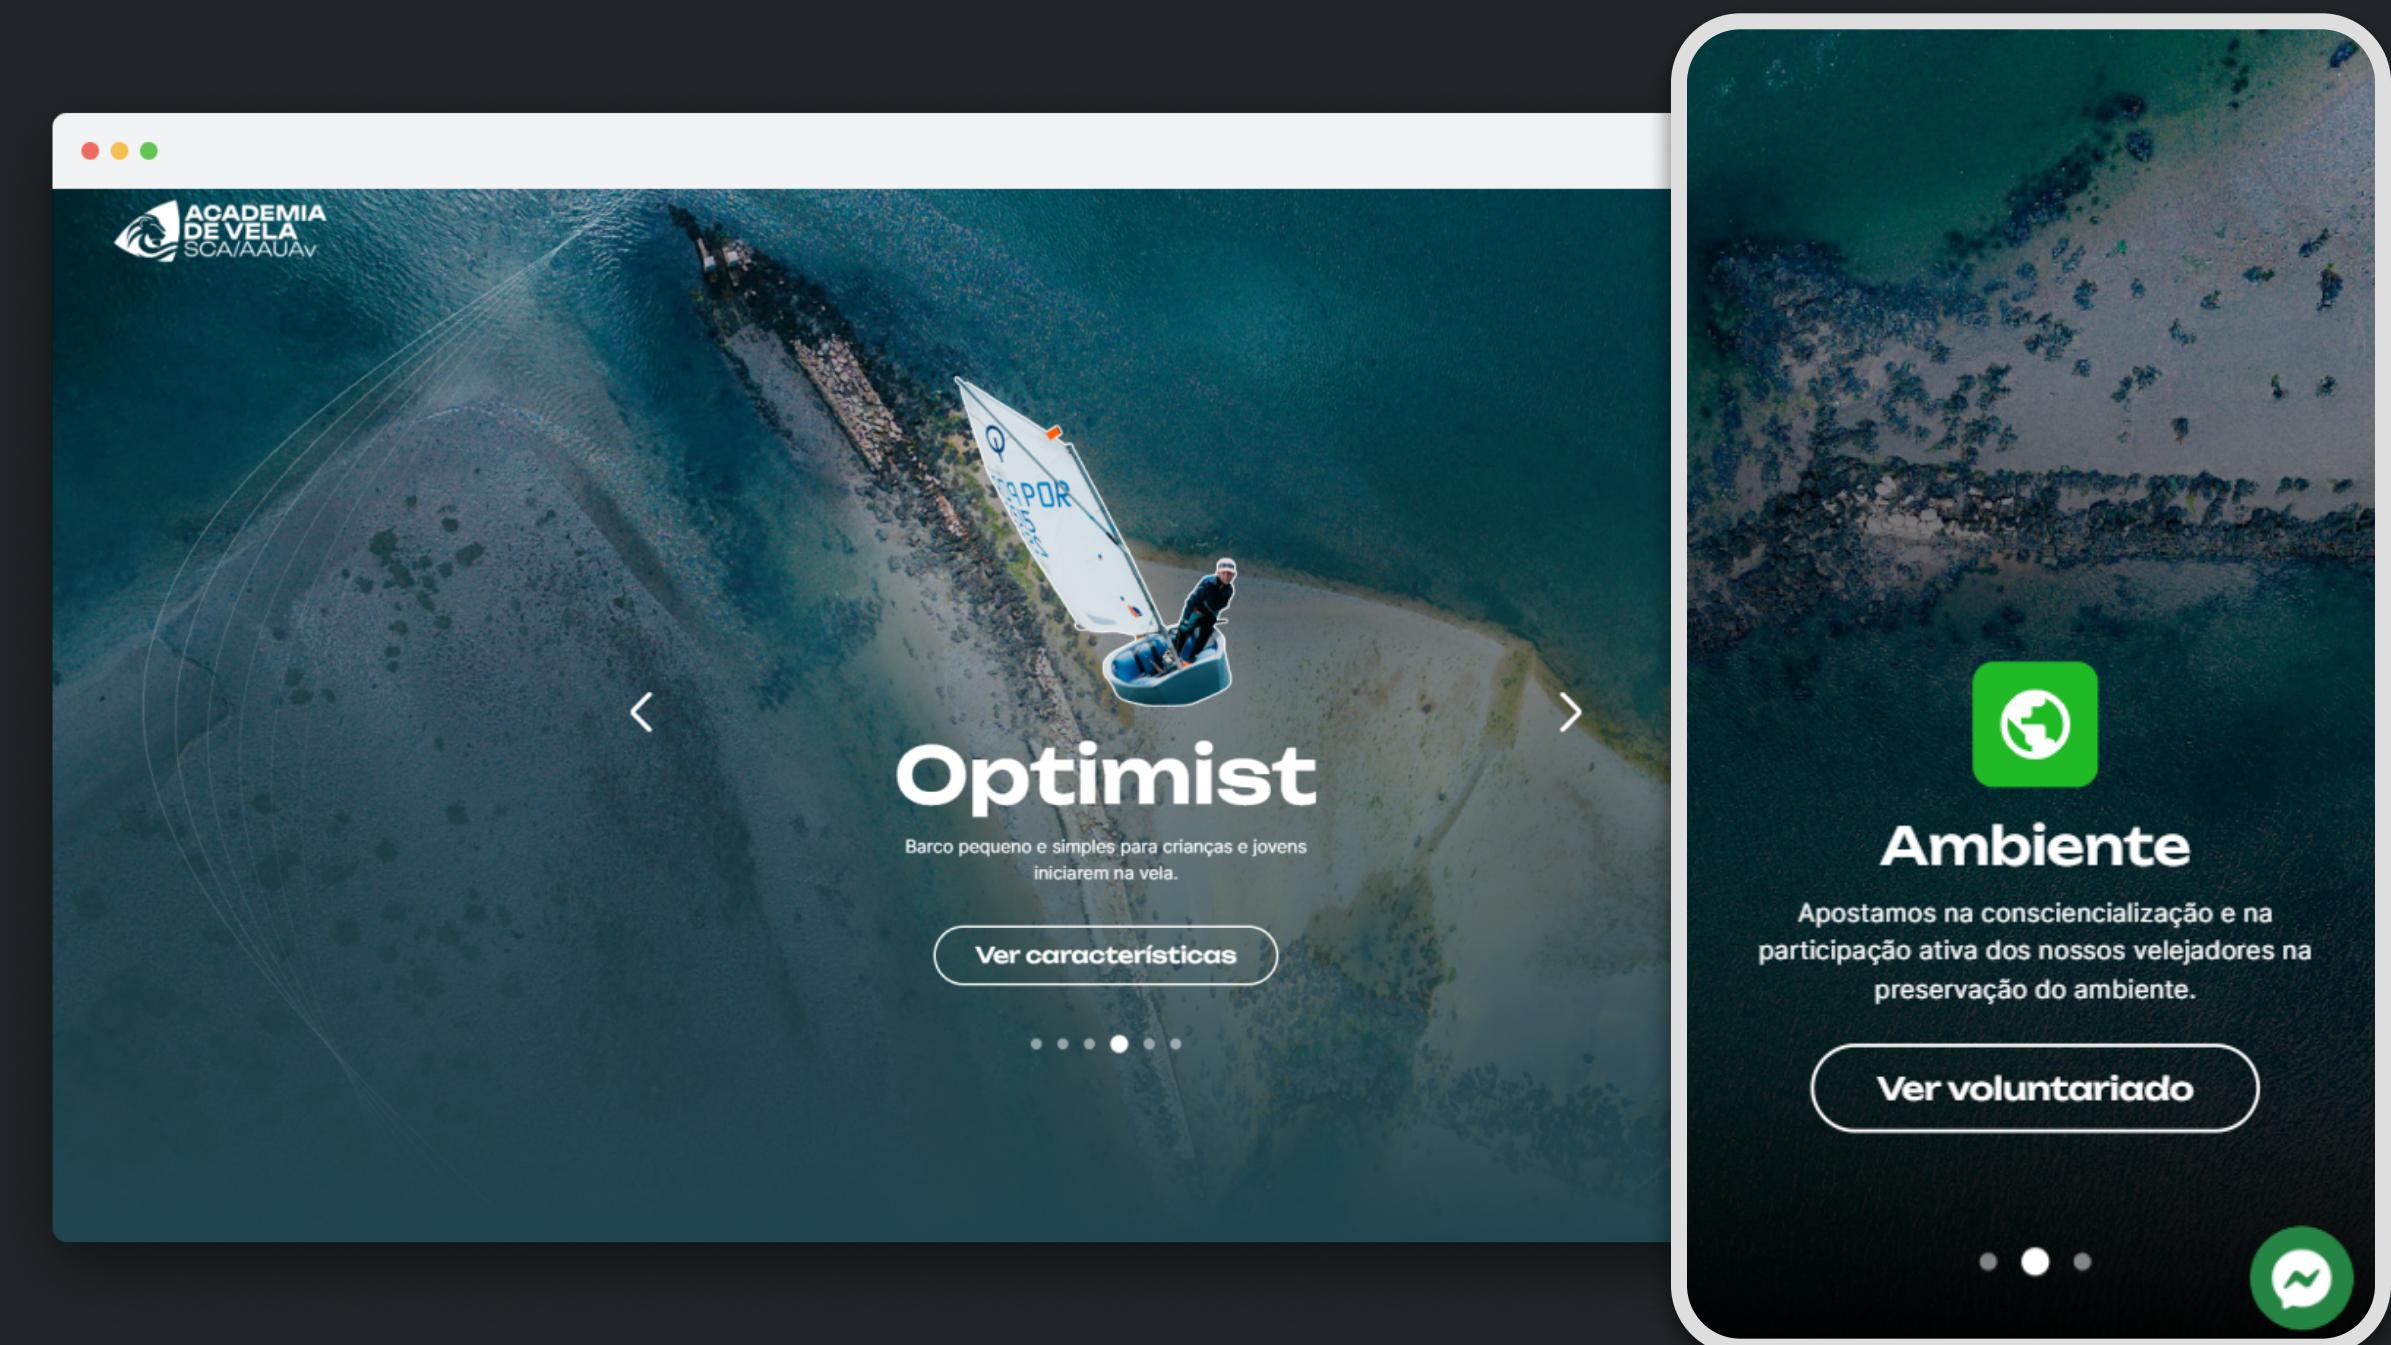

UX Design and Programming

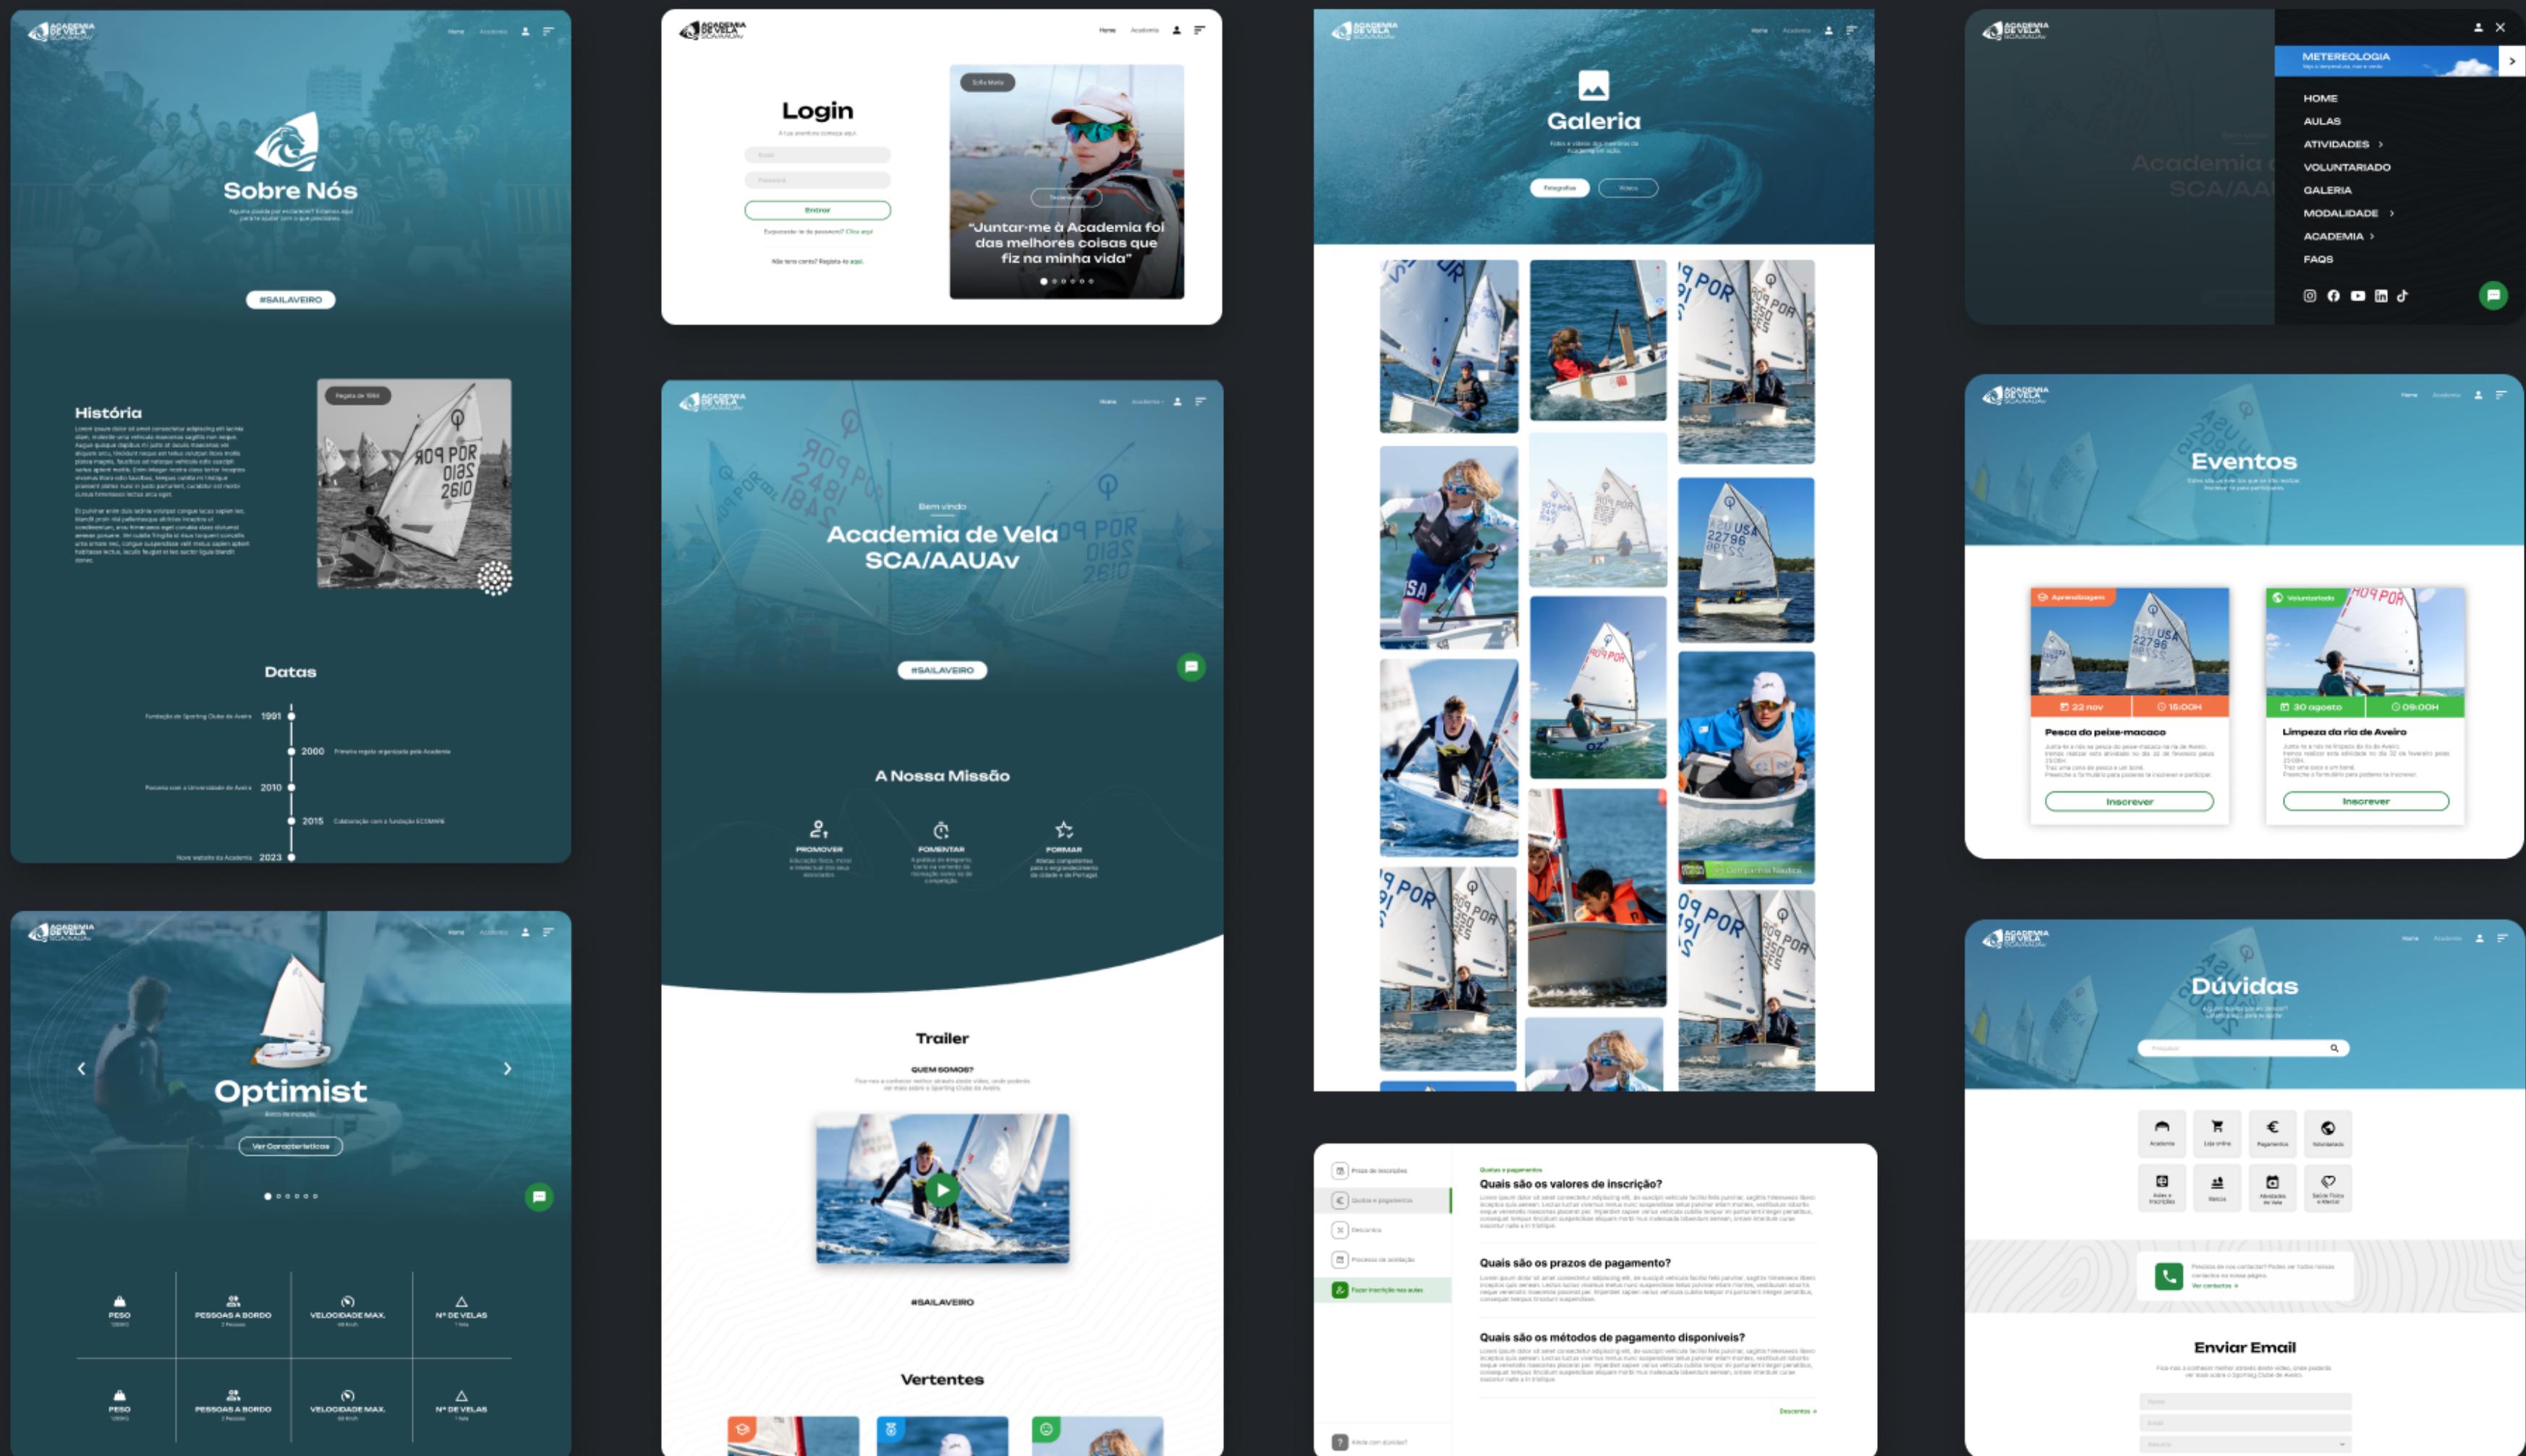

Technologies

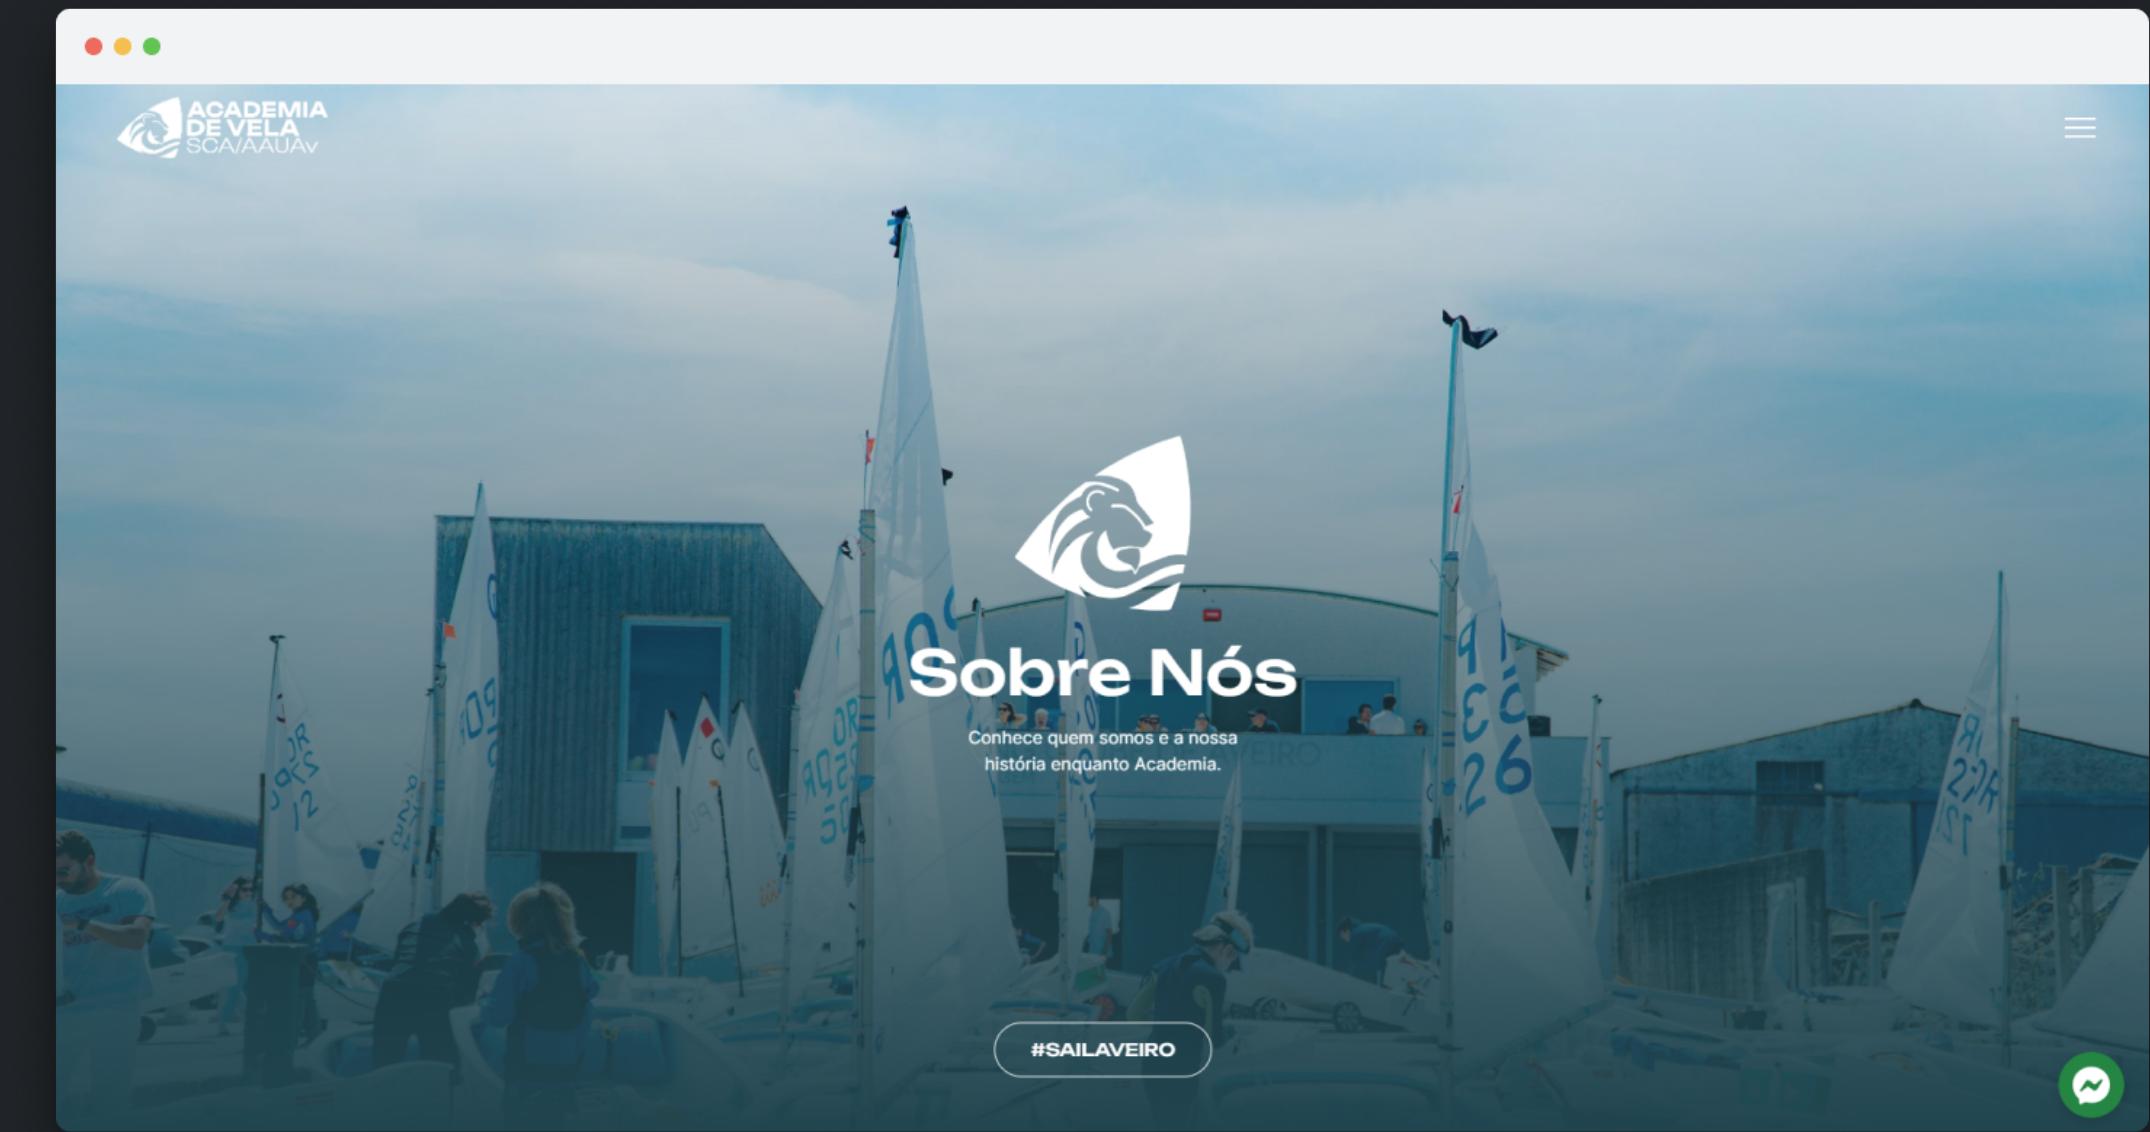

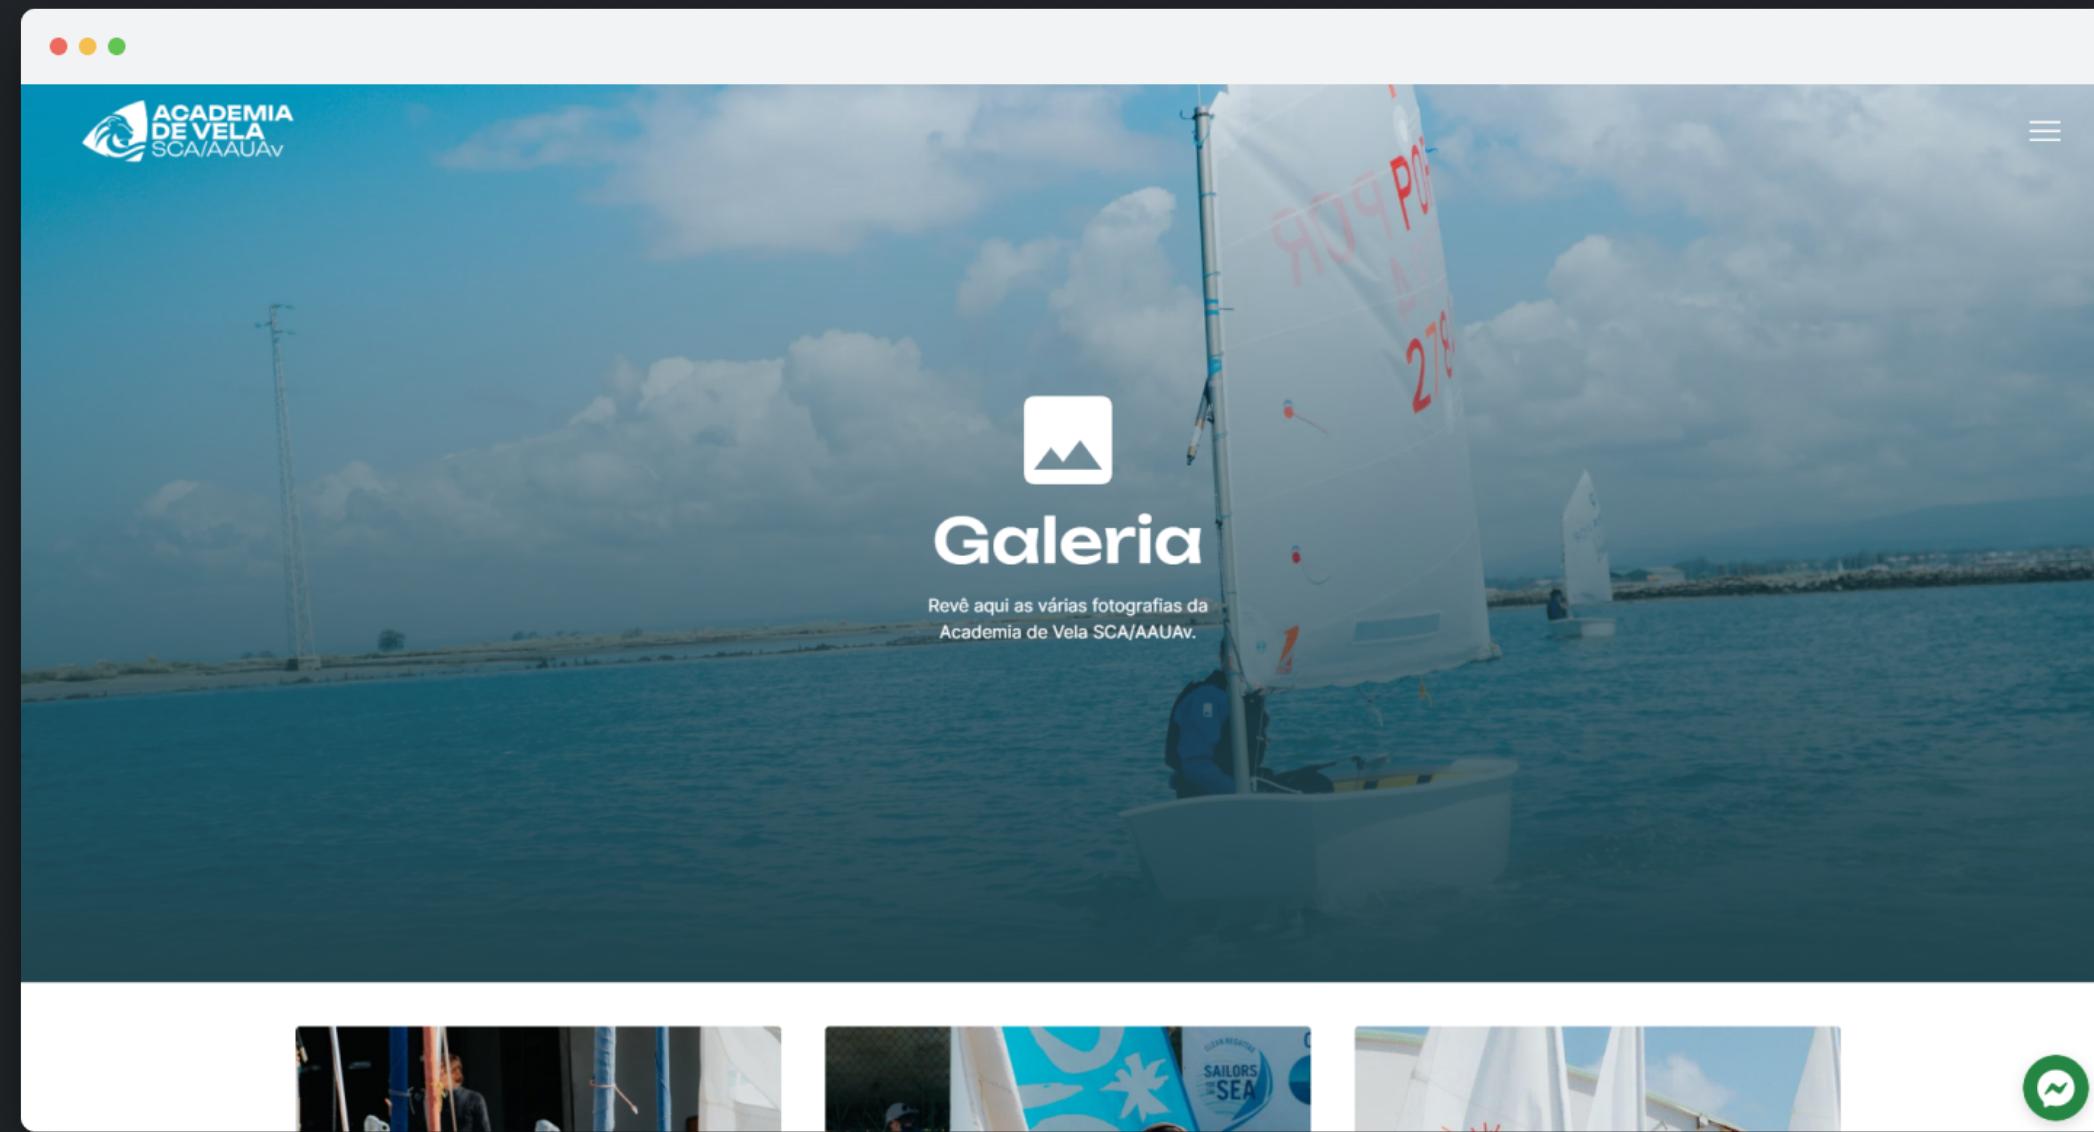

React, NodeJS, Express, MongoDB, Google API

Link

<https://t.ly/ooog2>

METEOROLOGIA
Vê a temperatura, vento e mais.

HOME ATIVIDADES >
GALERIA
MODALIDADE >
ACADEMIA >
DÚVIDAS
LOJA

Testemunhos

Lê aqui os diferentes testemunhos prestados sobre a Academia de Vela SCA/AAUAv.

Ana Fitas
Avaliação Google
5.0 ★

Regras de segurança ao pormenor. Instrutores de excelência. Parabéns!

António Loureiro
Avaliação Google
5.0 ★

Ótima escola para quem quer ter uma experiência de vela ou aulas de aprendizagem. Pessoal muito simpático e atenciosos. Possuem excelentes instalações com um bar quem quiser apenas apreciar as vistas e relaxar um pouco.

Luís
Avaliação Google
5.0 ★

Academia muito completa, com equipamento de última geração!

FAQ's

Alguma dúvida por esclarecer? Estamos aqui para te ajudar.

Quais são os prazos de entrega em uma loja online? +

Como funcionam as aulas da Academia? +

Como funcionam as aulas? +

Quais são os exames de rotina recomendados para cuidar da saúde? +

Onde posso encontrar produtos eletrônicos em uma loja online? +

Quais são os principais destinos para volejar no Brasil? +

Ver mais questões

T-shirt
29.99€

Características -

Tamanhos
XS S M L XL

Materiais
95% Algodão e 5% Elastano.

Fazer pedido

Contacts

Phone Number

+351 966961476

Email

vascopinto.ps@gmail.com

GitHub Account

<https://github.com/Daznar1>

return
The end.